Exhibits

The time for the Grygla Fall Festival is drawing near and we all are anxious to make this year's festival even bigger and better than last years. The exhibits were very good last year, but it is hoped that we can have even more of them this year. Housewives are reminded that when they are canning or preserving to put aside the nicest jar and bring it in to exhibit. The same goes for all kinds of handwork, embroidery, crocheting, knitting, art, and crafts of all kinds. We also hope that there will be several displays of baked goods such as cakes, pies, breads etc.

For the men will be the duty to bring in livestock exhibits, as well as grain. If you forget to save a swath of your wheat crops then place some of the threshed grain or seed into a glass jar for an exhibit. Garden produce is also wanted. There should be a good chance to get a ribbon on potatoes, corn, beets, carrots etc.

We must not forget the flowers. Those of you who have nice flowers be sure to cut some of your best for an exhibit.

We expect a number of 4-H exhibits of various kinds. The livestock an grain exhibits will be judged by county agents from Beltrami and Marshall counties while the culinary and fancy work exhibits will be judged by the Home Demonstration agents from both counties.

Those who plan to bring in exhibits are urged to co-operate with the committee in charge by bringing in their exhibits as early as possible. Canned goods and fancy work exhibits should be left at the school house on Friday, September 11, while garden produce and livestock should be entered early Saturday morning. Grain exhibits can be left at the creamery or at Gonneringrud house if brought in before Friady. The judging will take place approximately at noon on Saturday or earlier. Cash prizes will be given for livestock exhibits while ribbons will be awarded to winners in the other divisions.

N. W. Con[illegible]t Assn. Drive to En[illegible] Friday

The Northwest Concert association's annual membership campaign draws to a close Friday, when a final tally of funds available for the 1953-54 concert series and a count of members' choices of program will be made. These will be used in selecting the programs to follow the opening number, a concert by the Northwest Sinfonietta.

The campaign opened officially on September 4th, following a dinner in Trinity Lutheran Church which was attended by approximately one hundred volunteers who are actively working on the campaign. The workers were addressed by David Vaaler, president of the association, and by Harold Alford and Jacqueline Hanratty, representatives of the Concert, Theatre and Lecture Service of the University of Minnesota, which makes talent available to the Minnesota concert associations. Some of the artists who might appear here played and sang for the dinner guests by means of tape recordings.

All persons subscribing to the concert series are being given the opportunity of voting on the talent available. They are shown a pamphlet describing the attractions, and mark their first four choices on their application cards. This popular vote will insure the association's bringing to Thief River Falls programs which the audience is bound to enjoy.

Attractions from which the final choice will be made include two vocal ensembles, two vocal soloists, a pianist, instrumental ensembles, an opera company, and the University Touring Theatre. The vocal ensembles are Isbel and Loraine, a Fred Waring baritone soloist and Broadway soprano singing in duo, and the Chanticleers, four soloists from the world famous Robert Shaw Chorale who have combined as a male quartet.

Vocal soloists are Catherine Bunn, an attractive young woman whose voice has been compared with the rich soprano of Kirsten Flagstad, and Robert

Co. Homemakers Groups Arrange Winter Schedule

Home Agent Marge Olsen Reveals Varied Program of Lessons for Season

Pennington county homemakers groups have chosen a varied program for their lessons for the coming winter, according to Home Agent Marge Olsen.

Beginning the studies will be pressure sauce pan meals early in October. For homemakers who enjoy using the pressure saucepan, this lesson will help them get more use from the utensil.

The district family life conference is being held on October 29, in Thief River Falls. Other counties in the northwest district will send delegates. Mrs. Pearl Cummings, parent education specialist at the University of Minnesota, will be the main speaker.

In November the lesson will be on sewing machine attachments. Many women have attachments with their sewing machines which they never use. This lesson will show how to use them.

Reupholstering is the topic for February. All homemakers interested in upholstering will want to take advantage of this lesson, for this craft is thrifty and practical.

Then in March, foundation garments will be the subject discussed. An open meeting, with house plants the topic, will be held towards the end of March.

Achievment Day, is the time when the homemakers groups display their finished work, and get together for a program and discussion, will be in late April or early May.

Any women in the County who are interested in enrolling in the home program are urged to contact the home agent.

Enrollment in Local Schools Is up Slightly

Registration First Day Totals 1,912, Rise of 32 over First Day Last Fall

First-day enrollment Tuesday in the Thief River Falls public schools registered a slight increase from 1,880 on the first day in 1952 to 1,912 yesterday, Supt. W. G. Claffy reported.

For Lincoln junior-senior high school, enrollment Tuesday was 875, seven less than a year ago, due to the fact that 15 students who had already registered and paid their fees were absent the opening day, owing to delayed arrival home after attending the state fair and other reasons.

Lincoln high	892	882	875
Knox	451	430	431
Washington	213	209	204
Northrop	328	359	402
	1,884	1,880	1,912

Accounting in part for the gain of 43 in enrollment at Northrop school is the fact that nearly all first graders coming from the rural areas have been assigned to that school. Kindergarten enrollment this year totals 171. Sixteen students, the maximum number permitted, have enrolled in the teacher training course in Lincoln high school.

The new school year started out smoothly, will all members of the teaching staff on duty Tuesday, Claffy stated.

TRF Man Hurt in Crash That Took 2 Lives

Harold Jorstad Injured, 2 St. Cloud Men Killed in Sauk Rapids Mishap

Harold Jorstad, truck driver for Land O'Lakes Creameries in this city, this week was well on the road to recovery in a St. Cloud hospital from injuries suffered in a truck-car collision that claimed two lives last Friday on a detour on Highway 10 near Sauk Rapids.

Dead are Richard McDonald, 31, of St. Cloud, father of seven children and driver of the car, and Albert M. Clour, 28, also of St. Cloud, a passenger in the McDonald car. Clour was killed instantly, while McDonald died ten minutes after reaching a St. Cloud hospital.

The accident occurred at a point where the cut-off from Highway 10 joins a temporary detour thru Sauk Rapids during construction of a new four-lane highway.

Jorstad was negotiating a curve to the left with his semi-trailer truck when the McDonald car, which had just turned around after meeting a barricade, crashed into the truck. The impact broke the steering wheel of the truck, and Jorstad suffered a head concussion and severe bruises.

Stuart McLeod, manager of the local Land O'Lakes plant, visited Jorstad Sunday in the St. Cloud hospital, and reported following his return that the injured man's condition was very good.

Dr. G. W. Booren Has Served as Dentist in City for Fifty Years

DR. G. W. BOOREN

A distinction that comes to few citizens will be experienced next Tuesday September 15, by Dr. G. W. Booren when he will observe the fiftieth anniversary of his engaging in the practice of dentistry in Thief River Falls—and he is still going strong, with no present thought of retirement.

Born in Stillwater and graduated from the Chicago College of Dental Surgery in 1903, Dr. Booren arrived in this city September 15 of that year and opened his practice in a frame building at the corner of LaBree av. and Second st., where the R. J. Lund office is now located.

The structure burned down February 12, 1904, he recalls, and his office was moved to the First State bank building at Main av. and Second st., and later to the second floor of the Evenson block on the site of the present Penney store. In 1905 he moved to his present location in the Caldis building, then known as the Jackson-McGinn building, having maintained offices there for the past 48 years.

When he came here in 1903, Dr. Booren found this to be a lively sawmill town, with the Winton Lumber company at the height of its activity. Steamboats made frequent runs up Red Lake river from this city to Red Lake. Big events of 1904 were the opening of a portion of the Indian reservation to homesteaders and the coming of the Soo Line.

Those were the days, he recalls, when wild game was in ample supply, and prairie chickens were so plentiful and tame that they could be killed with sticks.

Dr. Booren, who can safely claim to be the oldest active business or professional man in the community in point of years of service, was married in 1907 to Miss Linda Robbecke, member of a pioneer St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls family.

Their five sons include Charles of this city, Drs. Douglas and

Mayor H. E. Simons Proclaims Americanism Week Sept. 13-19

Whereas: The week of September 13-19 has been set aside nationally as Americanism Week in observance of the 166th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States in Independence Hall on September 17, 1787, and

Whereas: The Woman's club of Thief River Falls has made special plans for the observance of this week, and has joined with all women's clubs throughout our nation, as a fitting tribute to this observance, to restore Independence Hall, to as near as possible, its original condition, and

Whereas: We, as Americans, with liberty our priceless heritage, are aware of the forces who would like to see this destroyed, may renew our determination to preserve this freedom by educational sources so every man, woman, and child may: better appreciate the struggles of our forefathers during the establishment of our democracy in a Republic, strengthen our religious foundation, and become more cognizant of the great benefits derived under our constitutional form of government.

Therefore: I, Harry E. Simons, mayor of the city of Thief River Falls, do urge our citizens to observe the anniversary of this great occasion in a fitting manner, and hereby proclaim the week of September 13-19, as Americanism Week in Thief River Falls.

HARRY E. SIMONS,
Mayor.

N. W. Concert Assn. Campaign Winds up Friday

McFerrin, baritone who won last year's Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air.

Instrumental numbers include David Bar-Illan, a brilliant young pianist who made his debut at the age of ten and now, in his early twenties, is much in demand on the concert stage. Also available are two ensembles, the Gotham Players, which combines piano, violin, cello and clarinet, and the Ancient Music Ensemble. The latter is composed of faculty and students from the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota who present the music of the middle ages and renaissance on the instruments used during those earlier centuries. They are assisted in their presentations by Allan Downes, baritone, who sings some of the songs of the minstrels and troubadours.

The opera company is a professional group from New York City. They will sing either "La Boheme" or "The Chocolate Soldier" in English. Both productions are fully staged, with costumes, lights and settings.

Plays which the University Theatre group might present are "Our Town" or "Cinderella Cottage." The former is a Pulitzer Prize winning play by Thornton Wilder and is considered an American classic. "Cinderella Cottage" was written this year by St. Paul playwright William Davidson. It is a comedy about a family as zany as that which won audiences' hearts in "You Can't Take It With You."

Everyone who wishes to attend this year's concert series must apply for membership before the close of the campaign, Friday, September 11th. Memberships can be obtained at the Northwest Concert Association's headquarters in the Civic and Commerce office, or by phoning 471. No memberships will be available after Friday, and there will be no single admissions sold for the programs.

Principal speaker at the luncheon was Sam Hardy, veteran special agent with the FBI, who was in this city to conduct a police school. Introduced by Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, Hardy said that schools such as the one here are designed to keep law enforcement officers one step ahead of the criminal element. He also gave an interesting account of the manner in which the FBI solved the Ross kidnapping and murder case some years ago.

International Trap Shoot Opens Sept. 12

With the Minnesota upland game bird season scheduled to open on the succeeding Saturday, it is expected that a large number of hunters and shotgun enthusiasts will avail themselves of the opportunity of warming up their "shooting irons" by participating in the first annual International Trap Shoot that will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 12th and 13th.

The Thief River Falls Gun and Trap club will conduct the shoot at the trap shooting grounds north of town. The program for Sautrday will open at 12:00 p.m.; while the Sunday events will begin at 9:00 a.m.

The following events have been scheduled: Event number one—100 birds, 16-yard range, $50.00 added money, entry fee, $5.00; event number two — 50 birds, 16-yard range, Lewis system of handicap, $50.00 added money, entry fee, $3.00; event number three — handicap, 50 birds, 16 to 25 yard range, $60.00 added money, entry fee, $4.00; event number four—doubles, 50 birds, $40.00 added money, entry fee, $3.00.

In addition to the above named events, there will be merchandise shoots, with an entry fee of $1.00, 25 birds, Lewis system. There will be chicken shoots at all times when the traps are not in use for the scheduled events, and the shooters may make up their own squads.

The tournament committee stated that the system of handicapping will be in vogue in a number of the events. By this method, the high gun is designated as the Class A winner. The shooters scores are posted on a roster, and the participant that finishes one-third from the top is named as the Class B winner, and the shooter that scores two-thirds from the top is the Class C winner.

On Saturday evening, at 6:30 p. m., a Sportsmen's banquet will be held at the Eagles hall. Roger Dell, chief justice of the Minnesota supreme court and one of the state's top-ranking trap shots, will be the featured speaker. Ed Shave, famed outdoor columnist of the Minneapolis Tribune and the originator of the state's pheasant dinner for veterans, will also be in attendance, as will Frank Blair, director of the division of game and fish.

"Swede" Lund Leads Thieves in Batting

A final compilation of the Thieves' batting records reveals that Derwood "Swede" Lund, the local club's catcher, gained the hitting average honors with a mark of .372. Lund, a southpaw swinger, poled out 29 base hits in 78 tries, getting four doubles, a treble, and a homerun in his hit collection. Joey Poole, the Thieves' nimble second baseman, and who is also a left-handed batter, was runner-up to Lund, belting out 22 hits in 67 attempts. Poole nailed down the team's runs-batted-in title, driving seventeen scores across the plate.

The Thieves' long-distance batting honors went to pitcher—third baseman Gene Leslie. Leslie, with 17 hits in 79 trips to the plate, had an average of .215, but included in those seventeen safeties were three doubles, a triple, and three homeruns, proving to be the team's right-handed "power" hitter.

Sid Vraa, the locals' rangy shortstop, drawing sixteen bases on balls, was the Thieves' most selective batter. Lund and Vraa shared the strikeout title, with thirteen whiffs each.

Prowler Football Team Meets Warren

The high school Prowlers will open their eight-game football schedule on Friday night when they meet the Warren Ponies at Warren, with game-time slated for 8:00 p. m.

Coach Ralph Skjod and his assistants, Edlund, Lund, and Mrkonich, have busily engaged in sending the 1953 squad through two-a-day practice sessions.

Coach Skjod announced that, barring injuries, the following lineup would represent the Prowlers on Friday night's kick-off: ends, Art Johnson and Darrold Dalton; tackles, Mike McMahon and Lorenz Anton; guards, Mark Bjorkman and Pete Froehle; center, Neil Aase; quarterback, Sid Vraa; halfbacks, Lyle Guttu and Bob Helgeland; and fullback, Dick Sambo Kruse.

Of this group, Bjorkman, Aase, Guttu, and Kruse were in the starting lineup in last year's opener against Warren, which was won by the Prowlers, 34 to 7. Vraa, Helgeland, Anton, Reese, and Froehle, though, saw quite a bit of action against the Ponies last year.

Following the Warren game on Friday night, the Prowlers will meet coach Darrold King's Red Lake Falls Eagles, undefeated last season, here on Sept. 18th.

Trying for Number Eighteen

Not since Mally Anderson made a shambles of the Prowler defense by running for three touchdowns to lead the Ponies to a 20 to 0 triumph in a game played on the Fair Grounds field in 1924, have the Warren Ponies defeated the locals in football. Starting in the fall of 1925 and continuing through 1952, the Prowlers and the Ponies have engaged in seventeen football games, with the locals being the winners of all seventeen. From 1927 through 1942, the Ponies vs. Prowlers game was an annual affair, but then there was a lapse of nine years, until 1951, before the series was resumed.

Incidentally, Mally Anderson has a solidly-built youngster playing with this year's Warren aggregation.

The hopes of the 1953 Prowlers in running their victory streak over the Ponies to eighteen will rest with the forward line. Coach Skjod's starting backfield, with Sid Vraa at quarter, Lyle Guttu at left half, Bob Helgeland at right half, and Sambo Kruse at fullback, will provide the Prowlers with ample running power and a varied aerial attack. But the effectiveness of the Prowler backfield will depend, to a considerable extent, on the ability of the forwards to cover the blocking assignments.

While the football prospects for the Prowlers as they open their 1953 campaign appear fair to bright, the threat of injuries, especially to the backfield, has a dampening effect. Last season the locals lost the services of Lyle Guttu when the hard-running back injured an ankle in the third game of the schedule, and was lost for the balance of season. Lyle's absence from the lineup was a definite handicap to the Prowler attack.

Ada the Regional Champs

Tony Sipe's Ada Athletics, on Dick Nielson's single in the 11th inning, scoring Sammy Samuelson from second base with the run that broke a 1-all deadlock, defeated the Crookston Pirates to win the regional Class B title and earn a berth in the state tournament starting at New Ulm next week.

Ada defeated Grygla, 18 to 1, in a first round game on Thursday night, trounced Crookston, 9 to 2, on Saturday night, and then edged out the Pirates 2 to 1, on Monday afternoon. Crookston, the representative of the Red River Valley league, defeated St. Hilaire, 9 to 0, in a first round game on Friday night, and, after losing to Ada on Saturday night, eliminated the Saints by winning a 14 to 8 decision on Sunday night.

We made several trips down to witness the games, and in our opinion the tournament's best player was Crookston's Glen Gumlia. Glen, who is a former Crosby-Ironton and Hamline athlete, is a power at the plate, and his nimbleness around the first base bag is responsible for the numerous putouts. Against Ada on Monday afternoon, Glen clubbed the righthanded slants of the Athletics' Harvey McMullen for two doubles in two trips to the plate.

It is pretty well agreed that the tournament's two best competitors were Gumlia and St. Hilaire's Woody Almquist. Gumlia, who is pushing the 33-year old mark, is a fine team man, always trying for that extra base, and always playing 100 percent baseball. If Gumlia puts out 100 percent effort for the Pirates, then we'll state that Woody Almquist puts 110 percent for the St. Hilaire Saints. In all the years that we have watched Woody play, both as a member of the Saints and as a member of the Thieves, we've never seen him "loaf" on a hit or a play. Woody plays a hard brand of baseball, never asking for quarter, nor giving any.

Miscellany

Vic Jung, the local club's perennial champion, participated in Crookston's 26th annual Red River Valley tournament on Sunday and Monday, and gained the finals in the championship flight, losing to Mayo Beake of Minneapolis, 4 to 3. Vic was the tournament medalist. — Justus "Julius" Larson, playing in the North Central Invitational at Grand Forks on Monday, won the consolation honors in the 7th flight. — Dick Bjorkman, Prowler basketball co-captain in 1951-52 and a member of the North Dakota University's varsity cage squad last season, has transferred to Hamline and will be playing his college basketball for Joe Hutton.—Billy Bye is apparently having a difficult time in breaking in with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Bill, who is primarily a runner, is handicapped by the fact that the Canadian rules, with a limit of three downs to make ten yards, stress forward passing. Bill did play in several of the Bombers exhibition games, but he hasn't seen any action in league play.

Supt. Owl of Red Lake Reservation Cites Liquor Law Changes

Public Law 277, approved August 15, by President Eisenhower, eliminates certain discriminatory legislation against Indians of the United States said Frell Owl, superintendent of the Red Lake Indian reservation.

A review of this matter shows that special Indian liquor laws were first passed over a century and a half ago at the request of Indians. These Indian liquor laws prohibited the sale or other disposition of intoxicating liquors to all so-called "ward" Indians. This provision of the Indian liquor law had no geographical limitations and applied everywhere just as much as on an Indian reservation.

Indian liquor laws also prohibited the introduction or possession of intoxicating liquors into and in the "Indian country." "Indian country" is defined by sections of the United States Code as including, in general, all lands within any Indian reservation, any dependent Indian community, or any trust or restricted Indian allotment. This prohibition made it illegal for anyone, whether Indian or not, to have liquor, except for certain non-beverage uses, on an Indian reservation.

Public Law 277 modifies these prohibitions in two ways. First, the act terminates the application of the prohibition against sales or other disposition to areas that are not "Indian country." This eliminates the rank discrimination against Indians which previously existed. Prior to passage of Public Law 277, Indians could not be legally served liquor in communities where it was legally dispensed to other citizens.

Second, the act provides that neither prohibition applies to any act or transaction within any area of "Indian country" that "is in conformity both with the laws of the State in which such act or transaction occurs and with an ordinance duly adopted by the tribe having jurisdiction over such area of Indian country," upon certification of such ordinance by the Secretary of the Interior and publication thereof in the Federal Register.

Superintendent Owl states that the general council of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians has taken no action leading to the adoption of an ordinance to permit liquor sales on the reservation. The ancient liquor law, he said, will remain in force on the reservation. Red Lake Indians, however, as individuals will not be subject to prohibition when they are off the reservation.

Children's Clinic Slated at Bemidji

Annual Fall Clinic to Be Held September 12

Children's clinics to help the youngsters who have or may be developing crippling disabilities are planned again this fall for 11 areas in the state, the crippled children services of the state department of public welfare announces. First clinic is slated for Sept. 12 at Bemidji, and one will be held at Crookston, October 24.

The children, examined by an orthopedic surgeon and a pediatrician, include youngsters who have suffered crippling diseases, have been born with a physical handicap, or have been injured in accidents. They are, in most instances, referred to the clinic by family physicians.

Cooperating with the welfare department in the clinic program are Gillette hospital, state division for vocational rehabilitation, state Christmas Seal organization, Minnesota-Dakota Orthopedic society, Northwestern Pediatric society, Minnesota State Medical association and local medical societies.

Dial Phones to Be Installed Soon at Argyle, Alvarado

Two Red River Valley communities — Alvarado and Argyle — will be converted to dial telephone service this year as the Marshall County Telephone company's million-dollar construction and modernization program gets into full swing.

This was the report by Elnathan Gates, company president, who announced from Minneapolis headquarters office that the entire program is "just about on schedule—despite severe material shortages."

Besides the dial conversions at Alvarado and Argyle, engineering or actual construction work is well underway at the other four communities which make up the enlarged three-county telephone system—Hallock, Kennedy, Stephen and Warren, Gates added.

A VICTORY FOR OUR SIDE

Most cheering news of the week was the report on the German election, which apparently was a very real victory for our side. This victory is a testimonial to the effectiveness of our policy in dealing with the post-war problems of western Europe. It does much to justify the vast expenditures that at times have seemed to be of doubtful value.

Much of what we have done to help the people of western Europe recover from the war probably would have been done whether or not world security had been menaced from behind the Iron Curtain. The people of those countries are our cousins. We couldn't sit back and let them starve.

But we had a selfish motive in giving them assistance too. It was to our interest that they be restored to strength and to the ability to maintain themselves and to defend themselves. There have been times when it has seemed uncertain whether they themselves really cared to survive.

This week's election is especially encouraging because it is the first real manifestation of the thinking of the people of West Germany. The issues in the election were clear-cut. The Adenauer administration was openly friendly to us and to our united defense plans. The decisive victory was an endorsement of this program and will do much to strengthen morale among the North Atlantic Treaty nations.

As the election increases our prestige thruout both Europe and Asia, it adds to the difficulties of the Reds both at home and abroad.

FIVE BAD MONTHS

For five months in succession the cost of living of the American people has gone up, according to government reports. This bad news should not come as a surprise. Such a result was predicted when Big Steel and Big Labor agreed to price and wage boosts. Since that time the pattern established in the steel industry has spread and is continuing to spread thruout the national economy. It was the start of another swing around the inflation spiral and since then, as wages and prices have increased, the dollar has sunk to a new low in value.

We are now beginning to feel the bad effects of this kind of "prosperity foolishness." While a few are enjoying temporary income advantages, the great majority find themselves with less buying power. In some lines there has been a marked decrease in purchases, to the extent that there has been curtailed production and reduced employment.

Our present administration has adopted a hands-off policy on questions of wages and prices on the reasonable assumption that in a free market wages and prices will seek and eventually find a fair level. And we have no doubt that the problem would solve itself over a period of time. The solution, in this way, probably could be an exceedingly painful one however.

The alternative to starving ourselves back to common sense is a return to common sense restraints. Our inflation is a result of a lack of restraint.

Business and labor leaders agree that inflation is bad; that more inflation at this time is extremely dangerous. Business and labor leaders know that continued wage boosts and price boosts lead inevitably to a bust at the end of a boom. The trend in living costs during the past five months is a reflection on both the capacity and the integrity of our business and labor leaders, and justifies a serious doubt as to whether we can afford to continue to "drift" without government controls.

Big Business and Big Labor should be told that the foolishness must stop now—and quick—or else.

REVISION IS NEEDED

Some folks are in a dither because of recent talk about federal sales taxes, just as if a federal sales tax was something new. Let's keep in mind that we have federal sales taxes now—a lot of them. They have been written into our tax laws in a makeshift way, without much regard for fairness or consistancy. In their present form they are unfair mainly because they are so discriminatory.

In order to establish order out of chaos in this field there would have to be changes, and changes would mean revisions up as well as revisions down. Some of the changes would be popular and some would be unpopular. It may be assumed, under present conditions, that changes would not be made for the purpose of reducing taxes. Nevertheless the suggestion that there be a study of these taxes with the view of making them more fair and in some instances more productive is a good one.

Lud Roe, ever ready through his Montevideo News to defend the honor and maintain the glory of his community, said "sorry please" in behalf of his city last week because a community promotion failed to measure up to the claims that had been made for it. The reason for his apology was an air show that had had "too much publicity and not enough performance." A promised "biggest display of our nation's air strength and the protection it affords the people of the state" turned out to be merely four fighter planes and one bomber. There were no jets. Remembering proud boasts about some of the community's productions have been outstanding, Lud humbly states that "when we don't do so well perhaps we should admit it." And for that, Lud, another silver star.

School days are here again and that means greater need for careful driving. Kids on their way to and from school are as unpredictable as they are irresponsible. You never know which way they are going to jump. When there is an accident the chances are that the youngster is largely to blame. If he had used good judgement and exercised reasonable care he probably wouldn't have been hurt. But if he had used good judgement and exercised reasonable care he wouldn't be a normal kid, and that's why those of us who drive cars have to be extra careful. Figuring out whose fault it was doesn't help much after the accident has occurred. The important thing is to keep the accident from happening.

Report to the People

by Governor C. Elmer Anderson

Enrollments Increase

Willing and unwilling alike, Minnesota children poured into the school house for the opening of school in most districts this week and began a term that is expected to set another record enrollment of pupils. Though no report would be available until later in the year, it was clear that the number of pupils would be increased greatly again this year by the big crop of post War II babies.

Children born from the increased marriages that followed World War II have been marching into Minnesota school rooms in considerable numbers in the past few years. The normal growth in population and other factors also have helped to swell the trend. In the last five years, the number of pupils entering Minnesota's public schools has increased by 85,000.

All over the country, it is much the same story.

The rise in enrollments, I am told, will be even greater this school year. Here are some highlights of recent surveys which indicate the trend:

"More than 4,200,000 first graders will crowd into the public schools of the nation this fall and some 500,000 into private or parochial schools, or about 2,000,000 more than last year . . . Total elementary school enrollment will reach 27,000,000 this year, it is estimated . . . Our schools will be asked to teach some 7,000,000 more children during the year now beginning than they accommodated eight years ago . . High school enrollment will increase some 270,000 this year, to about 7,000,000 pupils . . . A long period of growth has started which may last for 15 years or more."

Growing Pains

Impact of the upsurge in school enrollments may be measured in some degree by reference to the Minnesota School Census for 1952. The census shows that in 1945 there were 299,208 children in the state under six years of age. By 1952 the number had increased to 408,147. In other words, there were some 108,000 more children in this age group in 1952 than in 1945.

• • •

The upsurge in school enrollments is bound to increase the difficulties of our school districts. It will accentuate the present shortage of school teachers and aggravate the crowded conditions that exist in classrooms in many communities unless special efforts are made to relieve these shortcomings. Parents, school authorities and citizens generally would do well to study these trends and plan ahead to meet the situations that are apt to develop. I have been considering the appointment of a committee to secure action designed to bring about a reduction of the teachers' shortage.

OUR LAND

Not From History Book

"Deep ditches scar many hillsides and the topsoil from them lies at the bottom of the hills covering corn, small grain and pastures. This washed away soil covers road ditches thus adding to the cost of maintaining them which further increases taxes." Does this sound like something from a history book? It ought to be but it isn't. It's from the Sauk Centre Herald and it was written by Clair Kess, SCS Soil Conservationist of St. Cloud. Kess was describing a condition typical of many parts of Minnesota following the heavy summer rains.

Bedding and Your Land

You'll do both your cows and your land a favor if you save plenty bedding. Plenty of good bedding in the stall or pen cuts down on udder injury and the often resulting mastitis. Keeping calf-pens dry also reduces pneumonia, scours, and other calf diseases. What's more you'll help your land, says Ralph Wayne, extension dairyman at University Farm. The more bedding used the more liquid is absorbed from gutters thus conserving more fertilizer value of the manure produced.

Livestock Save Soft Corn

Records kept on the Harold Olson farm in Cedar township, Martin county, show the value of livestock in using soft corn. In 1952 the Olsons' raised 7,000 bushels of corn some of which was soft and would have had to sell at 80 cents a bushel. Through cattle feeding of 90 head, their records show that corn valuation came out at $1.50 per bushel. Mr. Olson was to be one of the featured farmers at the annual Livestock and the Land Institute at Albert Lea, September 24. Mr. Olson passed away in August and now his wife and his neighbor, Harlin Hockel, will make the Albert Lea appearance.

HE SHOOTS TACONITE at 2400°

100 ROUNDS OF 8-GAUGE SHOTGUN shells are fired into a nodulizing kiln by Wilho Salo to break clinkers of hot taconite away from the kiln's sides. Powder-fine, it is heated to 2400° in the 350-foot long, revolving furnace; it emerges as egg-sized nodules, usable in the blast furnaces. Constant experimentation with fine ores, low-grades and taconite is developing a supply of Minnesota ore which can keep mining employees working for generations to come, provided the cost of these ores can be kept down to meet the competition of ores from other areas. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

Looking Backward

1923—THIRTY YEARS AGO

A delegation of local farmers was sent to the state fair as guests of the Commercial club.—Edward Hance, for 22 years a resident of this city, was killed in a train accident at Milwaukee, Wisc.—Robert J. Lund was named secretary of the Holt Commercial club at its organizational meeting.—The local golf course has been increased from four holes to six.—Rural mail carriers from N. W. Minnesota held a Labor Day outing at Lovers Lane here.

1933—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Opening enrollment in Lincoln high school was 580, setting a new high mark, according to Supt. Morris Bye.—Carl Syversrud of Highlanding suffered severe head injuries in a highway mishap south of Goodridge.—Wm. LaFave, formerly associated with Kiewel Products Co., is now manager of the Bridgeman Creameries plant here.—Dr. Edward Bratrud and son Theodor motored to Lexington, Missouri, where Theodor entered Wentworth military academy.

1943—TEN YEARS AGO

Enrollment in Lincoln high school on the opening day totaled 759.—George Gessner, local apiarist, won six blue ribbons at the state fair.—Peter Ness, resident of Sanders township 61 years, died Sept. 2.—Rep. Harold Hagen of Crookston addressed the local Lions club.—Pennington county's quota in the Third War Loan drive has been set at $558,500. Paul A. Lundgren is again heading the campaign.

COINCIDENTALLY

Arnold Anderson, Lakeville, and Otto Holz, Rosemount, have much in common besides the same room at Sanford hospital: They're each 46, a few years ago each was hospitalized at the same place with injuries, one by a corn shredder, the other by a bull; this time each has a left hand bunged up in haying.—If your name begins with H, maybe your neighbors will do your work: Twelve farmer neighbors did his haying while Harry Henning was in a Worthington hospital; 18 "tractorized" neighbors did the fall plowing for a sick Worthington farmer, Henry Hauenstein.

Are Neighbors

The two top-producing coal mines in the world—U. S. Steel's Robena Mine at Greensboro and Jones & Laughlin Steel's Vesta #5 Mine at Fredricktown, Pa.—are only 5 miles apart. Each mine produces 20,000 tons daily.

Boy's Rare Heart Operation Successful, May Help Others

An 11-year old St. Paul boy, Larry Koepke, has successfully undergone one of the most dangerous and difficult operations in heart surgery.

Larry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Koepke of 2108 Nokomis in St. Paul, was born with an extremely rare heart affliction—the tubes to his heart were too small to permit a sufficient flow of blood. The surgery replaced the tubes with plastic ones.

Over 900 doctors throughout the nation, according to Mrs. Koepke, have been watching the results of Larry's operation in the hope that others afflicted with the same condition may be aided. In the past, few such operations have been a success.

Larry has been hospitalized five times alone this year. Mrs. Koepke says, "We don't know what we would have done if Blue Cross and Blue Shield hadn't covered a great part of many of our hospital and doctor bills."

Besides Larry, the Koepke's have five other children at home. All are protected under Mr. Koepke's family Blue Cross and Blue Shield contracts. "People who don't have this hospital and medical care protection don't know how wonderful it is," Mrs. Koepke says.

Full, free information on these two non-profit health plans may be obtained by writing to Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Dept. WF-3, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minn. A postcard will do.

Oklee Community News Is Reviewed

By Mrs. George Johnson

Just a little story about an unexpected accident and almost a premonition of such a thing happening. While this news gatherer was in the jewelery store at Thief River on Tuesday I got the idea to ask the jeweler to cut a wedding band off of my finger, because my finger had grown larger since it was put there and it had been several years since I had been able to get it off of my finger. The man was telling me that it was a good thing I was going to have it taken off before I injured my hand in any way to cause a swelling. He told about one instance where he had to go to the hospital and cut a ring off badly swollen finger. Saturday I decided to do a little wall washing and; my hand came down on a needle that someone had put in the wall. The needle broke and the half of the needle that has the eye stayed in my hand. I had to go to the hospital and have exrays taken and the hand was operated on to remove the needle. The exray showed the eye of the needle close to the joint next to the little finger. Well as a result I am typing with one hand and wondering if I will get done today. Brings back memories when I first learned to type it was only one hand for a long time then. Now I really miss the use of my left hand.

Look Before You Paint

In your eagerness to begin painting, don't open a new can of paint before you acquaint yourself thoroughly with the directions on the label. Once the can is opened and you stir the contents or pour them into another container, splashes or "runs" of the paint may obscure some of the printed information you need.

Smart Women

Most business men say that they like a business woman to wear fragrance, but please, they say, select a light, fresh scent in keeping with the efficiency of the office. Heavy, sultry perfumes are for evening and glamorous parties.

Farm accidents can happen in many different ways and if you aren't careful at all times, the results may be tragically serious. Harry Morey can thank his lucky stars that he has two arms this week instead of just one. While combining last week he stopped to pick something from under the revolving blades and got a whack on one arm that chipped the bone quite badly. Although it isn't so serious, he has to wear a cast on it for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kerwin and two children, Loretta Ann and Patrick have been busy the past week getting settled in the Christina Tell residence. Mr. Kerwin is our new school principal, having taught his first term in the Mentor school last year. Mrs. Kerwin's mother, Mrs. Anna Malerich of Bemidji, will be here helping out for a few weeks.

Neil and Darrold Rasmussen and Herbert Unvertagt made a business trip to Drayton and Grafton, N. D. last Tuesday.

NEWFOLDEN . .

The theme of the meeting was "Thy will be done," and it is a theme that we would all do well to think more often in our daily life.

The Newfolden congregation was the runner up in the softball games held there, and all in all, each member who was there reports a very good and well spent week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Holmstrom, Barry and Craig of Aitkin, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ness and Daniell of Robbins, N. Dak., spent the Labor Day weekend with friends and relatives in the community.

Mrs. Knute Glennen, Wesley and Naomi of Grafton, N. Dak., called at the E. J. Vick home Sunday afternoon. Naomi will be staying at the Vick home during the coming school year.

State Trust Funds Balance 232 Million

Minnesota, like most of its citizens, is in debt. At last count that debt amounted to something over $112 million.

But unlike all but the most thrifty citizens, the state has a substantial savings account.

On June 30, that account showed a healthy balance of $232,783,868.

Of course, the savings cannot be used to pay off the debt or for general operating expenses. constitutional restrictions require that the principal of the account—known as the state trust funds—be kept intact.

The interest provides needed support for certain specific functions. At present interest rates on gilt edged investments, about 2¾ per cent, the funds bring in more than $17,500 a day — some six million dollars a year.

Interest from the permanent school fund $177,526,568 goes to swell school aids. The University of Minnesota benefits from the permanent university fund (33,321,232). The swamp land fund —$21,551,828— made up of moneys from the sale of swamp lands granted to the state many years ago—gives half its yield to schools and the balance to other educational and correctional institutions. And the internal improvement land fund ($383,888) enriches the road and bridge fund.

The funds grew from the sale and use of lands granted to the state by the federal government for specific purposes nearly a hundred years ago. Altogether the federal government granted the state more than 8 million acres, most of it for the support of education. The state still owns more than two million acres, including a considerable acreage of iron ore lands.

Iron ore was a big factor in building the trust funds to their present level, and iron mining is responsible for their steady growth.

More than $170 million of the present total resulted from the discovery of iron ore occupation tax and is further enriched by ore royalties.

Presence of iron ore was not even dreamed of when the trust funds were created and it was not until 1901 that the Legislature entacted a law reserving to the state all minerals on state-owned lands.

The trust funds are under the care of the state investment board, composed of the governor the state auditor, the state treasurer, the attorney general and a member of the University of Minnesota board of regents.

Present members are Gov. Anderson, State Auditor King, State Treasurer Val Bjornson, Atty. Gen. Burnquist, and George Dawson, representing the regents. Secretary of the board is Charles Foster.

Dr. Grays Leaves Bemidji for West

Dr. Crawford Grays, who served about 20 years ago as minister of the Community Methodist church here, and who for the past 17 years was pastor of the First Methodist church of Bemidji until his retirement last year, left with Mrs. Grays September 1 for their new home in Coronado, California.

One of Joliet's maps dated 1673 showed coal along the Illinois River, and in the past 150 years about 3½ billions tons have been mined in the state.

About 29 per cent of all deaths from fires in the U. S. occur in rural areas.

Cancer Crusade Well Supported in Area

The 1953 goal of the American Cancer Society in Minnesota was over-subscribed by $44,667.13, it was announced today by Dr. C. G. Uhley of Crookston, president of the society.

Dr. Uhley, in expressing his thanks to the people of Minnesota for their generous support of the fight to control cancer, stated that the contributions for the Cancer Crusade recently copleted totaled $363,267.13, or 114% of the announced goal of $318,600.

The national goal of $18 million was over-subscribed by $1,500,000.

Dr. Uhley reported that Pennington county residents contributed $1,158.50 or 110 per cent of its quota, while Red Lake county gave $753 or 188 per cent of its quota; and Marshall county gave $2,398 or 196 per cent of its quota.

"This expressed willingness of the people of our state to join in the fight against cancer," Dr. Uhley said, "will permit a further expansion of the already enlarged research, education, and service program of the cancer society."

The largest part of the cancer dollar contributed in Minnesota to the society goes for research at the University of Minnesota. It was pointed out that since 1945, the society has given the University of Minnesota the sum of $1,317,046 for cancer research. About $175,000 additional will be allocated to the University in September for further support of its program.

Sixty-two counties and the City of Duluth exceeded their assigned goals. Leading county was Grant, at 317%. Second was Kittson, at 306%. Twenty-one counties raised over 200% of their goals.

UNESCO Parley Set for Minneapolis

To Be Staged at U. of M. September 14 thru 17

Minnesota citizens will have a chance to attend two meetings of the fourth national conference of the United States National Commission for UNESCO, the United Nations educational, scientific, and cultural organization, when it meets at the University of Minnesota, September 14 through 17.

Though work sessions will be open only to members of the commission, the working press and the 800 delegates to the conference, most of them distinguished national leaders, it was decided this week to throw open the initial meeting and the closing session to members of the general public without charge.

First meeting open to the public will be at 8 p. m. Tuesday, September 15, at Northrop auditorium on the University of Minnesota campus.

Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board, General Mills, Inc., and chairman of the Minnesota sponsoring committee for the conference will preside, and President James L. Morrill, University of Minnesota, will welcome the delegates.

Motorists Equal Poorest Safety Record in August

74 Deaths Reported in Minnesota by State Highway Department

Motorists driving on Minnesota's streets and highways during August compiled as poor a record for any one month as has been recorded during the past ten years, according to figures released today by the Minnesota highway department.

With 74 deaths reported as resulting from traffic accidents, that figure tied the previous high registered in September and October of 1947 and again in August of 1951. It also brought the 1953 total traffic deaths of 386, or four more than were killed during the comparable period in 1951, which ended up as the poorest year in the past 10-year period.

The month of August started with 10 people being killed in a two-car crash on T. H. 10, northwest of Little Falls, in the second worst accident in Minnesota traffic history. Six other crashes involving two or more vehicles resulted in 14 fatalities. There were a total of 42 deaths caused by accidents involving two or more vehicles.

Death came to 21 motorists when their vehicles ran off the road, hit fixed objects or were struck by a railroad train at a grade crossing.

Five fewer pedestrians were killed during August of this year than in the comparable month of 1952, with 11 lives being lost in this type of traffic accident. Seven of these victims were 10 years of age or younger, while three of them were 63 years of age or older.

Fall Term Opens at N W. School on September 29th

The fall term of the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, opens with registration of new students on Monday, September 28, and with registration of former students continuing until noon of September 29. Classes for the fall term will start at 1:15 p. m. on September 29.

Superintendent T. M. McCall announces that a capacity enrollment, equaling the record of 438 students in 1952-53, is expected. With 392 advance room reservations to date, the dormitories will be filled to capacity before the opening of school; also, there will be an additional thirty to forty non-resident students enrolled.

A good fence is high enough so livestock will not reach over it and is compact enough to keep them from reaching through the wires. Good fences are, in the long run, cheap fences.

Fair Board Is Host at Dinner to 40 Workers

Enjoyable Affair Given in Eagles Auditorium Last Wednesday Evening

As a gesture of appreciation of the services rendered by department heads and other workers at the 1953 Pennington county fair, the fair board was host to 40 persons at dinner last Wednesday evening in the Eagles auditorium.

Frank J. Hardisty, board president, presided over the informal program, which followed the serving of the excellent dinner by members of the Eagles auxiliary.

Scandinavian songs were supplied by Mrs. Max Jensen, accompanied on the accordion by Mrs. Jassie Miramontes, and she also led community singing.

Hardisty thanked the staff of workers for the cooperation given in staging the fair, and he suggested it might be well to select a date near the middle of July for the 1954 event as a possible means of building up the attendance.

J. M. Roche, secretary of the board, stated that altho there was a falling off in attendance at the afternoon programs this year, and in spite of the fact that more than $2,200 was paid out in premiums, indications were that the fair ended up on the right side of the ledger. He also took occasion to praise the exhibits in the women's building.

County Agent Ray Mittenes declared that the 1953 fair was the best ever, and that the grandstand show compared favorably with that at the recent Minnesota exposition. VFW Leaders Plan Cancer Institute

To Inspect Facilities at "U" of M. Saturday

Several hundred Veterans of Foreign Wars leaders from posts and auxiliaries throughout the state will visit the University of Minnesota Saturday, Sept. 19, to see the University's cancer research facilities and to talk with top cancer specialists. The meeting will be a preamble to a $450,000 fund-raising project which the VFW will begin this fall to build a cancer research clinical institute on the Minneapolis campus.

University President J. L. Morrill and Dr. Harold S. Diehl, dean of the medical school, will greet the group during the morning session in Scott hall auditorium. An organizational meeting will follow with VFW leaders completing final details for the kick-off of their campaign.

Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, chief of surgery at the University, will discuss the proposed institute at a luncheon in Coffman Memorial Union's main ballroom. In the afternoon, the group will view cancer research exhibits in the ballroom balcony, see a motion picture on cancer, visit the Variety Club Heart hospital, the Cancer Detection Center and the University's new radioactive cobalt therapy room.

The VFW cancer research clinical institute will make possible a "total approach" study of the disease — an intensive, uninterrupted investigation of cancer in human patients.

Restoration of Independence Hall Promoted

Independence Hall needs restoration. The Declaration of Independence was adopted there. The assembly room was the scene of the event; also the drafting of the Constitution, the meeting of the Second Continental Congress, and where George Washington took command of the Continental Armies. All citizens of these United States should play a small part in this restoration project, says the Thief River Falls Woman's club, which is soliciting contributions for the purpose.

EGG PRODUCERS
Now is the time to replace your old type nests with the new automatic rollaway nests

The NEW ROLLAWAY NESTS should be placed in the range house or laying house before the pullets come into full production. The best time for old hens is at moulting time.

ROLLAWAY NESTS cost no more per hen than the old type nests and will repay their cost many times over by reducing egg and grade losses from dirty eggs, egg cleaning labor, breakage, egg eating and quality loss.

See the latest in automatic nests, automatic trough type waterers and other hen house equipment now on display in our hatchery show room.

Prowlers Overwhelm Warren by 40-0 Score; RLF Here on Friday

Coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers, piling up 385 yards from scrimmage, defeated Clint Perkins' Warren Ponies, 40 to 0, in a season-opening football game played at Warren Friday night.

On Friday night, Sept. 18th, the kickoff slated for 8:30 p. m. on the Lincoln field, the Prowlers will meet Coach Darold King's highly-rated Red Lake Falls Eagles. The Eagles, undefeated in eight games last season, opened their 1953 schedule on Friday afternoon by scoring a 19 to 0 win over the Fosston Greyhounds.

In last Friday night's game at Warren, the Prowlers held a top-heavy margin over the Ponies in yardage and first downs and in the score. The locals, rushing for 316 yards and completing four passes in eleven attempts, had 18 first downs.

While the Prowlers, running for the most part from a split-T formation, were picking up yardage and springing their backfield men loose for touchdown runs, the Warren Ponies, using a T formation, were held to a minus yardage throughout the first three periods of the game. The Ponies, in the 4th period, completed a pair of passes for 15 yards for a couple of first downs, and picked up another first down on Russ Melgaard's 14-yard run.

The Prowlers, defending the west goal, kicked off to Warren, and the Ponies, after picking up seven yards in three plays, were forced to kick, with the locals getting the ball on their 42-yard line. Sid Vraa and Lyle Guttu gained a first down on the Warren 48; Bob Helgeland added three yards, and Guttu, in two plays, drove to the Ponies' 37-yard stripe. Dick Kruse, blasting off left guard, sliced off to his right and sprinted for a TD. On the try for the conversion, a Prowler fumble was covered by the Ponies.

Minutes later, from the Prowler 43-yard line, Helgeland breaking through right tackle, raced 57 yards for a touchdown. Vraa added the point on a run, giving the locals a 13 to 0 lead.

Gaining the ball, on an out-of-bounds kick, on their 30-yard line, the Prowlers, early in the 2nd period, racked up four first downs to carry to the Ponies 10-yard line. After Guttu had lost a yard at left tackle, Vraa circled right end for the touchdown. Guttu, on a running play, added the conversion.

The Prowler line, playing aggressive ball, drove the Ponies from the Warren 30-yard line to the Pony 12-yard line, where the locals took possession on downs. Vraa whipped a pass to Darold Dalton for the touchdown. The try for the point, failed, and the Prowlers led, 26 to 0, at the intermission.

With numerous reserves in the local lineup, the Prowlers failed to add to their point total in the third period, but on the first play in the fourth quarter, from the Warren 10-yard line, Vraa skirted right end for a TD and then added the point on a placekick.

The Prowlers added their final score moments later when Darryl Durgin, from the Warren 3-yard line, drove over left tackle for the sixpointer. Dale Klungness boosted the Prowler total to 40 points by running for the extra point.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Even-Stephen

The football Prowlers will move into an early-season climax game on Friday night when they meet the defending district champion Red Lake Falls Eagles on the Lincoln field. Last year, it will be recalled, the Eagles were hard-pressed to score a 13 to 6 victory, and it was only on a completed pass, with but ten seconds of play remaining, from Jim Baril to Marvin Drees that provided Red Lake Falls with their game-winning points.

The Prowlers, with Lyle Guttu making a hard run through right tackle, scored early in the first period, and had an opportunity to gain a commanding lead when, a short while later, they had the ball on the Eagles' 7-yard line, with first and goal to go. Four plays carried to the 1-foot line, where the Eagles took possession.

But Friday night's contest will be a different game, and the locals expect that the score will be different, too. Coach Ralph Skjod's squad was quite impressive in its opener against Warren last Friday, winning by a 40 to 0 score. That lop-sided triumph, though, was over an inexperienced and short-manned Pony squad. Friday night's game, according to all the reckoning and pre-season rating, should be a toss-up. Red Lake Falls, with Duane Boss Emard and Ken Bombardier in their backfield, will hold an edge on "power" running, but the Prowlers will, with Bob Helgeland, Dick Kruse, Lyle Guttu, and Sid Vraa, balance that power by superior speed.

It's a big "if," but if the Prowler line, especially the tackles, and ends, can hamper the off-tackles shots of Emard and Bombardier, the locals will rack up a win, for we'll wager that the Helgeland-Guttu-Kruse-Vraa quartet will score a couple of touchdowns.

The Golf Season's Finale

The golf tournament season will come to a close on Sunday when the local club conducts its famed "Snowball Special" shortstop tourney.

Sunday's tourney will give the northwest's top-ranking golfers their final chance to break Ken Adams' streak of wins. Adams, who has won the three tournaments that have been played here this year, is expected to be on hand and try for number four.

The recent rains, plus George Gall's excellent greens-work, has brought the local course to its finest condition of the year, and the tournament golfers should enjoy Sunday's affair.

Keith Jorde, a former local club member and a recent Minnesota state high school champion and a member of the University of Minnesota golf team this past season, was in town for a couple of days, and he and Vic Jung engaged in a pair of informal matches. On Sunday, Keith and Vic played in the shortstop tournament at Bemidji and Jorde, by a 2-up margin, defeated Bemidji's Jim Smalley in the finals of the championship flight, winning six golf balls. Keith claimed that the finals was a "breeze" after he eliminated Jung in a semi-finals match.

The First International

The "boys" from Winnipeg, Grafton, Grand Forks, Glenwood, Duluth, Roseau, Crookston, and Fergus Falls, who participated in the trap shoot here on Saturday and Sunday all appeared to have a good time, and they exhibited some first-rate shooting. It is hoped and expected that the trap shoot tourney will be continued next year, and that it will eventually develop into one of the northwest's premier sporting events. It has possibilities.

Winnipeg's Al Smith, a ranking Canadian trap shot, proved to be the singles champion on Sunday, breaking 93 of 100.

For the record, we will mention that Russ Embury, an able conservationist and conversationalist, broke six out of 25. Russ, it is evident, can't hit a moving target.

They Earned the Dinner

The officers of the Thieves baseball organization will honor the members of the Thieves team at a turkey dinner at the golf club on Saturday night, with meal-time scheduled for 7:00 p. m.

The boys, and most of the squad members can be classed as boys, earned the dinner that is being given for them. When the season opened, and with the Thieves joining the Red River Valley league, the fondest hopes were that the locals would be able to reach the first division and gain the playoffs. The Thieves surprised their most ardent supporters by leading the league practically all season, they shared the leadership with the Crookston Pirates for awhile, and won the league championship. The results of the playoffs were a disappointment, but there were circumstances that explained the losses to Crookston in the finals.

Snowball Special Shortstop Golf Tourney Sunday

Near-record Number of Golfers Expected to Participate in Event

Given favorable weather, it is expected that a near-record number of golfers will participate in the shortstop tournament scheduled to be played over the local course on Sunday. The tournament has been dubbed the "Snowball Special," because of the lateness of the season, and it has developed into an annual feature on the golfing program.

Last year's late-season shortstop tourney was won by Crookston's Ernotte Hiller, and the popular Crookston golfer is expected to be an entry again this year. Monty Klein, also of Crookston was runner-up to Hiller last year, and it is hoped that he will bring his southpaw swing here on Sunday. Ken Adams of Grand Forks, winner of the three previous tournaments played here this year, will perhaps be here on Sunday, and trying for a "grand slam."

Golfers intending to enter the tourney on Sunday should post their qualifying scores with tournament chairman Bob Brederson, or call the club house, 983 on the local exchange. Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the flight winners, runners-up, and consolation winners.

First Annual International Shoot Drew 60

Al Smith, Prominent Winnipeg Shooter, Wins 100-bird Singles Event

The first annual international trap shoot conducted by the Thief River Gun and Trap club was a success in spite of the cold and blustery weather that prevailed over the weekend. Approximately sixty shooters participated in the various events.

Al Smith of Winnipeg, one of Canada's top-ranking trap shooters and a member of the 1952 All-Canada trap shooting squad, won the 100-bird singles event, scoring a 93. Smith had scores of 25-24-22-22. C. M. Wolf of Merrifield, N. Dak. was runner-up with 91; and Dr. Ted Bratrud earned third place money with a 90.

In the handicap event, shooting at fifty birds, C. M. Wolf, from the 18-yard mark, broke 47 out of 50 for first place. Cap Nelson, breaking 46 out of 50 from the 16-yard mark, and G. Midgarden of Grafton, N. Dak., also with 46 out of 50 and shooting from 17 yards, were runners-up.

Dr. Jung of Crookston, Phil Prichard, Al Smith, and Chief Justice Roger Dell, were the only shooters to record perfect 25's during Sunday's shooting. Dell, during the handicap event and shooting from 21 yards, broke 25 straight.

Cal Jackson of Duluth, who is a representative of the Remington Arms Co. and who presided as the tournament supervisor, gave an exhibition of doubles shooting. Jackson broke 44 out of 50.

Minnkota Man Urges Cooperation in Using Garrison Dam Power

In an article released this week, Lyle Lund, results engineer with the Minnkota Power Cooperative, points to recent signs of cooperation between public and private electric power interests in working out plans for distribution and sale of power shortly to be made available from the Garrison dam project. The statement follows:

Your pocketbook will be the winner if recent attempts at solving the problem of distributing Garrison Dam power are continued.

Up until recently this controversial issue of distributing Federal power has fostered new disputes, suspicion, and ill will between the private utilities and electric cooperatives in the upper Missouri Basin. Spokesmen for both groups each had their own views on what constituted a just and economical distribution of Garrison Dam's power.

While we in the Red River Valley are acutely aware of the value of this power in the future development of the area, this section of the nation is just one phase of the overall developments in federal hydro electric facilities in America's West. The disputes over the distribution of this power have grown to large proportions in the Pacific Northwest and in the South.

A new note was sounded a month ago when Ancher Nelson, former lieutenant governor of Minnesota and now head of the Rural Electrification Administration, made a speech to a group of co-op officials in which he said, "We will arrive at our goal a lot sooner and less expensively to the farmer and the people generally, if we can hitch cooperative power, private power and public power together in one team, all pulling in the same direction."

B. F. Braheney, president of Northern States Power Company, in an address before the company's annual stockholders' meeting on May 6th, called for complete cooperation between power suppliers in this area — cooperatives, municipalities, power companies and the Federal government. Thus, additional support was given to the concept of cooperation in the development of our area's power supply.

On June 22nd, a meeting of co-op managers representing nine power cooperatives in North Dakota, Minnesota, Michigan and Iowa met in conference at Grand Forks, N. Dak. This group passed a resolution directed to Fred G. Aandahl, former governor of North Dakota and now Assistant Secretary of Interior.

Their resolution read in part: "the full benefits from hydro-electric power can come only if every power supplier is allowed to participate and contribute in the purchase, sale and distribution of this power and the fair and adequate policies can only be obtained when all are allowed to participate and contribute in the development of policies relative to the sale of such power."

These many calls for cooperation in the distribution and sale of the federal government's hydro-electric power may have a far reaching effect on the cost of your electric service. If this cooperation can be achieved, then we will witness further integration of electrical facilities. This in turn will lower the high cost of transporting electric power. Since you are paying all the bills, including the cost of transporting power, this cooperation among all power suppliers in the area must be encouraged. Its necessity must be made known.

Let us hope we're entering a new era in our electric power affairs where propagandists will find their expensive services unwanted and unneeded.

Check Car Lights, Motorists Asked

The Minnesota highway department today urged all motorists to make a check of the lights on their cars. With increasing hours of darkness, motorists must rely more on adequate and safe lighting. It only takes a few minutes, says the department, to make a complete check of the lights on any car. Detecting burned out or weak lights and then making the needed replacements can very well prevent a night-time driving accident.

Livestock Day Is Slated at Warren Saturday, Sept. 19

Lincoln High School Band to Perform in Afternoon; Ancher Nelson to Speak

Four bands, a national political figure, awarding of $1,000 worth of free prizes, awarding of a purebred dairy calf, a parade, free lunch, free movie for the kids, sports and dance are among the items on the agenda for Warren's Livestock Day to be held in Warren Saturday, September 19.

The day's program will start with a kiddies parade at 9:30 a. m. Push cart races will be held at 10:30 a. m. From 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. a free lunch will be served to all Warren visitors. Judging of the FFA and 4H club livestock entries will be held from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. in the city parking lot.

Four bands will play, two at each end of the city, from 1:15 to 1:45 p. m. These bands include the Warren, Argyle, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls high school bands.

The bands will also take part in the parade which is scheduled from 2 to 2:30 p. m., according to William Schaefer, in charge of the parade. All livestock will also be displayed in this parade.

A free movie for children will be shown starting at 2:30 p. m. at Warren theatre while free entertainment will be held in the Great Northern Park for adults from 3 to 3:30 p. m.

Ancher Nelsen, administrator of the Rural Electrification administration, Washington, D. C., and former Minnesota lieutenant governor, will speak at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Nelsen will be introduced by Victor M. Edman of Alvarado, president of PKM Electric Cooperative and Minnkota Power Cooperative.

Former Warroad Editor Author of Book Now on Sale

"There is a persistent legend in our land that he who edits a country newspaper has attained the pinnacle of bucolic bliss." So begins "Long Wednesdays," published by Abelard Press, New York, which was released nationally, September 15. To that statement author Earl Chapin quickly adds, "Somebody is full of prunes!"

Mr. Chapin should know. For eight years he and his wife, Myrtle, published the Warroad (Minn.) Pioneer. "It was," the author writes, "the only newspaper of my knowledge which went to press on Wednesday nights and could still be found at press two days later."

Though a book of fiction, "Long Wednesdays" leans heavily on the author's experiences. Country editors will recognize most of these as their own; and every reader will see the characters who fill this book as prototypes of people they know.

The author is now a roving reporter and Wisconsin Editor of the Dispatch—Pioneer Press, St. Paul. His second book, "Heavy Water," is scheduled for publication next spring.

Fosston to Hook up with Minnkota

Officials of Fosston and Minnkota Power Cooperative recently signed a contract providing for the interchange of electric power after studies revealed the two electric systems could operate more economically together than separately.

Fosston's electric needs have grown beyond the safe capacity of its diesel-electric power plant. Officials expect that the interconnection of the two systems, now under construction, will relieve their growing power shortage. Engineers have estimated the completion date of the connecting line and power substation to be early this winter.

Similar agreements have been signed by Park River and Cavalier, North Dakota.

Senator Also to Speak at McIntosh Saturday Night

United States Senator Hubert H. Humphrey will spend Saturday, September 19, in northwestern Minnesota, participating in two annual community celebrations.

Senator Humphrey will visit Kittson county Saturday to address the annual "Potato Day" gathering at Karlstad at noon, remaining until mid-afternoon. From Karlstad he will go to McIntosh in Polk county, to speak during the evening at the annual "Barley Day" festivities.

The trip is Senator Humphrey's second visit into the northwestern Minnesota counties since his return during the recess of Congress. SEEKING TAX UNIFORMITY

Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater were among the nine counties in which a survey of tax valuations and assessments was made by the state department of taxation a year ago. As a result of this survey the legislature provided for similar studies in all counties. Good progress is being made and enough counties have now been checked to indicate what the overall pattern will look like.

Representatives of the department of taxation discussed the results of the study in Pennington county with county officials last week. By such discussions with local officials thruout the state it is hoped that a more uniform and more equitable valuation of property for tax purposes can gradually be obtained.

Inflation has added greatly to the difficulty of assessment. Some classes of property have inflated more in value than others. The result is a serious lack of uniformity in assessment standards and practices thruout the state. The surveys that have been completed indicate that there are wide variations not only among the counties and in various areas of the state but also among the many assessment units within the counties.

In the assessment of property it doesn't make much difference what kind of a measuring stick is used to establish taxable valuation. It is important however that all valuations be established by the same measuring stick, and that is what the state tax officials are trying to accomplish. Not any of us like to pay taxes but we do like to know when we do pay them that we are paying only our fair share of the cost of government and that every effort is being made to keep that distribution of costs on an equitable basis.

DURKIN'S RESIGNATION

The resignation of Martin Durkin as Secretary of Labor is a serious setback to the Eisenhower administration. At the time Durkin was appointed his selection had general support as a sensible solution to a difficult problem. The new cabinet was heavily weighted with "big business" brains. Durkin presumably would give to "big labor" a top level voice in the new administration. But it hasn't worked out that way.

Durkin's announced excuse for resigning was the failure of the administration to go along with him in support of his suggested amendments to the Taft-Hartley law. The real reason probably was that he felt himself to be a member of the cabinet in name only. He had a title and a chair but he never had become a voice. His unhappiness in such a situation is understandable.

It is fortunate for the Republicans that Durkin's resignation, inevitable as it was, came early in the Eisenhower administration. This means that there is time to repair the damage. In November of 1954 Durkin may be of no more importance politically than he was in November of 1952.

But the labor vote will be just as important next year as it was a year ago and the issue raised by Durkin's resignation must be faced squarely. The Taft-Hartley act, hot potato though it is, must nevertheless have another hearing. Even those who championed the measure have admitted that it has defects.

No doubt some of the criticisms of the law are unreasonable. But not all of them are unreasonable and now that we have had several years of experience with it there is no good reason why it should not be given a thorough reexamination with the view of correcting that which is wrong.

And labor is entitled to a voice at the top level of our government along with agriculture, business and industry. It was for this reason that we liked the Durkin appointment at the time that it was made. We hope the importance of maintaining such a relationship will guide the naming of his successor.

POOR TIMING

Adlai Stevenson's timing was not good when he released his criticism of the administration's foreign policy to break immediately following the election in Germany. Had the result of this election been unfavorable then of course the timing would have been perfect. He probably just guessed wrong as to what the results would be.

But aside from the question of timing, the Democrats are hardly in a position to scold the administration because of its foreign policy. The national policy has not changed materially since the new administration took over. And, judging the results of that policy under its present management by present conditions, it would appear that the Eisenhower administration is doing fairly well in improving our relations with the rest of the world.

Admittedly the condition is still highly explosive and anything can happen. But most Americans would agree, we think, that we have moved in the right direction in Korea. The tension has eased in a half a dozen trouble centers thruout the world. Certainly the German election was not a victory for the enemy in Europe.

There is room for justifiable criticism of the administration in several fields. In foreign affairs, however, the record up to this point is good.

Melvin Joppru and those associated with him in staging their "first annual" rodeo did a good job in this first effort. Their show measured up to that one standard by which all shows must be judged—it satisfied the customers. We presume that "first annual" reference in the advertising signifies an intention to have a second annual presentation next year. We hope that will be done. A good rodeo is good entertainment, and northwestern Minnesota is big enough to support one good thriller of this kind once a year.

Average mill rates of taxation in Pennington and its neighboring counties are about the same. According to the 1952 figures Pennington is low with an average of 152.08 mills and ranks 56th from the top in the state. Marshall is next with 152.43 mills and is in 57th position. Red Lake is slightly higher with an average rate of 155.26 mills, placing it in 62nd place. The averages run from a low of 88.97 mills to a high of 269.77. Our area is about in the middle. And it is well to keep in mind that high mill rates do not necessarily mean high taxes. In most instances high mill rates indicates low valuations. As we get richer our valuations go up and the mill rates come down.

Coming this way are new rate schedules for automobile liability insurance that will recognize in part at least a driver's safety record. Those who have good records as safe drivers will get their insurance for less. Those with bad records will pay more. The past record is not in all instances a fair basis for determining future probabilities but there is much to be said in favor of assessing the costs according to experience. It is one practical way to encourage safe driving habits and that is the important thing.

Hurt Feelings

Each of us probably knows a few people whose feelings are much too easily hurt. There's the old school chum who sulks when we talk of someone else's success; there's the man who sees an implied criticism of himself in everything we say. It is generally uncomfortable to be with such people; trying to avoid every topic which might lead to hurting their feelings requires so much caution that it is a strain.

We may understand some of the reasons they have become so super-sensitive, we may even be tolerant of them, some of the time, but probably most of us are not enough aware of the role played by childhood experience in building up this personality trait.

Parents not infrequently show that they love one child more than another. Perhaps it is a thoughtless remark made by one mother to a friend: "Oh, of course I can't help feeling closest to Janie. After all, she was my first baby, and she has always been so wonderful."

Janie's younger sister, overhearing this comment, feels suddenly discarded. Perhaps Douglas looks and acts much like a favorite relative, while Donald is "just himself." Maybe Irene has learned to do anything necessary to please her parents, while Susan follows a more independent path. It is undeniably difficult to conceal differences in the warmth of parental feeling, and children are sensitive and quick to respond to these differences.

Comparisons between children also produce hurt feelings. A remark like "Johnny, why don't you try to behave as well as Dick does?" rarely succeeds in motivating Johnny as the parents hope. More likely, his feelings are hurt and he doesn't even want to be like Dick anymore.

Adults who as children were subjected to constant comparison with other children show its effects. Often they have acquired a lasting feeling of being "no good," or not as good as other people. They may struggle constantly to "prove" their superiority. Or they may just give up and not be willing to make much effort to achieve.

Being accepted and loved by his parents for himself gives a child a more secure basis for self-confidence and provides for more emotional resiliency against the hurt feelings that do occur.

Report to the People

By Governor C. Elmer Anderson

Teacher Shortage

An alarming report has just come to me from Dean Schweickhard of our state department of education. Commissioner Schweickhard tells me that many of the schools have had serious trouble staffing their schools with teachers this year and that, with a big increase in enrollment under way, most are going to be facing increased difficulties next year and succeeding years.

I have regarded the situation so serious that I have appointed thirty outstanding men and women of the state on a committee and asked them to study this problem and see if we cannot develop some programs that will relieve it.

Commissioner Schweickhard put the problem very simply. The number of babies born in Minnesota and the other states has increased tremendously since World War II. The total of births rose from 54,143 in 1945 to 80,140 in 1951 and an estimated 79,000 in 1952. Greatly increased numbers of children as a consequence have been asking for admission at school doors in Minnesota in the last few years. Approximately 13,000 additional first grade students entered the schools of the state last year, and this fall another 7,000 were expected, along with the 13,000, who now will be in the second grade. The number promises to keep climbing.

Unmet Needs

To furnish instruction for these added pupils will take another 500 teachers next year, I am told. To replace the teachers who for one reason or another will leave the teaching profession, will take 2,000 new teachers. That is 2,500 additional teachers that will be needed each year for the next few years.

Yet the total new supply of elementary teachers received from the teacher training institutions and the teachers' training departments of the high schools in the state this year, Commissioner Schweickhard reports is only 956. Only by seeking teachers from other states, by employing large numbers of former teachers, now married, and hiring some teachers without adequate training have many schools been able to keep classrooms functioning.

I feel that the men and women on this committee will approach this question realistically and am hopeful that, while developing helpful measures, they will succeed in enlisting parents and citizens generally in their support. It is a problem that must have the help of all.

$20,000 Saving

Dudley Ericson, state liquor control commissioner, reports that regulations have been completed for putting into effect the new plan, adopted by the recent Legislature, under which the state of Minnesota will dispense with the beer stamps which brewers in the past have been required to place on cartons and cases of beer. Under the new plan, the brewers will report their sales and pay the beer tax on a monthly basis to the liquor control commissioner, instead of the present method of making payments direct to the state treasurer's office at irregular times as the beer is sold. The liquor commissioner will forward the tax funds to the state treasurer. The state of Minnesota will save cost of the stamps, about $20,000 a year. The new plan goes into effect October 1.

DRIVERS LIST TOP AUTO PROBLEMS

Minnesota State Automobile Association and the Minneapolis Auto Club asked several hundred drivers to rank various car problems in order of importance to highway safety, comfort, pleasure, and so on. Over-emphasis on power and speed ranked tops both in first-place votes and over-all; glaring headlights second; emphasis on appearance rather than economy third; lack of attention to safety factors in design, and designs involving undue repair costs ran neck-and-neck for fourth place; lack of durability and skidding tendencies tied in the next spot; unsatisfactory repair and garage service brought up well in the rear of all other factors.—Speaking of automobiles, a Browerville farmer paid a $50 fine for driving his tractor to a dance—the judge said if it is to be used for pleasure it must carry a license plate.

For The Hostess

Every woman feels flattered when she receives a feminine gift from her guest. And when that gift is practical, too, it is doubly appreciated. So why not take a set of fragrant bath toiletries to your next week-end hostess. She'll remember you kindly for many weeks to come—whenever she has the pleasure of a luxurious bath.

She runs her home from an iron lung

Two growing boys are a handful for any mother. They were more than that—until recently—for Mrs. Martha Hayes. A victim of polio, she can move only her head.

"A telephone would help," she told friends. "But how could I use it?"

Then someone brought the story to the telephone company—with wonderful results. Engineers and installers replaced the "receiver" with an operator's headset and a small switch that clamped right on the iron lung.

To "lift" or "hang up" the receiver Mrs. Hayes brushes the switch lever with her cheek; to talk, she turns her head to the mouthpiece.

Now the courageous mother says, "I order groceries by phone . . . even tell the barber how I want Bobby's hair cut. With my telephone, I really feel independent!"

Although names have been changed to protect the privacy of persons mentioned above, all other facts are true. The telephone men who "invented" Mrs. Hayes' phone may be working in your town—for this story is just an example of the value of telephone service and the spirit of the men and women behind it.

To provide telephone service so important to people like Mrs. Hayes—and to you,—your telephone company must pay good wages for skilled workers, buy and maintain good equipment. We must have reasonable rates to keep service good today, to continue to look for new ways to serve you better . . . to continue to make your telephone worth more than it costs.

Do you know a true telephone story like this? Send it to Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, Nebraska.

RED HOT RIVER of Iron Ore

THE ROARING HEAT FORCES Arthur Peterson to stand well back as he checks this sintering machine at an ore processing plant near Virginia. Powder-fine ores are spread evenly on a 6-foot wide steel conveyor. As it passes through the flame the ore is fused into a clinker strong enough to stand shipment to the blast furnaces. Constant experimentation with taconite and low-grade ores is developing a supply of Minnesota iron ore which can keep mining employees working for generations to come, provided the cost of these ores can be kept down to meet the competition of ore from other areas. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

$1,057.35 Bill Paid

"After my long 68 day stay in the hospital," Miss Gertrude Sjoberg, 5505 Park Avenue, Minneapolis said, "I could hardly believe it when I had to pay only $25 for my care. My room and board and all the hospital services I needed amounted to $1,082.35."

"Imagine," she said, "under my Blue Cross $25 Deductible contract, they paid $1,057.35. Blue Shield provided benefits for my doctor bills."

Only two health-care plans could provide Miss Sjoberg such comprehensive protection . . . Minnesota Blue Cross and Blue Shield. The Blue Cross plan for hospital care is sponsored by 169 Minnesota hospitals. Over 2,800 Minnesota Doctors actively participate in the Blue Shield plan for medical care. Both are non-profit plans, organized under Minnesota laws.

These plans were founded to provide the finest hospital-medical care protection to all who need it at a low cost which they can afford. "I'll never be without this wonderful safeguard for my health care protection," Miss Sjoberg says.

Complete free details on these comprehensive hospital-medical care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-9, 2610 University Avenue, St. Paul 14, Minnesota. There is no obligation. No salesman will call.

'U' Farm Economist Sees No Price Relief

The American farmer can expect little relief from the present farm price-cost squeeze, E. Fred Koller, a University of Minnesota agricultural economist, told the annual animal nutrition short course on the St. Paul campus last Friday.

Koller said the efficient farmer and the one who adopts tried scientific methods will make a reasonably satisfactory net income this year. But the inefficient farmer may be disappointed by his year's profit.

Net farm income probably will be 5 to 10 per cent below last year with a corresponding drop in farmers' purchasing power. The parity ratio now is 93, compared with 103 in July, 1952.

A bright spot in the farm price picture, however, is that most farm prices have not dropped since February when their two-year decline apparently halted.

Despite the present squeeze, the prospects are good for agriculture, Koller said. "If business conditions can be kept reasonably stable, demand for food will continue to grow. The future calls for more efficient farming, however. Farmers will have to produce more food with about the same acreage. This means higher production per acre, per animal, and per man."

Koller outlined the outlook for agricultural produce as follows:

Dairy: No seasonal price rises are expected this year because of large quantities of dairy products in government storage. A more realistic butter price policy is needed because inflexible butter price supports have discouraged its use and protected substitutes.

Cattle: Prices probably will be more stable in the next few years if demand for meat remains high. Top grades are expected to average higher on the market in coming months than last spring. Lower grades probably will fluctuate considerably the rest of the year—no pronounced trend up or down.

Hogs: Even though the corn-hog ratio is favorable and hog prices good, farmers plan to have 5 per cent fewer sows farrow fall pigs this year than last. Hog raisers outside the corn belt will make the biggest cut in the fall pig crop—17 per cent less than in 1952. If farmers follow through on intentions, the winter market should be a favorable one, even though some drop in demand might result from lowered business activity.

Reviewing the feed situation, W. T. Diamond, secretary of the American Feed Manufacturers' Association, Chicago, said that a near-record supply of fed grains and concentrates is likely.

District Judges Salary Case Goes to Supreme Court

Atty. General Appeals Overruling of Governor's Veto of Salary Raise

Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist appealed to the state supreme court Thursday a district court decision overruling Gov. C. Elmer Anderson's pocket veto of a pay increase for district judges.

In a written appeal Burnquist stated that Judge Gustavus Loevinger, Ramsey county district court, made five errors in his decision and went "far afield" in declaring Anderson's veto illegal. The measure, approved by the 1953 legislature, provided $125 monthly salary increases.

Anderson killed the measure because the lawmakers had refused to grant $5 and $6 monthly pay hikes to the state's lowest paid civil service employes.

The legislature also approved a measure giving pay raises to members of the supreme court but Anderson killed it also.

Burnquist said the state constitution gives the governor veto power over all bills, including judges salary bills.

Leovinger based his decision on the fact that the constitution says judges' salaries shall be prescribed "by the legislature," omitting the words "by law."

Burnquist argued that the legislature can act in no other way than "by law" and that the omission of the two words was not significant.

Plowing Champion Contest Sept. 26

Statewide Contest to Be Held in Wright Co.

Champions will be on parade at "Plowville '53" to be held between Maple Lake and Buffalo on Saturday, September 26, according to Jerome Specht, Wright County agent and general manager of the event.

County champions will be competing in four different contests for state honors, he says. Some winners will be eligible to represent the state in national competition.

Featured events will include the level land plowing contest, the contour plowing contest, the 4-H and FFA land judging contest and the 4-H and FFA contour line laying contest.

"Plowville '53" is being sponsored by the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts and Station WCCO with the help of the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

County contests are being held throughout the state to determine contestants for the statewide event, Specht says. He expects the entrant list to pass the one hundred mark.

Detroit Studies Sales of "Continental" Studebaker

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter

DETROIT—Studebaker, which was a big factor in setting early-postwar auto styles, may now be setting the pattern for the next few years.

Its 1946 model, designed with lavish use of glass by Raymond Loewy, was the first completely redesigned postwar car. The South Bend, Ind., concern made no further major change until its current 1953's; with these it introduced low, rakish "Continental" styling. Also designed by Loewy, the new model cost $27 million to introduce, double the 1946 cost.

A top Detroit stylist, employed by a rival manufacturer, says that the current Studebaker will affect the future looks of more competitive makes than the industry would like to admit.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response —right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Cream Whips Main Street Traffic

Big traffic jam in front of the office last week. Thought everybody in the county was coming in to buy The Clarion, but they weren't.

Seems a 5-gallon can fell off Whitey Fisher's truck, spilling cream all over the street. Our cop on duty, Tiny Fields, halted traffic so Whitey could pick up the can. Tiny was about to wave the cars on when a kitten ran out and started lapping up the cream.

Well, traffic piled up, but Tiny paid no heed. Light changed green three times. After the kitten had enough, Tiny waved the traffic through.

From where I sit, this was just a "Tiny" demonstration of the way people in our town are. They're usually pretty considerate and tolerant. If one of our neighbors prefers a good glass of beer to his friend's coffee at dinnertime, it's just each to his own taste and everything's "smooth as cream" between them.

Pennington County is 27th in Minnesota to Be TB Accredited

Dr. Borreson Presents Certificate to County Auditor at C. C. Meeting

Marking what was termed a milestone in the campaign for control of tuberculosis in this area, Dr. Baldwin Borreson, superintendent of Oakland Park sanatorium, last Thursday evening presented to County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr, acting for the county board, a certificate of TB accreditation for Pennington county, signed by the president of the state medical association and Governor C. Elmer Anderson.

The certificate, which was presented at a dinner meeting of The Civic and Commerce association in the Elks club rooms, recognizes the fact that the TB death rate in Pennington county has fallen below a rate of 10 per 100,000, and that necessary requirements in the detection and prevention of the disease have been met.

At the same time Thomas Mulrooney of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association presented Dr. Borreson with a certificate of distinguished service from the association in tribute to his 18 years of faithful service as superintendent of the sanatorium and his field work in the four counties served by the institution.

In announcing that Pennington was the 27th county in Minnesota to be accredited, Mulrooney emphasized that while there has been a tremendous decline in the TB death rate in the past 40 years, the problem has not yet been licked. New cases, he said, are not declining in proportion.

In accepting the certificate presented to him, Dr. Borreson said that the county's excellent progress in the campaign against TB is due to the cooperation of all concerned. He added that, while patients at

Dr. O. F. Mellby Is Closing His Office Until Next Spring

Veteran Physician Plans to Resume Practice Then; Mrs. Ann Adey to Retire

Dr. O F. Mellby, practicing physician since 1901, including the past 46 years in Thief River Falls, announced this week that he is closing his office for the winter October 1 to give him an opportunity to recuperate further from a recent illness.

At the same time Mrs. Ann Adey, who has given efficient service as Dr. Mellby's secretary the past 25 years, revealed that she is retiring at the end of the month. She will leave October 3 for Syracuse, New York, in which vicinity two of her brothers and a sister reside. During her long period of service here, she has acquired a host of friends who will regret her departure.

Dr. Mellby, who hopes to resume his practice next spring, was honored in 1947 at a community party arranged by his many friends to commemorate 40 years of medical practice here, as well as his public spirited interest in local affairs. At that time tribute was paid to his services by Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota.

Construction at Hospital Doesn't Affect Patients

Administrator Reports Work Does Not Interfere with Care of Patients

Harold W. Peterson, administrator of Northwestern Hospital, states that the construction of the new hospital addition will not interfere in any way with the care of patients at Northwestern Hospital.

Outside of the brief use of jackhammers in breaking cement in the rear of the building, which is now complete for the year, it is not anticipated that the noise of construction will interfere with the comfort of the patients. Practicaly all of the patient rooms in Northwestern Hospital, Plant B, are in the area away from where construction is going on. Since the construction will be in reinforced concrete instead of steel, the noise in connection with the building is reduced to a minimum.

It is anticipated further that there will be no disturbance in the matter of continuous service to patients in the area served by the hospital throughout the whole period of construction. When the new addition is completed, possibly sometime next October, the operation of the present Northwestern Hospital Plant B, will be immediately transferred to the new hospital addition. The addition will include all of the ancillary facilities and as many hospital beds as exist in the present building.

New equipment and such items of usable equipment as are, in the present hospital Plant B will be then set up in the new addition. It is planned that the transfer of the equipment from the old Hospital Plant B and setting up of new equipment will be accomplished within the period of three days. This having been done, construction men will move in to remodel the present Hospital Plant B.

Plans for the final disposition of Mercy Hospital (Plant A) have not been determined at this time, said Peterson.

Council Turns over $100,000 to Hospital

Temporary Solution of Water Problem in North City Area Is Proposed

The city council at an adjourned session Tuesday evening voted to turn over to the Northwestern Hospital board $100,000 of the $200,000 proceeds of the bond issue approved by the voters during the past year to aid in financing the new hospital addition, work on which is now well under way.

The transfer was made following a request submitted by L. B. Hartz, president, and Judge Paul A. Lundgren in behalf of the board. They indicated that the remaining $100,000 will be required by January 10, 1954.

The matter of providing city water for residents in the area west of Main av. at the north edge of the city, not now served by water mains was discussed, and it was proposed as a temporary expedient that a small building with a tap be set up near Duluth av. and Twelfth st., and that users be charged a small fee for the service. The matter was referred to Harold Johnson, chief operator at the water plant, to obtain cost estimates.

The Red Lake Fuel Co., lowest of four bidders, was awarded the contract to supply about 500 tons of coal for municipal buildings this winter. The successful bid was on the basis of $19.05 for stoker coal, $18.30 for modified stoker and $17.30 for screenings.

No objectors appeared at a hearing held in connection with petitions for bituminous treatment of several streets in the north end of the city, and the projects were approved. Action, however, was deferred until October on a similar petition requesting treatment of Fourth st. from State to Kinney avs., objection having been made by [illegible] At the same time, petitions

LIBRARY NOTES

We, as workers in the public library, have had the feeling that it was the real community centre—a very good cross section at any rate. Creeds, class, race or nationality have no place in a public library. Even so, we were not aware until the other day that your Carnegie Public Library actually is in the exact centre of the city. Looking at a map to get information for a young man, we found that Main Avenue divided the city east and west. First street divides it north and south. It is at this junction that the library is located. It could not be better placed and no doubt is one reason why men make such good use of it. Mechanics and busy people hurry in, get what they want and leave without wasting much time.

Many people transacting business at the city Auditorium or at the court house are likely to stop at the library. It is not out of the way for students going or coming from school and even motorists stop now and then to settle a weighty argument or to spend time while waiting for some car repair.

This is all as it should be and makes for a useful, active library. We are told it is a friendly cheerful place and rather informal. Some tell us very frankly that it is very crowded and it is too bad that we have no children's room when there is so much need of it. It is honest criticism and we welcome it for we know it is only too true.

Some day we hope this may all be changed and there will be ample room as well as no steps to climb, either outside or inside of the building. This will permit lame people and even in wheel chairs to enjoy browsing among the books as they have done in years gone by.

We wish that time and space would permit mentioning a few of the interesting contacts we have had lately. We do feel that we want to tell of Peter Simonds of Ottawa, Canada who made us a pleasant call the other day and incidentally sold us his book, "Red Sepulchre". It is the story of men in the air force who were shot down while bombing Hamburg and is based on a diary of a Canadian Wing Commander written while they were prisoners in Germany and later with the Red Army while they were trying to escape thru Russia and eventually to the lend-lease port of Archangel. The writer of the diary, a member of R.M.P. was asked not to publish it as it might stir up too much feeling and embarrass the Canadian government at the time. Peter Simonds, a friend of the author, was permitted to publish it as fiction by changing the names. It is factual and of course most revealing.

We predict even mystery and detective story readers will accept this historical novel and realize that truth is usually stranger and more exciting than fiction.

I am taking a leave of absence but for the time being, at least, shall not be far away. It has been a pleasure to work with and for the many friends I have learned to know through the library and am happy to be able to turn it over to Miss Frances Shanahan who needs no introduction after many years of fine service. I know that you will continue to receive every courtesy and the same friendly welcome. She will have as her staff, Inga Thompson and Bertha Hastad as well as the assistance of Bert Larson who renders first class help in the rural school department aside from his regular work as janitor.

were received for blacktopping Fred Brandvold at a hearing September 15 on the ground that there is yet no curb and gutter on the south side of Fourth st.

Arnold av. from the Great Northern tracks to Sixth st., Riverside av. south from Highway 32 to the tourist park and Tindolph av. from Third st. to Taft st. They were referred to the street commissioner for a report.

The council approved payment, in the amount of $403.78, of a compromise settlement of taxes for the years 1946 to 1951 on the former Central school grounds owned by School District 18 but used by the city as a parking lot. The payment was viewed as rental for the property.

A communication was read from the Carnegie public library board stating that Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian, was taking an extended leave of absence, effective September 15, and that Miss Frances Shanahan had been appointed acting librarian.

The council voted to accept the proposal of Lystad & Redick of Grand Forks to conduct a rat extermination program here on a city-wide basis at a charge of $75 per month. The city has been paying the firm $25 a month for an extermination program at the city dump.

Council members discussed a resolution recently presented by the county board requesting a decision as to whether or not the council will consent to exchange a portion of the eastern half of the Block 38 park for the present court house site. The county board has expressed a preference for the location of the projected new court house on the park property.

No action was taken by the council. A motion to accept the proposal was made by Alderman Ed Christensen, but failed for lack of a second, as did a motion to reject the proposal, made by Alderman G. S. Bergland.

Ideas from other editors

From The Lincoln Times, Lincolnton, N. C.: We note that some of the television columnists are now complaining about the deluge of psychopathic crime being strewn about the nation's television screens. No doubt the average youngster, who goes in search of entertainment, in his living-room, see a lot of queer characters, and queer dramas enacted.

If he were to judge the nature of the outside world by what he sees on the television screen, he would probably conclude that more than half the population is in the category of alcoholics, in need of psychotherapy, or dealing in other vices, even worse than alcoholism. We have mentioned this industry failing on other occasions and think the general average of programming is not what it might be.

Perhaps one of the causes of the difficulty is that so many of the TV plays are produced in New York and Hollywood, centers of the fast-moving life which characterizes show business. The average youngster in Podunk lives in different surroundings and circumstances, and, therefore, would enjoy clean and typically American entertainment. We hope the sponsors—with whom the final responsibility lies—will exert sufficient pressure in the right places to raise the standards of their presentations to a more acceptable level.

Transplanting Peonies

The time to transplant peonies is late August or early in September. If you have a peony that is doing poorly because of competition from shrubs or shade from trees, it should be moved to a sunny location. If you have a choice variety and wish to increase it, now is the time to divide it.

* * * * *

Use a spading fork to lift the old clump. Dig all around the plant and loosen it from underneath. Shake off the loose dirt or wash the roots with water. With a sharp knife or spade divide the clump into sections. Each section should have a strong piece of root and from three to five eyes or "buds."

* * * * *

Since peonies grow in the same location for many years, it will be best to enrich the soil before planting. Dig a hole at least a foot deep and work in some organic matter and commercial fertilizer into the soil at the bottom of the hole. Cover this mixture with some soil so the roots will not come into direct contact with the fertilizer. Plant the division so the eyes are about two inches below the level of the soil. If deeper than this, the plant may fail to bloom. If nearer the surface, the buds may be injured by winter. Plant in a sunny location and away from tree roots and shrubs.

* * * * *

If you are putting in new plants from a nursery, follow the same recommendations as suggested above. Keep the plantings well watered to encourage new root development before winter sets in. If planting is delayed until late in the fall, mulch the ground before it freezes with straw or marsh hay.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper

A Slave Becomes a Brother.
Lesson for September 27: Philemon, verses 8-21.
Golden Text: Galatians 3: 28.

The lesson brings to our view an institution that began in antiquity and endured well into present times, with some traces of it still found in some parts of the world—slavery. It is true that laws have been enacted to suppress slavery in all the great nations of the world. But the main force in outlawing slavery has been the gospel of Christ.

Paul was a prisoner in Rome when he was visited by a runaway slave, named Onesimus, and the property of Philemon, a Christian of Colossae. It is possible that Paul had know Onesimus when be visited in the home of Philemon. The slave desired to return to his master. And Paul sent the letter, which has found a place in the New Testament, urging Philemon to pardon Onesimus and restore him to his place in the household. Whatever money loss the master had sustained through the flight of the slave, Paul offered to pay.

It was Paul's earnest request that the master should receive the the runaway, not only as a restored servant but as a brother beloved. In the answer to that exhortation, we can find the solution to all vexed problems in the association of men today. If men can be brothers in Christ, all problems can be solved in peace and love.

Kenny Foundation Pledged To Continue Fight Against Poliomyelitis Crippling

"A corps of 100 Kenny Therapists has already been trained to administer the Kenny treatment as originated by the late Sister Elizabeth Kenny—a team that multiplies 100-fold the benefits accruing to poliomyelitis victims.

Prevent Polio Crippling! SISTER KENNY FOUNDATION

"Sister Kenny, before her death at her home in Toowoomba, Australia, November 30, 1952, repeatedly encouraged the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation to expand with the assistance of a generous public and to continue to spread her work. We promised Sister Kenny on her last visit to Minneapolis, Minn., to continue to carry on her work through the medium of the Sister Kenny Foundation. The board of directors and officers are dedicated to this purpose and will see that her desires are fulfilled."

In paying tribute to the late Australian nurse, Marvin L. Kline, executive director of the Kenny Foundation, with national offices in Minneapolis, gave this assurance that her fight against polio crippling will be carried on and expanded.

"Providing the full Kenny treatment to polio patients at no charge upon referral to a Kenny facility and the training of Kenny Therapists who administer the Kenny treatment under medical supervision continue to be among primary aims of the Kenny Foundation," Kline said.

Other means by which the Kenny Foundation is perpetuating the late Sister Kenny's work, as pointed out by Kline, include making possible the study of the Kenny treatment by medical personnel through grants of fellowships in accredited medical schools, providing facilities for physicians to observe polio cases in the acute stages, financing and conducting medical seminars for and by medical men in the study of the Kenny treatment, making available of facilities and funds for clinical research and the conduct of its own research and distributing to the general public of information relative to the Kenny concept of polio and the value of the Kenny treatment.

"In the comparatively few years since the late Sister Kenny first demonstrated her treatment to medical men in Minneapolis, the Kenny Foundation has achieved good progress towards making the full Kenny treatment available to polio victims in this country," Kline emphasized. "As the Kenny Foundation expands so will the benefits to polio victims multiply."

Give generously to the 1953 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation polio appeal. Remember, the Kenny Foundation has no source of revenue to carry on and expand the late Sister Kenny's fight against polio crippling other than public contributions.

Local Man Elected at Minneapolis Last Week

J. M. Roche of this city, who served during the past year as temporary president of the Midwest Shrine Oriental Band association, was elected secretary-treasurer of the association at its annual meeting last weekend in Minneapolis, altho he was unable to be present.

The local Oriental band, about 30 strong, boarded a special train from Winnipeg here last Thursday, bound for the conclave in Minneapolis. The group was very much in evidence during its two-day stay there, making numerous appearances.

An estimated 300 local citizens were at the Soo depot Thursday to greet the Canadian delegation on its arrival here. The Khartoum Temple pipers of Winnipeg entertained the crowd with a demonstration on the depot platform during the 15-minute stop.

Judge Chommie Addresses Lions on Americanism

Municipal Judge H. O. Chommie gave a talk in connection with the observance of Americanism Week at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe.

He said the people lack faith in American institutions and democracy, due to the fact that they have been subjected to a propaganda of fear. He added that with no oppression in this country, there is no danger of a revolution here.

The business session of the club was devoted to a discussion of final arrangements for the Lions benefit rummage sale, which was scheduled for Friday in the arena.

New Solum 4-H Club

The New Solum 4-H planned an outdoor meeting and wiener roast for this last meeting of the 4-H year but because of rain it was held at the Rosebank school Thursday, Sept. 17 at 8 p. m.

Business meeting consisted of the election of new officers. Those elected were: President, Larry Kron; vice president, Elaine Hellquist; secretary, Marilyn Hellquist; treasurer, Jerry Sabo; adult leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kron.

Marge Olson showed the Style Revue film and a Safety movie.—Elaine Hellquist, reporter.

Steiner 4-H Club

The Steiner 4-H club held its monthly meeting on Friday evening.

The program consisted of talks on the state fair by the following: Elden Moe, Lyle Haagenson, Jackie Anderson, Arlen Solem and Jerry Hunt. A song by three 4-H girls, a demonstration by Richard Jorde on making a rope halter for a calf. Marge Olson led in singing and showed movies. Lunch was served by J. Rodahl and E. Anderson.—Inga Vatsaas, reporter.

The Bray 4-H Club will sponsor a roller skating party Friday, Sept. 25 at the arena. All 4-H members are invited.

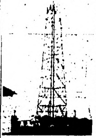
Radio Tower Going Up



The highway patrol tower now nearing completion, and which, when finished, will reach 300 feet into the sky, was at the 200 feet level last week when this picture was taken. After construction is completed the tower will receive two coats of paint, the second providing the red and white stripes.

Below is a close-up of the four steeplejacks who are doing the upstairs work (that's them at the top in the tower picture) in the tower construction. They say "there is nothing to it and we feel safer up there than on the ground."

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Last week I concluded a vacation swing through the East, with stops in New York, Washington, and Chicago. On the run, but talking politics here and there, I was impressed by the deep concern that political leaders in both major parties are expressing over the internal affairs of their respective organizations.

Officially the Republican leadership insists that the new administration is working like a "team"—no discords, no frictions, no factionalism. And the Democrats at their Chicago clambake worked hard to unite the warring North and South wings.

But not far under the surface the elements of discord in both parties are obvious to even the casual observer. The Republicans are facing a serious internal cleavage over the direction of our foreign policy, and the Democrats, while more or less agreed on foreign policy, are as deeply divided as ever over some basic domestic questions in particular the matter of civil rights legislation.

Concern Over 'Ike'

President Eisenhower is a powerful unifying force for the Republicans. The internationalist-minded Republicans are still convinced that the President will continue to press for the kind of program that will commit the United States to a reasonable program of supporting our allies, but here and there one hears expressions of doubt that Eisenhower has taken a firm enough grip on the reins.

On the other hand those Republicans who emphasize the necessity for a reduction in expenditures are generally pleased, and so the President continues to enjoy strong support from both elements of the Party. But the honeymoon is about to end, if it hasn't already, and the voices of criticism seem to be growing.

Some leaders feel that Eisenhower has not asserted himself enough personally, that he has delegated too much of his authority, with the result that the Presidency has become weakened, and at a moment when strong Presidential leadership may be extremely necessary in order to protect our position in the world.

Grooming for 1954

One hears much talk about the 1954 elections. Republicans are devoting their full energies in an effort to make sure that they retain control of both houses of Congress. Democrats talk confidently of winning back at least the House and possibly the Senate.

There are some Democrats, however, who privately assert that they are not so sure they want the Democratic Party to take over part or all of Congress. They operate on the theory that the Republicans should have full responsibility for this administration and that, if the Democrats hold a portion of the power, the Party may be made to suffer as a scapegoat for anything that goes wrong or for a stalemate if one should develop.

On the other hand, the responsible Democratic leadership takes the position—which former President Truman strongly supported in Chicago—that the Party must make every effort to win in '54 as a prelude to a Presidential victory in '56.

Talk About '56 Already

The last Presidential election is not a year old yet, and there is already a good deal of talk about '56—mostly Democratic, of course, because Eisenhower's renomination is assumed. Adlai Stevenson, the '52 nominee, is far and away the overwhelming choice of the Democrats, as shown in the polls and as revealed by his reception in Chicago, but there are powerful forces ready to make a fight against his getting the nomination.

Southern leaders are not too enthusiastic about Stevenson, although most of them have made no declaration on the subject. But the Dixiecrat element have strong influence in the Party and the "center" group of conservative Democrats an even more powerful position, and between them they could checkmate Stevenson or any other Northern liberal.

U. S. Employees in Stew

In Washington there are two main topics of conversation: (1) The operations of Senator McCarthy, and (2) the plight of the federal employees. Civil service employees are going thru a rather painful period of readjustment. There have been many lay-offs and cutbacks in personnel force.

Under the rather complicated civil service regulations it is possible for an employee of longer service and higher rank to "bump" those with less seniority. This is leading to a good deal of confusion and uncertainty, and morale of government workers is regarded as at low ebb.

McCarthy continues to command much attention, although the general impression is that his power and influence are waning. But each new attack brings more headlines and more jumpiness on the part of administrators.

Next Session Crucial

All observers of the national political scene are agreed that the second session of the 83rd Congress, opening in January, will be the crucial period for the Republican administration, especially if they control both houses. What happens in this session may very likely determine the future role of the GOP for many years. As of this period the politicians feel that both parties are marking time, with the big questions facing some form of resolution next year.

U. S. production of coke last year was four times that of England, and twice as much as the estimated Russian production.

EGG PRODUCERS

Now is the time to replace your old type nests with the new automatic rollaway nests

The NEW ROLLAWAY NESTS should be placed in the range house or laying house before the pullets come into full production. The best time for old hens is at moulting time.

ROLLAWAY NESTS cost no more per hen than the old type nests and will repay their cost many times over by reducing egg and grade losses from dirty eggs, egg cleaning labor, breakage, egg eating and quality loss.

See the latest in automatic nests, automatic trough type waterers and other hen house equipment now on display in our hatchery show room.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

No Allowance This Week!

Most parents feel that children learn the value of money through having an allowance to handle for themselves. Although there are many viewpoints as to how large the amount should be at various ages, and as to the degree of freedom the child should be permitted in spending it, there is general agreement as to the usefulness of helping the child "learn through doing" in this important area.

Many people, however, run into difficulty in deciding how to discipline children, selecting suitable punishments for child errors of action, and in the attempt to hit upon a punishment which will really affect the child, decide to deprive him of his allowance. There are two major mistakes of thinking which enter into this decision.

First, if the child's behavior calling for punishment has been a mistake in spending the money, this really means that he has not yet learned how to handle it well. To take away his allowance, as a punishment, deprives him of the opportunity to learn a better way of handling it. This procedure overlooks the importance of experience as a basis for learning. If a child misbehaves in school, parents would hesitate and think twice before forbidding him to attend school because he had been naughty there.

Secondly, if the child's behavior which is to be punished has no direct relationship to money, depriving him of his allowance in order to punish him for being late to supper is a rather illogical procedure. It would be more sensible to deprive him of his supper! If a child is to learn sound values, parent behavior should provide good examples of sound values in action. To confuse the value of money with the value of social consideration and the need of a family to follow a reasonable schedule is to run the risk of indocrinating the child with some false ideas as to what money can do.

Surely it is wiser for the child to experiment with small amounts of money, at first, gradually increasing both the amount and the things it is expected to cover, and view the mistakes as part of the learning process, than to try to use withholding the allowance as a punishment device.

The Air Pollution Control Association has given national attention to the fact that smoke can be largely eliminated if fuels are burned properly.

Reclaimed Land

The South has about 188 billion tons of mineable coal reserves, about 6 times the amount used in the U. S. in the past century and a half.

Charging Prowlers Defeat RLF 34 to 0; Play at EGF Friday

A hard-charging line and a set of quick-breaking backs proved to be the combination that gave coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers a 34 to 0 win over a highly regarded Red Lake Falls eleven in a 31st district football game played here on Friday night.

From all indications, the district football title will be "on the line" this week when the Prowlers meet coach Harold Sullivan's East Grand Forks squad at East Grand Forks on Friday night. In last season's game between the two clubs, the Green Wave scored a 30 to 7 win over the Prowlers, and coach Sullivan has seven of the players that started against the locals last year returning for this season's play.

The trend of Friday night's tussle between the Prowlers and coach Darold King's Eagles was set in the opening minutes of play. The Prowlers, defending the east goal, received the kickoff. A backfield in motion penalty set the locals back five yards, Bob Helgeland gained three yards at right tackle, a pass was incomplete, and Lyle Guttu added seven yards at left tackle. On fourth down, Sid Vraa lofted a poor kick, which was covered by the Eagles on the Prowlers' 27-yard line.

Ken Bombardier, on a sweep of right end, was thrown for an eight-yard loss; on a try at left tackle, Bombardier, on a fumble, lost 4 yards; and on an attempt to skirt right end, Bombardier lost 2 yards. A fourth down pass attempt was knocked down, giving the locals possession on their own 39-yard line.

Four consecutive first downs carried to the Red Lake Falls' 3-yard stripe. An off-side penalty moved the locals back to the 8-yard line. Vraa picked up 3 yards on a sneak; Helgeland nudged right tackle for a yard; on third down, Helgeland, taking a lateral from Vraa, circled left for the opening touchdown. Vraa, attempting to add the point, was smeared behind the line of scrimmage.

Neil Aase recovered a Red Lake Falls fumble on the Eagles' 20-yard line to set up the Prowlers' second td early in the second quarter. After Vraa had lost 3 yards on a fumble, Helgeland, taking a lateral from Vraa, moved out around left end to the Eagles' 6-yard stripe. Guttu made a yard at right guard; a Prowler off-side set the locals back to the 10-yard line. Vraa, on a hard run, scored on a left-end sweep. A pass, Vraa to Art Johnson added the conversion point, giving the locals a 13 to 0 lead at the intermission.

Red Lake Falls, held to a minus yardage from scrimmage in the first half, opened the second half by receiving the kickoff and, on two first downs, moved from their own 32-yard line to the Prowler 33-yard line, where a fumble, recovered by Mark Bjorkman, stopped the drive. The Prowlers, operating smoothly from their split T formation, moved down the field to score in seven plays, with Guttu slicing through left tackle on a seven-yard td run. Vraa's pass to Darold Dalton was completed for the extra point.

The Prowlers boosted their point total by racking up a pair of touchdowns in the fourth quarter, with fullback Dick Kruse blasting over left tackle for six-pointer midway in the period, and Ray Berg, on a five-yard sprint, adding the final a short while later. Vraa placekicked the point after Kruse's td, and Jack Quesnell picked up the point after Berg's tally by squeezing through center.

During the game, the Prowlers gained 315 yards from scrimmage, getting 280 yards by rushing and completing two passes for 35 yards, and racking up 17 first downs. The Eagles, meanwhile, gained 64 yards from scrimmage, with 24 yards gained by rushing and completing two out of eleven aerials for 40 yards.

Legion Changes Its Meeting Date

The regular meeting of Eklund-Holmstrom Post 117 was held Monday evening. It was decided that, beginning with the October meeting, the meeting night will be changed from the third Monday to the first Tuesday of each month. The November meeting will be on the third Monday as in the past. Movies on Korea were shown through the courtesy of the National Guard. Plans were made to hold a businessmen's stag dinner October 6.

Company F News Items

The National Guard recruit drive got into full swing in Thief River Falls the past week as window displays and posters were put up and members made personal contacts with potential recruits. At monday's meeting it was brought out that Thief River Falls at one time had one of the largest Guard units in the state.

Capt. Oven also stated that a local armory was almost a certainty, largely because of the existence of a National Guard unit in Thief River Falls. So far the recruit drive has brought in one new member. He is Sgt. Robert L. Tollefson, a former member, who will take over the duties of supply Sgt.

Korean combat pictures were obtained and shown for the American Legion. Any organization wanting any films of this kind is asked to contact Mr. Bundy at the Guard office or call 644.

A burial and drill Squad has been organized by Company F to handle all military funerals and parades. New recruits will be eligible for this squad.

Starting on Saturday a radio disc jockey program will be put on by the local unit with Pvt. Marvin Jorde as disc jockey. The time for the program is from 5 to 5:30 p. m. over KTRF. Be sure to listen. Also be sure to watch for window displays uptown. There is one at the S & L store now and others coming up.

The public is invited to any Guard meeting. Meeting time is every Monday from 8:00 to 10:00 P. M. Lunch was served after Mondays meeting by courtesy of Don Olson of KTRF.

Vic Jung Wins Shortstop by Taking Harney

Tourney Held Sunday under Damp Weather Conditions; 6 Fights

Vic Jung, carding a par three on the eight hole to gain a 1-up margin, defeated Willmar's Lloyd Harney to win the annual autumn shortstop golf tournament played here on Sunday. The tournament, which was played in cold and blustery weather and with intermittent rain squalls handicapping the players, attracted six flights of golfers.

Jung, in winning the championship flight award, defeated Grand Forks' Herman Allen in a first round match, and then bested Stan Larson in the semi-finals. Harney, a member of the local club last year but now a resident of Willmar, defeated Crookston's Don Steenerson in a first round match.

In a semi-finals match, Harney eliminated Grand Forks' Cliff Yagla. Crookston's Bob Snyder won the championship flight consolation prize by defeating club-mate Don Steenerson.

The local club's Frank Tunberg won the first flight honors by edging out Harry Braff of Cass Lake in a finals match that carried over to an extra hole.

The championship flight finals card:

Four 4-H Clubbers Win Trips to Show

To Go to Junior Stock Show in South St. Paul

Four Pennington county 4-H'ers were awarded trips to the Junior Livestock Show in South St. Paul at the market show held Thursday afternoon, September 17, at the fair grounds.

Winners in the beef, market lamb, and barrow division were also awarded a beautiful trophy presented by the Civic and Commerce association. J. M. Roche, secretary, made the presentation to Audrey Sorenson of St. Hilaire, winner in the market lamb division, Robert Dahl of New Solum with his beef steer, and Robert Swanson of Sanders who showed the champion barrow, a purebred Yorkshire.

These 4-H'ers and Donald Brieland, a member of the Katka club, who was named the poultry winner, will attend the Junior Livestock Show October 4-8.

Edward Peterson Supplies Rotary Program Monday

Reserve Lieut. Edward Peterson, U. S. Navy, supplied an interesting program at the Rotary club luncheon Monday noon in the Elks club rooms. Recently discharged from the Navy after completing a round-the-world cruise on the destroyer Cushing, he showed an excellent collection of colored slides of historic spots he visited in the course of the tour, and also supplied a commentary.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Will Try Again

The once-postponed annual meeting of the city's senior hockey organization will be held on Thursday night, Sept. 24th, in the Civic & Commerce room at the Auditorium. President Bill LaFave will call the meeting to order at 8:00 p. m., and he hopes that a large crowd of hockey fans will be in attendance.

The prime purpose of the gathering will be to elect a staff of officers for the coming year, and president LaFave stated that everyone in attendance at the meeting will be eligible to vote. The group will also select a delegate to represent the local club at the Northwest Hockey league meeting, which has been scheduled for Oct. 24th.

Thursday night's meeting will give the local fans an opportunity to check into the operation of the Thieves. They'll learn where the money comes from, and, more importantly, where it goes. President Bill states that the meeting will give the fans a chance to air their gripes and grievances, and make suggestions for the improvement of the club and the league.

The date is Sept. 24th, the place is the Civic & Commerce room, and all talk will be about hockey.

Most Valuable of the Thieves

The Thieves baseball team, champions of the Red River Valley league and their officers, enjoyed a turkey supper at the golf club on Saturday night.

Club president Cliff Bjorkman lauded the boys on their accomplishments during the season, and added that their record in winning the title in their first year of play in the Red River Valley loop was a boost for the city's junior and midget baseball program.

In poll taken of the Thieves players, right-hander Gene Leslie was named as the club's most valuable player. Gene, playing his first year with the local club, provided the Thieves with some sturdy pitching, and on offense the right-hander was always a homerun threat. Gene well-deserved the honor that his team-mates bestowed on him on Saturday night.

Saturday night's gathering also selected a committee to investigate the possibilities of providing the city with an adequate ball park. Named to the committee were Ole Ekeren, Gunder Grovum, Len Goulet, Elmer Poole, Derwood Lund, and Phil LeGault.

Field & Stream

The weatherman, by his actions during the weekend, proved to be the state's most able game conservationist. He certainly dampened the enthusiasm of the upland game-bird hunters as they opened the 1953 season on Saturday day-break.

The hunters who had the ambition and the perseverance to beat the thickets and rumble through the popple brush, were able to get sharptails. There were a number of limit bags reported on Saturday, with the hunters that "worked" the east country, around Goodridge, in particular, being the most successful.

While Saturday's hunting was fair the reports of Sunday's shooting was poor to worse. About the only group that had any luck (and they didn't call it luck) was Bob and Clarence Mattson, Frank Riley, Ken Borsheim and Ray "Swede" Mattson. They bagged fifteen sharptails while hunting the Strathcona area. The fact they had such excellent shooting was due to Swede Mattson's expert guiding, for he was the fellow that directed the maneuvers and planned the campaign.

Game warden Jerry Liemandt stated that there appears to be a considerable number of sharptails, but that the heavy foliage and inclement weather prevented the hunters from having too much success. He reported, too, that the ruffed grouse hunting was much slower than last year's opening.

While the hunters were grousing and grumbling about their luck or lack of luck, the city's anglers were having a "bingo" week. Horst Wartenberg, casting a Bass-master lure into the pool below the dam, hooked and landed a 10¼-pound northern. And on the following evening, while trolling the Thief river, Kenny Rustad, using a dare-devil spoon, caught a 15-pound northern pike. Kenny made the catch a couple of bends up-river from the Squaw Point bridge, and he had several nervous moments before they brought the big pike into the landing net. Those two fish are the best that have been taken out of the river here lately.

The Game of the Year

As far as district football competition is concerned, the Prowlers vs. Green Wave game at East Grand Forks on Friday night, will be the game-of-the-year. Coach Snooks Sullivan's East Siders, with an all-veteran lineup, has been installed as the favorite, but coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers, by their surprising 34 to 0 win over Red Lake Falls last Friday night, have reduced the odds by plenty.

The Prowlers had remarkable success with their outside stuff against Red Lake Falls, with Bob Helgeland, Sid Vraa, and Lyle Guttu picking up yardage around the ends. East Side, with Kent Larson and Orv Hodge at the ends, and Phil Johnson and Kent Froseth at the tackles, is reported as a strong defensive club. Incidentally, that Kent Froseth is a son of Chuck Froseth who played a lot of football for the Prowlers back in the late 20's.

Woman Penalized for Defrauding in unemployment pay

Mrs. Ferne M. Bruggeman of rural Thief River Falls pleaded guilty in municipal court September 21 to a charge of having illegally collected unemployment compensation benefits.

Mrs. Bruggeman was brought before Judge H. O. Chommie on complaint of R. S. Eldevik, manager of the local office of the state employment service, who charged that the defendant collected a total of $244 in unemployment benefits during a twelve week period, from February 28, 1953, through May 21, 1953, when she was not available for or seeking employment. It was brought out that she had failed to return to her regular employer in February of 1953, when so requested by a company department head.

Judge Chommie pronounced sentence of 30 days in jail, suspended on condition that the entire amount illegally drawn be refunded to the department of employment within 90 days.

Throngs at Warren's Livestock Day Hear Address by REA Chief

"We intend to see that generating facilities are available to farmers wherever necessary from the standpoint of getting power and from the standpoint of giving them bargaining power that will assure them of reasonable rates," Ancher Nelsen, national REA administrator told a large crowd at the Warren Livestock Day Saturday.

Nelson, former Lieutenant governor of Minnesota, was principal speaker for the annual event featuring 4-H livestock from the western Marshall county area.

Thirty-eight calves were entered according to County Agent Frank Forbes. Two parades were staged during the day. The Warren, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls school bands appeared in the main parade, with the Thief River Falls Bridgeman Halfpints staging a show in the evening.

REA is still making loans, but is scrutinizing each loan carefully with an eye to the future of the co-ops involved, Nelsen stated.

Development of the rural telephone field is much more difficult than in power as there is not the dollar income present in the electrification side, he added.

He stressed the point the national REA has no desire to become entangled in the local affairs of member co-ops and closed with the comment that "big government can be as disastrous as big business."

Nelsen was introduced by Victor Edman of Alvarado, president of PKM of Warren and Minnkota Power Co-operative of Grand Forks.

In the livestock show, a major part of the day's events, Mylo Carlson of Angus won the award for the most improvement in a calf financed through the program of the Warren Chamber of Commerce which backs selected 4-H members in purchasing calves.

Larry Kresl of the Northland Club of Angus showed the best calf in the event with Rodney Carlson of Warren second and Orlin Ostby of Grygla, third.

Kenneth Poolman of Warren, won a Holstein heifer calf, in an award presented annually by the Chamber of Commerce.

Advice Given to Self-employed Who Plan on Retiring

Social Security Agent at Grand Forks Asks Those Concerned to Contact Him

Self-employed persons over age 65 who have retired during 1953, or expect to retire before January 1954 would do well to consult with their social security office before the end of September, according to Walter D. Kistler Manager of the Grand Forks social security office.

In some cases, Kistler indicated, a delay in filing an application until the last three months of the year may result in somewhat lower monthly old-age insurance payments. But, he emphasized, the problem is limited to only a few of the self-employed persons retiring this year, and does not at all affect individuals who intend to continue operating their businesses after this year.

Social security payments are tied in to the individual's average monthly earnings over the years since 1950 when social security coverage was extended to the self-employed. Average earnings are figured by dividing the total earnings covered by social security by the number of months elapsing after 1950.

Since, under the law, earnings from self-employment are reported and counted only once a year — after the individual has filed his income tax return — the 1953 earnings of a self-employed person filing this year cannot be counted in figuring his average earnings.

If application is made before the end of September, the situation is eased somewhat by the fact that under the law a period of up to six months before the calendar quarter in which the application is filed may be ignored in the calculation of average earnings. This means that the individual's total net income from self-employment for the two calendar years, 1951 and 1952, will be divided by a corresponding 24 months.

If application is filed after September, however, the same total net income in most cases must be divided by 27 months. Therefore, Mr. Kistler suggests that self-employed persons who have retired this year or who plan to retire before January visit the Grand Forks social security office before the end of this month. Members of his staff will be glad, Mr. Kistler said, to discuss with each the advantages of his filing during this month or waiting until later.

U. S. Fire Losses Near Billion Mark

Total Losses for 1953 Hit All-time Record

The National Board of Fire Underwriters reported today that fire losses in the United States for the third consecutive year are at an all-time dollar high and for the first time in history are expected to reach—if not break thru—the billion dollar mark by the end of the calendar year.

The report was made by Lewis A. Vincent, general manager, in connection with Fire Prevention Week activities to be conducted in communities throughout the nation, October 4-10. Fire Prevention Week is an annual observance designed to focus public attention on the ever-present need for fire safety and protection at the local level.

According to Mr. Vincent, the nation's staggering fire losses are the result of over a million fires of all sizes—small ones in rubbish to the large spectacular fires that occur annually in the U. S. In addition, nearly half of them occur in the home. The loss of 11,000 lives annually as a result of fires, many of which are due to carelessness, he said, makes it essential that everyone recognize the importance of ordinary safety measures.

WE NEED TO BE INFORMED

Thief River Falls is within "reasonable transmission distance" from federal power generating points on the Missouri River. This cheerful news was included in a statement issued by Secretary of the Interior last week, defining the limit of the area in which power generated in the Missouri basin will be distributed as it becomes available. Contracts containing provisions for service for periods of up to 20 years will be offered, he said.

We know that power from this source is not going to be available in the near future, but it is sufficiently certain to justify consideration in our long time planning. It could mean a completely new approach to management, operation and equipment problems of our municipal plant. This development is another reason why a thorough study of our municipal power operation is desirable.

The suggestion that a citizen's committee be selected for this purpose is a good one. A committee informed both on local needs and general area developments could be very helpful in guiding us thru a period of change that seems to be inevitable. We need to be currently and reliably informed in this field in order that we may adjust ourselves to any favorable factors that may develop.

NOT AN EASY CHOICE

Labor leader Walter Reuther tells us it is dangerous and reckless to talk of a possible depression. We have the know-how, he says, to provide ourselves with sufficient purchasing power to balance our productive power. "If we have the capacity to create full employment making weapons of war, we must also—create full employment making good things for people in peace-time."

We would like to be able to go along with Reuther in this utopian approach to a problem that causes many of us considerable concern. We do not like depressions either. They deflate values and make us poor. Inflation, with its spiraling values, is more fun. Inflation makes many of us richer, without effort on our part.

It is easy to go along with Reuther and agree that in theory, it would be possible to maintain a balanced economy in which the ups and downs of the economic cycles could be leveled off and the adjustments made less sudden and less disastrous. We are sure however that the fine theory will never work out satisfactorily in practice as long as we humans are as we are.

It won't work because too many of us, like Reuther, are not willing to take a firm stand against inflation. A few sips of the delightful but deceitful liquor of inflation is sufficient to break down all resistance, and good sense goes out the window.

It won't work because government is controlled by politicians. The questions of policy raised by Reuther's statement are decided as popularity contests and not by cold, calculated and dull reason.

A depression is the other side of an inflation peak. In order to maintain a state in which there are no sharp declines we must guard against the steep inclines. When the Reuthers will use their powers to curb inflation we will have made substantial progress in the direction of controlled deflation.

The Reuthers fail to take into consideration the fact that the prosperity he would make perpetual has been a false prosperity maintained by borrowing. We have borrowed ourselves temporarily rich. We cannot continue forever to live beyond our means, shifting to a future generation the unpleasant responsibility of paying our debts.

There is nothing to be gained now by crying over what has been done. And there is something to be said in favor of the cheerful outlook toward the future. We know that, somehow, we are going to get along. We have the farms and the factories and the natural resources and the know-how to produce. And we will continue to produce, most of the time abundantly. The future is not hopeless.

But to continue to be foolish, to continue to follow blindly a course that already has led us far afield, would be inexcusable. When we know that the farther we stray from sound practices the more exhausting will be the return to solvency and sane management then certainly it is time to stop and take our bearings.

We probably can work ourselves out of the present unsound condition without a disastrous depression, but we cannot do it without sacrifice. Whether we wish it or not, there will be return to sound practices. There always is, and this we have learned time and again, in our personal as well as our public affairs, the hard way.

Perhaps it is not yet too late for us to make a choice as to how we will make the adjustment that is ahead of us. We may still have the choice of an orderly and directed adjustment rather than an explosive bust of our inflation balloon. And the Reuthers can do much to help us escape the bust by helping to stop the continuing demands for more inflation gas in the already overexpanded bubble.

In fairness to the Reuthers, their's is not the sole responsibility either for what has happened or what will happen. Business and labor and industry and banking and all of us share in that responsibility, past as well as present. We all have been too eager for the easy dollar and the result is that we now have a fifty-cent dollar.

As another political campaign gets under way we are going to hear a great deal about these questions. We are going to have many promises and much buncombe. We are going to be offered many sips out of the inflation bottle. The choice is not going to be an easy one.

A round of cheers for the top brass and the buck privates of the army that has carried on an effective war on tuberculosis in Pennington county over a period of many years. The fact that Pennington is now one of 26 counties in the state in which sufficient progress has been made in the control of the disease to meet the requirements of accreditation is a victory that should bring satisfaction to all of us, including Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer. Our county is a better county in which to live because of the success of this control program. Dr. Baldwin Borreson, front line fighter in this war since 1935, has been a patient but persistant leader. From all of us to him, a sincere thank you.

Teacher Migration

Members of school boards and others interested in education have been reaching out to other states in the hope of attracting teachers for Minnesota schools. F. R. Adams, director of the division of teacher personnel in our state department of education, reports that 750 teachers from points outside of Minnesota have applied for certificates to teach in Minnesota this school year, and virtually all have taken jobs, it is believed. Largest numbers of applicants have come from Minnesota's neighboring states, 163 from Wisconsin, 162 from Wisconsin, 162 from Iowa, 55 from Illinois, 84 from South Dakota and 140 from North Dakota.

Applications for Minnesota's teacher's licenses have come from as many as 34 states. Some have come from Canada and England. Other applications have come from Germany, France, Peru, Poland and Sweden.

But all is not gain when teachers start migrating. Director Adams says that many Minnesota teachers have gone to other states, that Minnesota probably loses about as many teachers as it gains in the interchange of teachers.

Tax Delinquency Cut

G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner, gave me a report the other day which pictures the striking reduction in tax delinquency which has taken place in Minnesota. Conditions have so improved that tax collectors now are able to collect more than 98% of the taxes levied. For example, of the levies of $230,417,619 made on property in the state in 1951, there were delinquencies of only $4,052,020 on January 1st, 1953, or only 1.76% of the total.

Back in the thirties, many taxpayers found it much more difficult to get their property taxes paid, and delinquency ran much higher. Of the levies of $115,715,797 made on property in Minnesota in 1932, there were delinquencies of $23,355,808 on January 1st, 1934, or 20.18% of the total. In other words, tax collectors could collect only about 80% of the levies made on property.

Howard enclosed a map which showed the extent of tax delinquency in all counties, as it existed on January 1st, 1953. Eleven counties had 5% or more delinquency: Cook, Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Beltrami, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Hubbard, Cass, Crow Wing, Aitkin and Pine. Twenty counties had from 2 to 5% delinquency: Lake, Koochiching, Marshall, Polk Pennington, Red Lake, Clay, Otter Tail, Wadena, Todd, Morrison, Mille Lacs, Kanabec, Isanti, Anoka, Sherburne, Kandiyohi, Chisago, and Washington. All the other counties, 56 in all, had less than 2%.

Sunday at 2:00 p. m. marked a long remembered day for those that gathered at the Seventh Day Adventist Church for the dedication service of their welfare center that is just on the west of the church building. We were happy to have the Middle River school band with us and they gave us a few selections before the program began.

Mr. Dyer, a representative of the welfare office in Warren reminded us that they had certain rules they had to abide by, as to length of residing, etc. before they could help the needy, while the Dorcas could go right out to help. He cited a few instances where they had notified the Dorcas of some needs and they were able to help while the welfare office could not.

Mrs. W. B. Thompson gave a response, a pledge from the Dorcas sisters that they would be glad to be of service at any time.

A trio now portrayed in song some of the work of the Dorcas ladies was given.

Elder E. F. Fink of St. Paul was the next speaker. His remarks were centered around Matt. 25 where Jesus said, "In as much as ye did it not unto the least of these ye did it not unto me."

Mrs. Ralph Julius of Wadena, who is president of the Wing River Dorcas Federation of which Middle River is a part, gave a few comments on the progress of our work and complimented the small company of Middle River for launching out in doing more work for the needy.

Elder Orvill Reese of Minneapolis, who has charge of four states in health and welfare work gave us a talk and told us some experiences of Dorcas work in other places. His remarks made us realize that to make a success of our work we must have the Love of Christ in our hearts before we can have love for our fellow men.

Eld. Maurice Monks, of Thief River Falls favored us with a piano solo, "At the Cross."

Mayor Stardig gave a few words of welcome to such an organization in this community and promised his support.

Eld. Reese beautifully sang as a benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

The audience then moved out to where the Dorcas building stands. There Mayor Stardig cut the ribbon for the official opening of our work of mercy in this village and community. Eld. Fink offered the dedicatory prayer.

The door was opened and a hot drink for those that wished and a fruit drink for others with cookies were served the guests that came in to look over the building.

The Dorcas ladies now invite any of you to come help us with our work, be it by giving old clothing, bedding for burned out families or any financial help you feel you would like to give.

You can contact Mrs. W. B. Thompson (Dorcas president) at Ann's Rest Home at any time.

Phone your local item to the Times before it is forgotten.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all for the expressions of kindness and sympathy shown to us during the illness and passing of our daughter and sister, Arlinda Jane. Also thanks to Pastors Folden, Myhrer, Hermison, and Lindholm for their part in the memorial service, and all others who shared in the service. Also to the Ladies Aid of the Newfolden Free Church for serving the lunch. For the many memorial gifts in her memory, we are indeed grateful. We also want to thank the Green-Collins Funeral Home for the special services rendered and consideration given. May the Lord bless you all.—Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Vick, David, Dorothy and Marilee. 38c

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS, BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINN.

September 8, 1953

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of County Commissioners met at the Office of the County Auditor at 9:30 A. M., September 8, 1953.

Members present: Olson, Hanson, Lindberg, Anderson and Tase. All present.

The minutes of the meetings of August 4, 12, 18th and 25th read and approved as read.

Commissioner Hanson offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas, the District Court of Pennington County, Minnesota, did on the 3rd day of April 1951 appoint Joseph Seidel as engineer to make a preliminary survey upon the Petition of the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County, Minnesota, dated March 8, 1951, for the construction of additional outlets of said Judicial Ditch Systems; and,

WHEREAS, said engineer has made his preliminary survey and filed a preliminary report thereon, wherein said engineer has made the following findings and recommendations, to-wit:

1. That the establishment of an additional outlet ditch along the line proposed by the petition was not economically feasible.

2. That the natural drainage from approximately 15 miles east and four miles north from the intersection of Trunk Highway Number 1 with the west boundary line of the Red Lake Indian Reservation is southwesterly into the Red Lake River; that by reason of obstructions much of these waters are diverted in a northwesterly direction into Judicial Ditch No. 13, filling the same to capacity, causing excess flows over agricultural lands in Pennington and Marshall Counties west and north of the Indian Reservation.

3. That it is feasible and practicable to construct an off-take ditch along the east boundary of Pennington County from the Marshall County line to the Red Lake River to intercept waters originating in the Indian Reservation; that such proposed off-take ditch would intercept approximately 270 cubic feet per second; that such additional outlet ditch would benefit Judicial Ditches 13, 18 and 30 and prevent the flooding of adjacent farm lands.

4. That if said off-take ditch is constructed Judicial Ditches 13, 18 and 30 could be made serviceable through widening and repairing; and,

WHEREAS, it has been made to appear that Judicial Ditch No. 30 would be materially benefited by the construction of said outlet ditch; and,

WHEREAS, it appears feasible that further survey should be made to determine the capacity and condition of Judicial Ditches Numbers 13, 18 and 30;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Chairman of the County Board and the County Auditor of Pennington County be and the same hereby are authorized to prepare and file an amended petition herein praying for

1. That the proposed outlet ditch be established at or near the east boundary of Pennington County in conformity with the recommendations of the engineer herein.

2. That the petition [illegible] as to include the lands comprising Judicial [illegible]

3. That a preliminary survey be made as to the condition, capacity and state of repair of Judicial Ditches 13, 18 and 30.

4. That save as herein modified and amended [illegible] herein shall remain in full force and effect.

The foregoing resolution was seconded by Commissioner Olson and on roll call declared unanimously carried.

A Petition was filed by Manuel Hude, Herbert O. Gudie et al, for Improvement of County Ditch No. 45 by addition of a lateral ditch commencing at the Southwest corner of Section 3, T153N, R41W, being the upper terminus of the present County Ditch No. 45; thence Easterly along the South section line of Section 2, T153N, R41W, a distance of one (1) mile to the Southeast corner of said Section 2, and there terminating.

Rudolph M. Stolen of St. Paul was appointed to fill the position formerly held by Lavon J. Sumption as assistant animal husbandman. He took over his duties on July 1. Mr. Stolen is well known in the Red River Valley as he served as county agricultural agent in East Polk county for a number of years. Mr. Stolen left county agent work in 1945 to serve as director of public relations for Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc. In 1946, he became manager of the herd improvement division of Land O'Lakes.

Robert L. Singelstad has been appointed as successor to Mrs. Jean Kjorlie Miller as instructor in sophomore English, debating, and play production. Mr. Singelstad, whose home is at Emmons, Minnesota, graduated from Waldorf Junior College, Forest City, Iowa, in 1950, and received his bachelor of arts degree at Concordia College, Moorhead, in 1953.

Miss Mary Joan Croal of Fargo, North Dakota, has been appointed to succeed Miss Shirley Peterson as instructor in piano and assistant in vocal music. Miss Croal graduated from Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota, where she received her bachelor of arts degree in Music in 1953.

In his undergraduate training, Mr. Nystrom spent one year at the University of North Dakota and completed his work for his bachelor of science degree at the University of Minnesota, College of Agriculture, graduating with distinction" in 1953.

Miss Dolores Hesch of Pierz, Minnesota, has been appointed as school nurse and instructor to succeed Mrs. Shirley Dalager Westacott. Miss Hesch completed her subcollegiate training at the St. Francis High School, Little Falls. She graduated as a registered nurse from the St. Gabriel's School of Nursing in August 1952. During the past two summer sessions, she has taken graduate courses in public health nursing at the University of Minnesota.

Other members of the teaching staff will include H. W. Soderburg, Wm. Barton, A. M. Foker, O. C. Soine, E. N. Reiersgord, H. D. Fausch, A. W. Pilkey, B. C. Indian Affairs Commissioner on Visit to Red Lake

Glenn Emmons Confers with Tribal Leaders of Chippewa Band Thursday

The new commissioner of Indian affairs conferred with leaders of the Red Lake band of Chippewas at Red Lake Thursday on Indian problems.

Commissioner Glenn L. Emmons, with several Indian bureau officials, is inspecting many of the nation's reservations.

Emmons told the general council of the Red Lake band that he has no sympathy for "second-class citizenship" for Indians.

He said his bureau would continue to transfer responsibilities in health, education, welfare and similar fields wherever possible to agencies normally providing these services for other citizens.

Peter Graves, one of the chief spokesmen for the council, told Emmons he strongly opposed recent congress action ending controls on liquor sale to Indians.

Such control, Graves said, should not have come "for at least another 25 years," He did not state reasons for his opposition.

Chief August King asked that accumulated profits from the reservation's commercial fishery and saw mill be released by congress in the form of a per capita payment to the Indians.

School Opening Brings out Bikes on Highways

The opening of another school year brings with it the usual seasonal influx of youthful bicycle riders on main-travelled streets and highways, according to Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, who today sounded a warning to both bike riders and motorists and urged them to observe several simple rules to help avoid accidents.

"Motorists should assume the greatest share of responsibility for the safety of youthful bicycle riders," he stated. "Young cyclists lack riding experience and are not completely familiar with traffic and safety rules often do things which experienced cyclists and motorists know are wrong and dangerous. It is therefore up to every motorist to slow down when approaching a bicycle being ridden on a street or highway in order that he can stop in time to avoid an accident."

Rohweder pointed out that 122 bicycle accidents were reported during the first six months of this year, with personal injuries sustained in all but three accidents. Fortunately, no deaths resulted from these mishaps.

Less Vandalism in State Parks

Vandalism in Minnesota State Parks has reached an all time low since the inauguration of the sticker law, Minnesota state park managers are happily convinced. In previous years, upturned tables, smashed benches, shattered windows, broken and stolen water pumps and a variety of other damage were reported each week during the park season. "Since there has been an admittance charge to the parks not one case of vandalism has been reported," U. W. Hella, state park director said. Park officials also note that little if any pilfering has been reported since the $1.00 sticker law went into effect.

Ruling on Potato Culling Topic at Stephen Sept. 24

University Farm Men to Discuss Objectives of Cull Regulation Plan

A meeting of importance to all potato growers in Marshall and Kittson counties will be held at Stephen on Thursday evening, September 24 at 8:00 p. m. in the filtration plant building according to Marshall county agent, Frank Forbes.

A. J. Tolaas and O. C. Turnquist from St. Paul will be at the meeting to discuss the purpose of the cull regulation and to report on the recent hearing held at East Grand Forks.

All questions regarding the marketing of potatoes under such a regulation will be discussed, and a referendum will follow on September 28, 29, 30 and October 1, at which time all potato producers will have a chance to vote for or against the regulation.

The regulation will affect the movement of cull potatoes out of eleven counties in the Red River Valley in Minnesota. It was brought out at the hearing in East Grand Forks that such a regulation, along with the advertising program being put into effect, should strengthen the price of Red River Valley potatoes. North Dakota growers have such a regulation in effect.

Truck Roadeo in St. Paul Sept. 26

60 Driving Champions to Compete at Fair Grounds

The spotlight of the nation's safety leaders will focus on the Minnesota state fairgrounds in St. Paul on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26, when the National Truck Roadeo of the American Trucking associations and the U. S. Air Force's National Motor Vehicle Roadeo will be staged before a grandstand audience.

The safe driving show, which starts at 1:00 p. m., is free to the public, and Lester A. Wilsey, President of the Minnesota Motor Transport association, state affiliate of ATA, and host to the national events, has extended an invitation to Minnesotans to witness this unusual national event. The finals will be held after three days of elimination contests.

Sponsored annually by the American Trucking associations, the 1953 national contest will display the driving skills of sixty truck driving champions from 19 states. The competition is divided into three classes, depending on the type of vehicle the driver operates: straight truck; single-axle semi-trailer; and tandem-axle semi-trailer.

Danger of Hunting Fatalities Is Cited

If records of the past five years are repeated during the four game seasons this fall, there will be about 14 hunters killed and 77 suffer injuries Stafford King, chairman of the Minnesota water and hunting safety section predicted today.

Records for the 1950-52 grouse seasons show that an average of three hunters met death each year. There were ten deaths and 38 injuries for the three years.

The duck season which opens October 3rd will possibly result in three deaths and 14 injuries. During the last five seasons, 1948-1952, there were 14 duck hunters killed and 71 injured.

On the average two pheasant hunters have been killed and 28 injured for the five seasons 1948-1952. The greatest number killed while pheasant hunting was in 1949 when four met death and 47 were injured.

The deer season for firearms will open November 14. If the average is carried into the 1953 season, there will be six deaths and 22 injuries. The 1952 season recorded 24 injuries and 11 deaths but the 1946 season, not included in the five year summary, resulted in 12 deaths and 18 injuries. Four out of five injuries or deaths during the deer season are caused by other hunters. Of the total firearm injuries and deaths, at least two out of three are caused by others.

Miscellaneous gun accidents reported for the first eight months of 1953 total eight deaths and 29 injuries. Shotgun accidents resulted in four deaths and six injuries while .22 guns caused four deaths and 23 injuries. Of the 22 gun accidents, young people under 21 years of age suffered three deaths and 21 injuries. The gun accidents occurred while shooting rats, rabbits, tin cans, crows, gophers and black birds and a few during target practice. Careless gun handling, falls and ricochets resulted in the injuries and deaths.

"This is the statistical record of our hunting fatalities in the state of Minnesota. We can't afford to gamble with the safety of our boys and girls any longer," said Stafford King. "We must inaugurate a program of safety instruction in our public schools to more effectively promote safety in handling firearms and in hunting in the field."

Training Urged to Reduce Farm Tractor Deaths

U. S. Records 700 Deaths and 25,000 Non-fatal Accidents Last Year

Just one person is to blame when a serious accident occurs on a farm, according to a bulletin issued by the Minnesota State Medical association today. Safety education aimed at the individual farmer and his family appears to be the only way to cut down the alarming number of accidental deaths on the farm.

Last year there were 700 deaths and 25,000 non-fatal accidents involving farm wheel tractors alone, according to the bulletin. More than half of these accidents resulted from overturned tractors and 16 per cent were the result of falls. Futhermore, in spite of the fact that tractors are usually on the highways only a short time, more than one third of the accidents occurred on the highway.

One aspect of this serious situation is stressed especially by the doctors, today. Nearly half of all the fatalities in Minnesota last year were among children and young people under 20.

When farmers' sons are allowed to run any farm machinery, but especially tractors, they should be carefully trained and instructed. The fact that tractors move slowly does not make them safe for anybody to drive who can manipulate a steering wheel, as the tractor accident toll clearly indicates.

A 30-Year Dream Coming True!

He used to stand on the curb in front of his father's house—and watch the Cadillacs sweep majestically by—carrying fine ladies and gentlemen on happy excursions.

That's when the dream started in his heart—and refused to leave.

Six times, before today, he has signed his name to an application for a motor car title—and, on every occasion, he knew it was a compromise.

But not this time! He is taking the keys to a beautiful 1953 Cadillac—and his 30-year-old dream is coming true.

And what a fulfillment it will be, as he rolls out into the highway and takes the longest way home!

First of all, he'll get those quick glances of approval which tell him the dream he dreamed for so many years is still in the hearts of others.

And then the car's great performance will begin to unfold itself.

Silence—almost complete silence—just the soft sound of the wind slipping by . . . the quickest, easiest response to the accelerator he has ever imagined . . . steadiness and roadability and handling ease that remove all but the merest effort from managing the car.

And, oh, what marvelous comfort! It's like sitting in the easiest chair conceivable—and moving smoothly and effortlessly through space.

And then, almost before he knows it, he'll be home—and in the driveway—with the family rushing out with the final voice of confirmation.

Man—this was worth waiting and working for!

• • •

And, of course, the years and the miles will add their proof as to the wisdom of his choice: dependability—long life—economy of upkeep and operation—and unusual resale value.

Yes, there is every practical reason for owning a Cadillac—as well as every personal one.

Better come in and see us today. It's probably easier than you think to make your dream of Cadillac ownership come true.

NEWEST TACONITE DRYER

TACONITE WORKER Louis Piersig tests this big new filter at an experimental processing plant near Mountain Iron. The machine will be used to remove excess water from powder-fine taconite concentrates—one of the last steps in a complicated and costly process. Next the ore will be formed into nodules or pellets for shipment to the blast furnaces. With reserves of good ore decreasing, Minnesota's iron mining industry is speeding the development of taconite and low-grade ore processing—operations which can employ more Minnesotans than ever before. Tomorrow, with more workers needed, the prosperity of the iron ranges can become even greater. And there will be still more benefits for the entire state.

They're all talking "best deal in town"

BUT WHO'S GOT IT?

Are you really sure that the car dealer who gives you "the best deal in town" really gives you the best BUY in town?

As you well know, the best BUYS are based on value.

Because value lasts longer than any other quality—and, in automobiles, that means longer motoring pleasure, greater safety, lower upkeep, and a better trade-in allowance later on.

"The Buy of the Year!"

The new Packard CLIPPER has made news all year long as "the buy of the year." Way back last winter, the "insiders"—men of recognized automotive experience and instinct—tagged the CLIPPER as the car of the year in the medium-price field. A real, old-time PACKARD value.

You know very well that you never bought an automobile right off the printed page. You bought it ONLY after a demonstration when features either come to life or amount to nothing.

So we urge you: before you take that "best deal in town" . . . take a demonstration in the new Packard CLIPPER and value-check the features with which we challenge all other cars!

We challenge them all on a value check of the following points

Famous Packard Ultramatic†, designed and built by Packard for Packard CLIPPER—the smoothest power shifting of all—no whish, no whirrrr, no jerk, no jump.

Famous Packard CLIPPER back-saver seats.

Did you know that you can own a new Packard CLIPPER for as little as

Club Sedan Delivered in Thief River Falls

*Plus state and local taxes, if any. Optional equipment, including white sidewall tires, extra. Prices may vary slightly in nearby communities due to shipping charges.

New word for GETAWAY "TT" DYNAFLOW*!

The comments we've been getting from many new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow are terrific.

And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific.

It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response.

It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up.

It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all.

But the sweetest thing of all about TT Dynaflow is its smoothness.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery.

You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gearshifting takes place, either manually or automatically.

Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness?

We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, won't you?

Family Habit

The nighthawk has a habit of "buzzing" his mate, as she sits on her eggs. He does this by darting down upon her from a considerable distance and then sweeping upward with a loud booming noise.

Real American

The pronghorn, commonly called an antelope, is not an antelope. It belongs to a separate family and has no relations. It is the most truly American mammal known.

National Polio Group Asks Aid of Chapters

Unforseeable expenses brought about by rapid advances in polio research have left the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis short of funds despite the unprecedented success of the 1953 March of Dimes drive, President Basil O'Connor revealed in a recent letter seeking help from 3,100 chapter chairmen.

Explaining the present financial crisis, Mr. O'Connor said, "We were well aware when we began the year 1953 that we were faced with a carry-over case load of unprecedented size. We did not know, however, that in the course of events we would have to spend $3,500,000 for gamma globulin and nearly one-half million dollars for field trials of a possible vaccine—field trials whose certainty is now apparent."

Mr. O'Connor pointed out that the extra $8,000,000 needed this year to support and further scientific control of polio had to be drawn from the National Foundation's epidemic aid fund. In addition, more than $8,000,000 from the fund was pressed into service by mid-August to provide emergency aid to chapters in polio-stricken areas.

The epidemic aid fund as well as the research and educational programs maintained by the National Foundation are supported by 50 per cent of the receipts collected in the March of Dimes. Chapters keep the remaining 50 per cent to meet local polio expenses and, in emergencies, to supplement the national epidemic aid fund.

Mr. O'Connor in his letter called upon all chapters in areas relatively free of polio to share with headquarters at least 50 per cent of their surplus funds. He said that without this chapter help, there is very real danger that the National Foundation will have to curtail its research program and financial aid to patients who cannot pay polio treatment costs unaided.

Roseau Woman in Group Honored by Horticulturists

Eleven Minnesota gardeners were honored Friday for outstanding contributions to horticulture at a Minnesota State Horticultural Society banquet held in the armory in Faribault, in connection with the organization's 87th annual convention.

Honorary life memberships were given to Leon C. Snyder, head of the horticulture department at the University of Minnesota, and to Mrs. Sprague Gee, Minneapolis.

Dr. Snyder was cited for outstanding effort in the promotion of horticulture and the gathering and disseminating of horticultural information. Mrs. Gee was honored for her long service in the promotion of many phases of gardening and garden organization work.

Awards of merit went to nine members: including, among others, Mrs. Louise Wenner, Roseau. They were honored for their leadership in garden club work and community improvement and for their service in the promotion of gardening.

Fredric March, Cameron Mitchell and Terry Moore, three of the stars of "Man on a Tightrope," topical thriller coming to the Falls Theatre Wednesday for 4 days are captured in an important scene from the picture, which also stars Gloria Grahame and features Adolphe Menjou.

Highway Study Commission Plans Public Hearings

State and Local Public Officials Are Invited to Attend October Meeting

The executive committee of the Minnesota highway study commission met recently in the state capitol and decided to hold public hearings to discuss state, county, township, and municipality highway problems.

An October meeting (date to be announced) is scheduled in the Auditorium of the State Office Building, St. Paul. Representatives of state and local governments and governmental organizations will be invited. Highway users will be invited to a November meeting at the same place.

The twenty-eight members of the highway study commission will attend both public hearings to obtain first-hand views of the many highway problems confronting the state. These hearings will also enable the urban people to hear and understand the highway problems of the rural people and vice versa.

Senator A. O. Sletvold, Detroit Lakes, chairman of the commission, stated that plans will be made to hold two-day meetings each month to accommodate the large representation expected. He will announce the dates of the meetings as soon as all arrangements have been completed.

The 1953 legislative enactment which established the highway study commission requires that the commission shall submit a report to the State by March 15, 1954. The complete report on highway needs will not be available, however, until October of next year. The commission is requesting full cooperation of all state and local highway officials to obtain complete factual information for the study.

County's Share in USO Supplied thru Community Chest

USO Provides Education and Entertainment for U. S. Military Forces

People in Minnesota will be asked this fall to subscribe $387,276 as their share of the USO-United Defense Fund national quota to support USO and other defense related activities in 1953.

A statewide organization for subscription of USO-UDF funds is being perfected by Chairman Josiah E. Brill of Minneapolis.

Community Chests in various parts of the state, including Pennington county, are including USO-UDF in their fall campaigns.

The USO program is providing recreation, entertainment and education for the country's military forces. Troops will remain in Korea for months to come, as well as other parts of the world, and it is during this trying period of inactivity that the USO will be needed more than ever before, to aid in maintaining the morale of the men and women who are not fortunate enough to be among those returned to this country and their families.

Game Violations Net $1,628 Fines

Arrests for game and fish law violations during the month of August totalled 64, with a total of $1,626 in fines plus $19.50 in costs paid. Total for the same period last year was 58 arrests resulting in $1,545.00 in fines plus $37.20 in costs. Violations included the following: fishing, 29; minnows, 7; small game, 6; big game, 5; hunting and carrying guns in game refuges, 5; wild rice, 4; netting, 3; set up guns, 3; and polluting state waters, 2.

Half of Traffic Accidents Occur at Intersections

Highway Department Reports on Record for First 6 Months of 1953

Almost half of the 25,505 accidents reported during the first six months of this year occurred at intersections on Minnesota's streets and highways, according to the semi-annual report issued by the Minnesota highway department. The tabulation reveals that 12,320 fatal and non-fatal mishaps were reported as having taken place at intersections.

A total of 22 fatal accidents of this type were reported, while 2,273 resulted in personal injuries and the remaining 10,025 caused property damage in sufficient degree to be reported under the state's traffic laws.

Although there were 10 times as many accidents of this type at urban intersections as at rural locations, there were two more fatal accidents at the latter type of location than at the urban. The break-down of these accidents shows there were 11,274 intersection accidents at urban locations, with 10 of them fatal, 1,010 resulting in injuries and 9,354 in property damage. There were 1,046 rural intersection accidents, but 12 of them were fatal, 363 resulted in injuries and 671 in property damage.

"The great number of these accidents," according to Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, "indicates that here is one aspect of driving which requires the personal attention of every motorist. The highway department's figures show that too many accidents are occurring at intersections, many of which are protected by stop signs or traffic lights. It would seem that there is no excuse for two vehicles to collide at such locations."

The chief reason for these 12,320 intersection accidents, in the opinion of Rohweder, is lack of common courtesy and caution. If every motorist would be less greedy as to his driving "rights," and be more eager to prevent an accident, this type of accident could be reduced to but a fraction of its present volume.

Sen. Humphrey Is Karlstad Speaker

Bridgeman Half-pints Appear at Potato Day

If government aid to agriculture is a "subsidy," then America's great free enterprise business economy is far more "subsidized" than the farmers, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey declared Saturday in addresses at two community celebrations in northern Minnesota.

Speaking at Kittson county's annual "Potato Day" in Karlstad at noon and later at the Polk county "Barley Day" festivities in McIntosh during the evening, Senator Humphrey quoted from an official analysis released by the bureau of the budget to show that business, not agriculture, collects the heaviest share of government "subsidies."

"It may come as a surprise to many, but almost every economic group in our country receives some special aid from the federal government, paid out of general tax revenues," Senator Humphrey said.

Lime or Blast Furnace Slag?

There hasn't been much difference between lime and blast furnace slag on hay fields on acid fields at the University's Northeast Experiment Station at Duluth. That word comes from Ralph Grant, Superintendent of the Station. Five years of tests show that both lime and slag gave substantial increases on the first, second and third year hay crops and that the legume contents of the hay was largest when adequate amounts of lime and slag were applied.

• • •

Fall Fertilization Successful

Yields of corn, oats, and hay were almost the same for fall-as spring fertilization, a series of experiments made by both the University of Minnesota and Iowa State College indicate.

• • •

Beef and the Land

The University of Minnesota is conducting one of the most extensive experiments in the nation on raising beef on pasture.

The experiment is being conducted at the University's Experiment Station at Rosemount. Such things as the effect of fertilizer on pasture and resulting beef gains, the effect of different pasture mixtures on gains, etc. are being studied. Minnesotans can see the results for themselves at the first Beef-grassland Field Day to be held at Rosemount, Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Minnesotan in National Contest

Bob Schwartau of Goodhue County, who won second place in the state contour plowing contest at "Plowville" last year may represent Minnesota this year at the 1953 National Contour Plowing Contest to be held September 18 and 19 at Augusta, Wisconsin, near Eau Claire. Schwartau's entry is considered likely because the 1953 state contour plowing contest will not be held until after the national contour contest in Wisconsin.

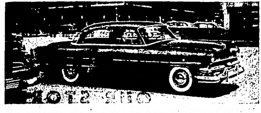
Ford's America's best buy any way you look at it!
With 41 "Worth More" features it's worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!



Every day, hundreds of folks experience a special kind of thrill for the very first time. They're taking '53 Fords out for that important sizing we call a Test Drive.
What's so special about that first ride in a Ford? Well, you get a lift the moment you slip behind the wheel, sink down on the foam rubber seat and look through Ford's one-piece windshield, curved just enough to flatter the car's looks, yet wide enough to let you see the whole countryside.
But the special thrill is the "kick" you get as you gently nudge the accelerator and feel the engine take hold. You're moving now, yet you barely feel any motion. You're moving faster, yet you have to listen to hear the engine. It's just about at this point that folks discover how much they like the '53 Ford.
YOUR CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX: Only Ford in its field offers you both a V-8 and Six . . . a choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional. And no matter which Ford engine you choose, you get the gas-savings of Ford's Automatic Power Pilot . . . high-compression GO on "regular."
FRONT-END ROAD SHOCK REDUCED UP TO 80%! Ford's new spring and shock absorber action makes even roughest roads carpet smooth. Wide front tread helps take this out of turns. Ford offers America's newest power steering, too. And for less money than any other in Ford's field.

The group of men were lined up with a certain distance between each one and walking along, expecting at any moment to see some game and hoping for a shot. Henfred had strayed into some brush so wasn't noticed when some chickens flew up over his head. A shot was fired by one in the group and several pellets struck Henfred in the face and head. Two pellets plowed through his left cheek, entering his mouth and those he spit out at once. One entered the top of his head and two more entered his right cheek and a few bruised his legs. He was taken to the Karlstad doctor where x-rays were taken, the pellets removed and the wounds attended to. Henfred said the sensation when struck was very disturbing, he just didn't know what would happen next, if he'd fall down, pass out or what. "Friend Indeed" Pays $1,156.65

Mrs. Madaline Kolar, 662 Huron Street, SE., Minneapolis, certainly found out the meaning of the phrase "a friend indeed" when she was hospitalized recently.

A fractured hip sent Mrs. Kolar to the hospital where her bill for the care she needed amounted to $1,181.65. Mrs. Kolar says, "Blue Cross covered every single cent of this except for the $25 deductible."

Protected under her Blue Cross $25 Deductible Plan, all Mrs. Kolar's room and board costs, plus the important vital hospital services she needed were paid in full. She says, "When I looked at my hospital bill, I was amazed to see that well over half the bill was for extra hospital services such as laboratory services and drugs. My Blue Cross contract," she says, "covered each of them for the full amount.

"Blue Cross was right there when I needed them most," Mrs. Kolar continues. "Believe me, I wouldn't be without Blue Cross ever." Detailed, free information on the non-profit Blue Cross and Blue Shield health care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-10, 2610 University Avenue, St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do. There is no obligation.

GOOD NEIGHBORS CONTINUE GOOD DEEDS

It took 31 tractor-equipped neighbors less than two hours to plow something over 60 acres on the Fred Stryker farm near Prinsburg; he is convalescing from critical illness.—Steve Griak, New Duluth, thinks maybe Diogenes can douse the lantern—he met a chap in Superior who dug into his pocket, pulled out a dollar, and paid off a loan made more than 10 years ago.—Fellow employees in a Karlstad cafe did the best they could to free Alice Bogestad with minimum discomfort when Alice became an unusual prisoner—she reached into a deep freezer with wet hands, and there she stuck.—Seven neighbors equipped with tractors of the same make and the same year, helped Andrew Vlaminck, a newcomer to the Ivanhoe neighborhood, with his fall plowing.

Oyster Sex

It was only recently discovered that through electronic methods the sex of an American oyster could be determined. It is a scientific fact that they change sex from time to time.

Birth of A Blue

The discovery of the method of producing Prussian Blue—one of the two blues most widely used today in the tinting of paints—was first made in Germany in 1704.

'53 Community Chest Drive to Open Oct.

The 1953 Pennington county Community Chest campaign will get under way in the business district of Thief River Falls next Monday morning, October 5, following a kickoff breakfast at 8 o'clock in the Rex Cafe, it was announced today.

Objective of the campaign is to raise a total of $12,134 for the support of seven participating agencies. The quota is slightly higher than that of a year ago. Local residents are being asked to contribute the equivalent of one day's pay to the Chest fund.

Preliminary arrangements for the drive have been made by Neil McElwee, president of the Community Chest organization, and Mrs. M. R. Levorson, secretary.

The campaign in the rural areas of the county and residential districts of Thief River Falls will open the following Monday, October 12, it was announced. In charge of the rural drive are Clarence Peterson of Goodridge and Vernon Lindquist of St. Hilaire, while the residential drive will be under the direction of Mrs. Frank Hardisty and Miss JoAnn Wedul.

Those wishing to contact the Community Chest headquarters in the Civic and Commerce office may call telephone No. 471. A huge thermometer will be set up on the Tunberg Motor Co. corner to indicate the progress of the drive.

Agencies receiving financial support from the Community Chest include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Sister Kenny Foundation, Minnesota Heart association, the USO and the Children's Home society. Each of these agencies would conduct a separate fund drive, were it not for the existence of the Community Chest.

Immanuel Church in Plummer Will Form Own Parish

Decision Is Reached at Congregational Meeting

At a special meeting on Sept. 23, Immanuel Lutheran congregation in Plummer voted to become a separate parish next June 1st.

This church has for many years been a part of Oklee Lutheran parish and has been served by a pastor from Oklee. With the advent of the new parish, the pastor will reside in Plummer and will thus be able to do more direct work in the congregation.

Immanuel church has made a remarkable growth in the last few years and the need of a resident pastor is keenly felt. Tentative plans for the building of a parsonage were discussed and a campaign for raising the necessary funds will soon be underway.

In 1949 an extensive remodeling of the church was completed, consisting of a full basement being put under the church, a new heating plant installed and various other minor details. A new organ was installed in 1951 and last spring the basement was painted by the ladies of the congregation.

T. H. 32 Plot as Site of Armory Given Support

Head of State Armory Commission Indicates Preference for Site

The tract on Highway 32 at Arnold av. S. purchased from the city some years ago by the old Mercy Hospital association, and intended to be used as the location for a new hospital, will be eminently satisfactory as a site for the projected new armory, provided it is properly developed.

This news was contained in a letter received last Thursday by Mayor Harry E. Simons from Major General J. E. Nelson, Minnesota adjutant general and chairman of the state armory commission.

At a meeting of the city council last week, L. B. Hartz, president, and Judge Paul A. Lundgren, member of the Northwestern Hospital board of trustees, had expressed their opinion that the board would be willing to deed the property back to the city, now that it has no further use for the tract.

It is anticipated that the local armory commission will support Gen. Nelson's position at a meeting of the City council this evening (Wednesday).

Nelson stated that a report from Bettenberg, Townsend & Stolte, St. Paul architects and engineers, had confirmed his conclusion that the proposed site is satisfactory. This, he said is subject to the development by the city of streets, curbs and sidewalks on the Arnold and Emily av. frontages. He also asked for a plat and topographical survey of the property.

In his letter to Mayor Simons, Nelson wrote, "In view of circumstances which have developed in the past ten days, I am hopeful that we may be in the very near future substantially able to accelerate our National Guard armory building program, and it is for this reason that I wish to have the Thief River Falls site definitely firmed up at the earliest possible date."

Man, Wife and Baby and Another Woman, all from Grand Forks Are Victims

In a tragic automobile-train collision at a crossing near the Plummer depot Sunday afternoon at 1:15, four persons were instantly killed, including three members of a Grand Forks family and the wife of an air force serviceman stationed at Rapid City, S. D.

Dead are Russell Johnson, 23, of Grand Forks; his wife Vera, age 19, and eight-months old daughter Debra Jean; and Mrs. Edward Coward, 19, of Rapid City, who had been visiting relatives in Grand Forks.

Orphaned by the crash was David, 2½-year-old son of the Johnson, who had spent the night with an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Lee of rural Plummer. At the time of the accident, the boy's parents, who had spent Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eiza Leckrons, in Plummer, were driving east out of Plummer to pick up their son before returning to Grand Forks.

At the time of the collision, the car was traveling at moderate speed, and the Soo Line short work train approached the crossing at the rate of about 30 miles an hour, at the same time blowing its whistle to warn the approaching car.

Altho there is a clear view of the track at the crossing, the car failed to stop and was hit squarely by the front end of the locomotive, which carried the car for a distance of 1700 feet down the track. Mrs. Coward's body remained in the car, the others being thrown out and strewn along the track. The bodies were brought to Thief River Falls in the Gulbranson ambulance.

Engineer on the train was Chris Klopp, while the fireman was Hilary Stoltman and conductor was C. A. Booren, all of Thief River Falls.

Funeral rites for the three members of the Johnson family will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from Immanuel Lutheran church at Plummer, with the Rev. J. M. Runestrand officiating, and interment will be in the Plummer cemetery.

Mr. Johnson had been employed at the Northern Farm and Home Supply in Grand Forks, as head of the firm's plumbing and heating department for about three years.

State VFW Opens Drive for 'U' M. Cancer Institute

Thief River Falls Post Plans to Stage Fish Fry October 8 as First Effort

The Veterans of Foreign Wars today announced selection of 12 noon today, as the official kick-off time for their campaign to raise $450,000 for a cancer research clinical institute on the Minneapolis campus of the University of Minnesota.

Designed to be a living memorial to the dead of American Wars, the institute will be constructed entirely through funds raised by the Minnesota department of VFW and its more than 600 posts and auxiliaries.

The announcement was made by Harlan Huseth of the local VFW Post 2793, who reported that his post and the ladies auxiliary, No. 2793 jointly will sponsor a fish fry Thursday evening, Oct. 8 to get the campaign off to a rousing start in this community.

Upon completion of the institute, the University of Minnesota has agreed to staff and maintain it as one of the key units in its cancer research program. The institute will be, at the time of its completion, probably the only one of its kind in the entire Midwest, providing badly-needed facilities for the exhaustive study of cancer in human patients, as well as for intensive care and treatment of the patients.

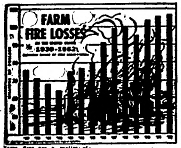
Oct. 4 to 10 Devoted to Fire Prevention



Farm fires are a matter of grave concern to the nation. Each year they cost 3,000 lives and destroy over $100 million in property—in 1952, $133 million—much of it important food supplies.

Commenting on these statistics, the National Board of Fire Underwriters is urging farmers to devote Fire Prevention Week October 4-10 to eliminate fire hazards on their farms.

The board pointed out several factors which increase the threat of fire on the farm. First, the farm may be in an isolated area where the fire department cannot reach it quickly. Second, the modern farm uses quantities of machinery, for which gasoline must be stored on the premises, creating a double hazard. Third, there are frequently frame buildings holding tons of hay and straw—two extremely combustible substances.

There are two main aspects to farm fire prevention. The first begins in the planning stages before the farm is built, or when new buildings are added. Spacing and construction of buildings are very important. In general, 150 feet between buildings is considered sufficient for safety. If possible, prevailing winds should blow across a hypothetical line connecting house and barn.

Because lack of water is a serious danger, every farm should have a pond within pumping distance of buildings, if possible. Soil conservation Service specifications will assure the pond's usefulness to the firefighters.

In addition to building fire safety into the farm, every phase of the farm's operation must be carried out with the danger of fire in mind. Cardinal safety rule is that heat, sparks or flames (actual or potential) and combustibles like hay, straw or gasoline do not mix. Keep plenty of space between them.

Lightning is another prime cause of farm fires; therefore, a correctly installed and maintained lightning protection system is extremely important. The completed installation should carry the master label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

I am one of the farmers who has posted his farm with "No Hunting" signs this year, and this is the first year I have done this. I haven't done it before because I like to hunt too and, like other hunters, I don't like "No Hunting" signs. I was forced to do it this year in self defense.

I had to take this action to protect my uncut flax field. On the opening day five hunters and a dog went through that field and I went to town and bought signs. Their thoughtlessness cost me real dollars.

Most hunters are good sportsmen and respect the rights of others. There are a few who have no regard for the rights of others. Because I have to protect myself from them I have to spoil the fun for those who would be very welcome on my fields.

If we are to have good hunting conditions in this country the sportsmen must work with the farmer and not against him. Few farmers will object to hunters on their property if they know who the hunters are and are assured that gates will not be left open and property will not be destroyed. Give the farmer a reasonable break Mr. Hunter and he'll give you a break.

—A Farmer who is also a hunter.

Editor, The Times:

The Gatzke Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses arranged for the use of the Viking Town Hall, Sept. 27 for the public talk to be given by the traveling evangelist, Mr. J. D. Wengert.

After the Bible lecture, entitled, "Happiness in a World of Gloom" had been advertised week long throughout the area, the verbal agreement which had granted them use of the hall was retracted just a few hours before the sermon was scheduled to be given. Those responsible for this action gave as their reason their objections to the witnesses religion and relious beliefs.

The witnesses then resorted to the only means open to them under the circumstances—they met on the front lawn of the hall from which they had been barred. Mr. Wengert gave his address speaking from the front porch, with an audience of 43 assembled on the grass before him. The strange sight of this sidewalk meeting attracted considerable attention from passer-by, prompting several cars to stop and listen in. Mr. Wengert is scheduled to visit with the Thief River Falls congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses next week and will deliver the same sermon locally.—Carlyle Mugaas, Gatzke, Minn.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should contact Leo. L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota

Q: I took a physical examination for insurance purposes, and I was rated as totally and permanently disabled. Will VA accept this rating, if I apply for a pension?

A: No. Your insurance rating has no effect on your rating for a pension. You must meet the specific requirements set up for eligibility for a pension.

Q: I receive VA compensation payments for a 10 percent service-connected disability. I expect to be recalled to active military duty. Will my disability pay go on while I'm in uniform?

A: No. Compensation which you have been receiving because of your service-connected disability may not be paid while you're in receipt of active service pay.

Q: I notice that under the Korean GI Bill veterans may not take courses in dancing. I'm planning to study physical education in college, and one of the courses I'm supposed to take is in dancing. Will I have to skip this course?

A: No. You will be permitted to take it, under the Korean GI Bill. The restriction on dancing courses does not apply when they are part of a program of physical education at the college level, leading to an educational objective.

Q. I am a widow of a World War II veteran, and I am receiving National Service Life Insurance payments. Are those payments taxable?

A: No. National Service Life Insurance payments are exempt from taxation. But you will be required to pay taxes on any property that you might buy with those payments.

Q: I'm drawing a pension for a total and permanent nonservice-connected disability. Would that entitle me to training under Public Law 16? I am a World War II veteran.

A: It would not. The law requires a veteran to have a compensable service-connected disability, in order to be eligible for Public Law 16 training. There are other requirements he must meet, as well.

Football

Fans are watching the football scene with eagle eyes. At the moment, there doesn't seem to be much of a shuffle in the first ten teams from last year. In case you have forgotten they ranked in this order: Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Southern California, UCLA, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, and Texas . . . You will notice that four of the top ten are from the Southeastern Conference . . . Two top games during October are Tennessee and Alabama on the 17th and Notre Dame and Georgia Tech on the 24th . . . Notre Dame, picked to win this year's national title, last won the honor in 1949. In all Notre Dame has won the title four times since 1936, more than any other team. Minnesota has won it three times . . . In answer to questions on the last bowl games: Georgia Tech beat Mississippi 24-7 in the Sugar Bowl; Alabama beat Syracuse 61-6 in Orange; Texas beat Tennessee 16-0 in the Sugar; and So. California beat Wisconsin 7-0 in the Rose.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

That one-day clinic on state government called last week by Governor C. Elmer Anderson may very well become the starting point for a serious and effective attack on the problem of modernizing our state governmental operations.

If the Governor pursues a follow-through on the suggestions made at the clinic, he could find himself in the midst of many explosive issues, because to bring our state government up-to-date would require some far-reaching legislative action that would basically affect the power and position of the Governor and his relations with the legislature.

The clinic, which heard statements by the Governor and other state officials and by leading businessmen, was hailed as a "novel experiment" and was observed by national experts interested in improving state government.

More Power for Governor?

One of the most serious criticisms of our state government advanced at the clinic was the lack of a "central administrative authority." Dan Magraw, a state official, described the weakness that results from having "authority dispersed among elected officials."

Under existing constitutional provisions, the Governor does not fill a role of chief executive comparable to the general manager's position in a large business corporation. He shares the executive authority with the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the State Auditor, the Attorney-General, and members of the Railroad and Warehouse commission, none of whom are responsible to him for their official actions.

The remedy for this weakness is a constitutional amendment that would confer more extensive power on the Governor by eliminating some or all of the elective positions which are mainly administrative in character. This proposal has been advanced often, but has not made much headway, largely because there is still strong sentiment for the election of a large number of state officeholders.

Usurpation by Legislature

Another topic certain to arouse the close interest of the state legislature involved the charge, also made by Magraw, that there is "a growing tendency for the legislature to usurp or interfere with functions of the executive branch."

Magraw went on to say that this problem is accentuated "because almost no legislators have had experience in large-scale administrative situations." He said the legislature's failure "to trust the executive branch" has resulted in its prescribing detailed procedures that have "a paralyzing and costly" effect on administration.

To remedy this problem Magraw suggested a reorganization program, patterned after the federal plan, which would give the Governor the same kind of power the President has to propose reorganization plans which become law if not specifically rejected by the legislature.

Plague of Lobbyists

Earl Berg, commissioner of administration, pointed to several other problems, among them the continuous operations of lobbyists, one group of which seeks to promote new and expanded services and another group that opposes any new or increased taxes.

He emphasized the contradiction that is involved in the pressures that the legislators are under, having to face on the one hand demands for larger expenditures and on the other hand demands for lower taxs and reduced revenues.

This problem, in Berg's view, is related to the matter of dedicated receipts, which now claim 79 per cent of the state's income, and grants-in-aid from the state government to local units, which will reach $148,500,000 in 1955, according to Berg, and which are spent by the local units without their having to face the responsibility of collecting the money through taxation.

Financial Overhaul

What all this argues for, of course, is a basic and fundamental overhaul of the state's entire financial structure. There have been many proposals for constitutional revision and statutory action that would loosen up the dedicated funds, remove outmoded restrictions on various taxes, generally adjust the property tax load, revise downward the income tax, among many others.

But each proposal encounters stiff opposition from one or more of major interest groups, and consequently there is a tendency for both elected officials and the legislators to avoid meeting the question headon.

It will require an unusual amount of political courage and maneuvering skill to make much of an impact on this problem. Any ultimate solution will almost certainly mean a shifting of the tax load from one group to another, and this most assuredly cannot be accomplished without a major political struggle.

Issues for 1954

If our state campaigns for office served their proper purpose, these questions raised at the Governor's clinic would get a full airing during the forthcoming elections for state offices and the legislature. Frequently the political leaders of both parties evade them as "too controversial," but 1954 could be an exception to this general rule.

Report to the People

NEW METHODS

Some days ago, I witnessed one of the revolutionary innovations in Minnesota's progressive mental health program. It was a demonstration of an improved method of studying mental ailments by the use of electrical apparatus. I believe most people have heard of the brain wave machine, an electrical apparatus with electrodes fastened to the surface of the patient's head by which brain waves are registered on paper. In this procedure, the electrical impulses of the brain travel outward to the electrodes where they are picked up and recorded.

Now specialists of the Mayo Clinic and our state hospital staff at Rochester have collaborated in developing what appears to be a greatly improved method of obtaining these electrical readings. Dr. Magnus C. Petersen, superintendent of the Rochester Hospital, and members of the Mayo staff demonstrated this new method to me.

The new method consists of inserting thin wires deep into the brain, in fact, into any area of the brain which is to be studied. These wires are left in the brain during the period of study because they apparently cause no damage whatsoever to brain tissue and the patients I talked with stated that they were perfectly comfortable. These wires terminate in an electrical plug, much like a household outlet, which is connected with complicated electrical machinery, registering the pin-pointed electrical brain waves on charts, on a screen resembling a television screen, and also through sound apparatus. In the demonstration which I witnessed, I could see the different waves produced by the patient's reaction to smelling various articles, and for the first time in my life, I actually saw on the screen and heard from a loudspeaker a person smelling.

OPEN NEW FIELDS

This development opens a vast new field of diagnosing mental disturbances and brain malfunctioning so that when operations are performed to remedy these difficulties, it may not be necessary to do nearly as much cutting or to remove as much brain matter as previously. Futhermore, the men at the Rochester State Hospital and the Mayo Clinic are now working on methods to reverse the procedure to give pin-pointed electrical shock through these same electrodes for treatment of mental illness.

These new techniques are called "deep electroencephalography" or generally referred to as "electrography" and I can say that it was a truly wonderful thing to witness a demonstration of their use. It makes me grateful that we have institutions like the Mayo Clinic in our state and that we have state hospital staffs who are pushing forward all the time to improve medical methods and equipment.

SAFETY ON THE HIGHWAY

As you know, I have been deeply concerned over the increasing loss of life in traffic accidents. Every day almost the press, radio and TV bring us reports of additional deaths on the highways and streets. As I write this, the number of persons who have been killed in auto and truck accidents in Minnesota this year has reached 445. Last year at this time it was 350. An emergency has developed which is going to require the best efforts of our citizens.

I have asked the leaders in traffic safety promotion to canvass and report what is being done to avert accidents and discuss possible steps to make our efforts in this field more effective. The loss of life from traffic accidents is too appalling for anyone to be complacent about safety. All agencies interested in promotion of safety and all citizens must join in a crusade to curb this useless slaughter.

A JOB FOR ALL OF US

Two reports just brought to my attention emphasize the extent to which promotion of safety on the highways and streets is a job for all citizens. Of 25,505 accidents reported on Minnesota highways and streets in the first half of the year, our highway department says, 12,320, or nearly half, occured at intersections. Chief reason, say the experts, is a lack of common courtesy and caution on the part of many drivers.

More than 1,500 persons are killed each year in approximately 4,000 collisions between automobiles and trains in this country, Northwestern National Life Insurance Company reports. Chief reasons given, are ignoring warning signs, taking it for granted no train is coming, trying to beat the train to the crossing.

So the greatest need is for all of us to be courteous and careful.

Prowlers Score 3rd Win, Take EGF 13 to 7

When umpire Mac Gillis' game-ending whistle halted a last minute drive by the Green Wave on the Prowlers' 14-yard line, coach Ralph Sjod's squad had scored a 13 to 7 victory over coach Harold Sullivan's club in a thrilling 31st district game played at East Grand Forks on Friday night. The Prowlers, with a record of three wins and no losses to date, will travel to Roseau on Friday for an afternoon game against the Rams.

Most of the drama of Friday night's bitterly-contested game between the Prowlers and East Grand Forks was packed into the fourth period. Coach Skjod's eleven, on halfback Ray Berg's 73-yard touchdown sprint in the first period, and Sid Vraa's 1-yard right-end touchdown run in the third period, held a 13 to 0 lead as the final quarter opened.

East Side, after failing to gain consistently on their running plays, took to the air in the fourth period. A pass, Johnny Black to Jon Falgren, was completed to the Green Wave 49-yard line for a 9-yard gain. Bob Glimsdahl spun for a first down on the 40-yard stripe.

A long heave, Falgren to Kent Larson was completed on the Prowler 26-yard line, and a 15-yard roughing the receiver penalty moved the ball to the locals' 11-yard line. Falgren gained 7 yards; Glimsdahl hit right tackle for a first down on the 1-yard line, and then Glimsdahl, on a line plunge, went over the south goal for the TD. A Black to Falgren pass added the conversion point, to bring the score 13 to 7 for the Prowlers.

A Prowler fumble gave East Grand Forks the ball on the locals' 30-yard line, and a pair of running plays and a Black to Falgren pass carried to the Thief River Falls' 19-yard line. A running play lost two yards, and three pass plays were broken up. Sid Vraa, on fourth down, kicked from the Prowler 24-yard line, and when Arvid Wedul recovered Jim Carney's fumble, when tackled, on the East Side 25-yard stripe, the Prowlers appeared a cinch to win.

Vraa lost 3 yards at left end; the Prowlers were penalized for backfield in motion; Berg added 6 yards at right tackle; Vraa sneaked for 2 yards; and when Vraa was held for two yards at right end, the Green Wave took possession on their own 10-yard line with a minute and a half to play.

Carney ran out of bounds for 5 yards, stopping the clock, and then circled left end for a first down on the 37. A pass interference penalty carried the ball to the Prowler 48-yard line; a five yard offside penalty moved the ball to the locals' 43-yard stripe. A pass, Black to Carney was completed to the Prowler 14-yard line, and before the Green Wave could run another play time had run out.

The Prowlers, rushing the ball for 226 net yards, racked up ten first downs; while East Side, gaining 144 yards by rushing and completing six passes for 91 yards, had 12 first downs. In penalty yardage, the Prowlers lost 50 yards, 45 of which came in the fourth period; while East Side lost but 5 yards, that on a third period offside infraction.

Civic & Commerce Session Is Slated Thursday at Rex

Committee reports will make up the agenda at the bi-weekly meeting of the Civic and Commerce association Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe. Secretary J. M. Roche stated reports will be submitted on the financial outcome of the Smiley Burnette shows last weekend, while Wallace Tunberg will report for the aeronautics committee, and Stan Nelson will comment on Wednesday's purebred ram sale, of which he has served as chairman.

Savings Bonds Are Best Investment, Bankers Told Here

Federal Reserve Bank Man Addresses Bankers at Meeting in Rex Cafe

"There is no investment to the average person more sound than U. S. Savings Bonds," Oscar Litterer, industrial economist for the Federal Reserve bank, Minneapolis, told county chairmen and their bank advisers on bonds at a district meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Rex Cafe in Thief River Falls.

L. H. Everett, East Grand Forks, District One bond chairman, presided and was host to the group, which met at the Rex Cafe. Local arrangements for the session were made by James Roche, Pennington county bond chairman.

"Every family has a financial crisis once every two years," Litterer pointed out, according to averages released in a recent economic survey. "This means," he added, "That unless a family has a nest egg of savings, it often is forced to go into debt more than it should."

Chairman Everett pointed out how District One has the lowest bond sales of any district in the state so far this year. In order to improve this position, county bond chairmen and their banker advisers agreed to carry out a concerted promotional program in this district.

Counties in District One are: Clearwater, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau.

Attending the meeting from Thief River Falls were E. O. Peterson, Elmer Bratsch, Stanton Dahlen, and Mr. Roche.

Hockey Action Put Off until Tonight

Only 14 Attend Meeting Last Thursday Evening

No action was taken at the hockey club meeting held at the Auditorium on Thursday night due to a lack of a representative group of fans. President Bill LaFave stated that only fourteen persons were in attendance, and it was decided to defer the election of officers for the ensuing year until the meeting that will be held in the C. & C. room this evening, at which time it is hoped a larger number of fans will be present.

Among matters that will be brought up for discussion and action tonight will be the election of a board of directors, and a league representative.

At last week's meeting, nine local players were in attendance, and they signified that they were ready and willing to play with the Thieves this season.

Local Freshmen at N. D. 'U' Try out for Football

Seventy freshman gridders cavorting about the practice field are churning future hopes in the football sport at the University of North Dakota. Included in the squad are Roger Dorn and Bill Maruska of Thief River Falls and Ambrose Emard and Marvin Drees of Red Lake Falls.

Frosh Grid Coach Harold Kraft said that huge total represents considerable change from recent situations at UND and promises something more to look forward to in another year, or so when Varsity Coaches Frank Zazula and Tom Hughes have a chance to take the promising sophomores out of the group.

County Resident Fined for Sale of Beer to a Minor

Appearing in municipal court last Friday on a charge of selling beer to a minor, Louis Carpenter changed his plea from innocent to guilty and was fined $100 and $4.50 costs, $50 of the fine being suspended.

Joe Kulseth, who had pleaded innocent to a charge of illegal sale of whiskey, was given a preliminary examination and was bound over to district court.

Testimony also was taken Friday in the case of Ingvald Geving of Goodridge, who had pleaded innocent to a charge of selling beer to a minor. Judge H. O. Chommie put off a decision in the matter, pending submission of further testimony by both parties to the action.

The Last Call

It will be a long winter if there isn't to be any senior hockey, and that is the prospect if there isn't a turn-out of fans at the hockey club meeting at the Auditorium tonight.

At the meeting held last Thursday night, there were but fourteen present, and nine of those fellows were prospective club members. To say the least, president Bill LaFave was disappointed and discouraged at that meager attendance, and he urges all hockey enthusiasts to be present tonight when the organization will elect officers for the ensuing year.

Paul Bedard, coach of the Thieves hockey club, stated that he was considering giving some of Winnipeg's junior players an opportunity to join the team as the Canadian "imports." Paul explained that the youngsters, by their hustle and aggressive play, would have much crowd-appeal.

In the Lineup

Billy Bye made his first appearance in league play in a Winnipeg Blue Bomber uniform on Saturday afternoon at Regina, and while the Bombers lost a 21 to 15 decision to the Roughriders, Bill turned in a standout performance. Here's what Bob Moir of the Winnipeg Free Press had to say: "Had it not been for a brilliant little fellow named Billy Bye, it is quite conceivable the Roughies would have won by a much larger margin. He was the only man between the Roughies and the Bomber goal-line on three occasions and each time he stopped the runners with outstanding ankle-high tackles. Wardien, Marlow, and Johnson were his victims."

Moir adds, "Bye also played a fine offensive game, catching three of four passes thrown to him, and making 12 yards on the lone running play on which he was given a chance. He also fielded punts well, making one startling overhead catch on the Bomber goal-line. On one performance, Billy looks like a good buy."

Nothing but the Truth

What we would like to know, who gets the birds when the four musketeers — Russ Embury, Tony Dorn, Frank Rinkel, and Doc Starekow — go hunting?

Says Russ, "They're plenty lucky that they have me in the party, for those clowns wouldn't have many birds if it wasn't for my on-the-wing shooting."

Tony comes up with, "This is confidential, but I'm telling you that Russ, Frank and Doc would have a slim game-bag if I wasn't along. I'm in the best physical shape ever, and I'm able to draw a bead and fire before the other fellows know that the birds have flushed."

Frank replies, "You know how those young fellows are, all hustle and bustle. And all they do is to scare all the birds and flock-shoot. If it wasn't for my experience, those fellows would be having plenty thin gravy."

"You want the facts?" asks Doc. "Well, it's like this. Frank marks the coveys; Tony, who else, makes the flush; Russ, a capable man at going through brambles, does the retrieving; and I do the shooting. That's the way it is."

Miscellany

Dan Summers, who was the league's best defenseman when he played here last season, will play his hockey this year with Eddie Shore's Syracuse team. Dan, who was a member of Shore's organization last year, played here as Bill Winters in order to protect the eligibility of the Fort Frances imports playing with the Warroad Lakers.—Al Smith, the Winnipeg gunner that won most of the honors at the trap shoot held here a couple of weeks ago, was the high gun at the Manitoba trap tournament held at Portage la Prairie last week. Shooting under difficult weather conditions, Smith broke 37 of 50 in the doubles event, and won the handicap shoot from 21 yards.—Cal Vraa and LeRoy Aasland, freshmen at Concordia college, are on the roster of the Cobber football squad. Cal, at center, and LeRoy as an end.

Minnkota Man Tells of Area TV Problems

Fargo's TV station will soon boost the strength on its TV broadcast signal. This, together with increasing television activity in Grand Forks hints at more and better television reception for most of us soon, according to Llyle Lund, engineer with the Minnkota Power Cooperative.

If the station at Valley City, North Dakota or Grand Forks goes on the air soon, then most of us will be in the receiving zone of at least one TV station. Experts indicate that when this happens our area will undergo the same rapid growth in television as experienced in other states.

The public expects good reception. Broadcasters, set manufacturers and power suppliers are and will do their best to insure good reception. However, there will be times when interference may temporarily ruin your reception.

Electrical World, a trade magazine, made a survey to determine the causes of television interfence. The survey was made of 20 utilities operating in TV areas. The results showed that over 40% of their customers interference complaints were traced back to trouble in the TV set itself. Small motors, heating pads, refrigerators and other electrical appliances in the home accounted for an additional 30%. This survey also revealed that the power supplier was responsible for 10 to 15% of all interference.

You may save yourself both time and money if you take careful note of these percentages.

If interference bothers, try leaving your set on and disconnect some of your household appliances or motors to find out if interference can be stopped. Often your problem can be solved as simply as that. If this fails to clear it up, the odds are your TV set is in need of attention. This is when the dealer's ability to render expert service can be of value to you.

Reception troubles caused by the power supplier in most cases was traced to low voltage. Despite the investments in equipment and lines made by your power supplier within recent years, there may still be set owners who will run into trouble from this source. If your interference is traced to your power supplier, you will find him as interested in eliminating the trouble just as quickly as you are.

Oil Burners to Be Built in Warren

The Miller Oil Burners will be manufactured in Warren, the Warren Sheaf announced last week.

Preliminary steps to form a new company which will be incorporated under Minnesota laws and backed largely by capital supplied by a group of Warren citizens were taken September 22 at a meeting with John Pippus, Winnipeg manufacturer, who will head the corporation.

The company is purchasing the machinery and inventory of the Miller Oil Burner company of Meriden, Conn., and this will be shipped to Warren at once to permit an early start in manufacturing operations.

Fertilizer Use on Pastures Advised

Increases Beef Cattle Gains 33 to 100 Per Cent

During the past year the farm has had nearly 50 "good grade" Hereford steer calves on various experiments. The calves were purchased last fall, fed through the winter on roughages, and then placed on a series of pasture experiments this summer.

In one experiment, fertilized and unfertilized grass pastures were compared. On the fertilized pasture beef made a gain of 251 pounds per acre while on the unfertilized they gained only 110 pounds. The value per acre of beef produced on fertilized pasture was $47.16 compared with $22.33, for the unfertilized.

Regulations on Firearms Cited by Game Wardens

Supervisor of the warden service, Francis Johnson, today warned hunters that a law enacted by the 1953 legislature makes it unlawful to transport any firearm except a pistol or revolver in a motor vehicle or airplane unless the same is unloaded in both barrels and magazine and contained in a gun case or unless unloaded and contained in the trunk of the car with the trunk door closed. It is also unlawful to take any wild animal or discharge any firearm there at from a motor vehicle or airplane. Hunters are reminded that it is no longer legal to carry firearms in a motor vehicle merely by taking them apart as in previous years. The new regulation will be vigorously enforced.

Conversion

In the latest experiment at the Bureau of Mines' hydrogenation plant at Louisiana, Mo., 2,600 tons of coal were converted into 8,000 barrels of synthetic oil — or 3.1 barrels per ton.

Newsmen to Meet on U. of M. Campus Saturday, Oct. 3d

36th Annual Editors Short Course Will Be Held Friday, October 2

One-thousand Minnesota newsmen and legislators will visit the University of Minnesota Saturday, Oct. 3, for the annual Editors and Legislators Day on the Minneapolis campus. This is the first year that state senators and representatives have joined the group.

The day's special program will open with an open house and coffee hour from 9:30-11 a. m. at the University's St. Anthony Falls Hydraulic laboratory. Newspaper editors, radio station managers and the legislatures will see the laboratory's facilities for conducting research on a wide variety of hydraulic problems.

They will also be guests of the University at a luncheon, beginning at 11:30 a. m., in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union. University President J. L. Morrill will speak and in keeping with past tradition, faculty members of the general college will be introduced. Activities of a different college are featured at the luncheon each year.

Immediately afterwards, the editors, radio managers and legislatures will attend the opening game of the football season — Minnesota vs. Michigan State—in Memorial stadium.

Many of the editors will arrive on the campus Friday to participate in the University's 36th annual editor's short course. Sponsored by the institute of agriculture and the school of journalism, the day's schedule will also include a classified advertising clinic.

Major speakers at the sessions in Murphy hall will be John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower and personnel, and Alan C. McIntosh, publisher of the Rock County Star-Herald, Luverne, and also president of the National Editorial association.

Farm Bureaus to Discuss Program During October

During October, local unit and community Farm Bureau meetings are to be held in every county in Minnesota, under the sponsorship of the 87 county Farm Bureaus. Similar meetings are being held in every state in the United States, says President J. L. Morton, of Hancock.

Purpose of these meetings is to give the Farm Bureau membership of Minnesota and of the nation an opportunity to study, discuss and help make some decisions regarding some of the most important interests and problems of agriculture, says Mr. Morton.

These meetings will be conducted by local Farm Bureau officers or leaders. Any action taken at these local meetings will be sent to the county Farm Bureau secretary and will be used by the county Resolution Committee when preparing resolutions for consideration at the annual meeting of the county Farm Bureau.

A FREE PRESS

October brings with it National Newspaper Week, which is observed primarily to remind us of the importance of a free press. In the present world-wide struggle of free nations to survive, it is well to give some thought to the things we are striving to preserve. One of them, "Freedom of the Press," is basic to our concept of liberty.

Freedom of the press is not a charter of liberties for newspapers. It confers upon the publishers of a newspaper no special privileges. Freedom of the press is essential to the liberty of all of us because it represents freedom of assembly and freedom of expression for all citizens of a free government. And it protects these freedoms regardless of what medium of expression is used as a sounding board, whether it be a newspaper, a pamphlet, the radio or a soap box.

The first step toward government-from-the-top-down is censorship. There can be no government of, by and for the people where facts are withheld and opinions may not be freely expressed.

It is by the free exchange of ideas and the free exchange of goods and services that our nation has grown great. It is to this free exchange of ideas and goods and services that we must attribute our ever expanding economy and our steadily improving standard of living. Any curbs on these freedoms, any barriers to trade, must be looked upon with suspicion, and only such restrictions that are essential to morality and decency should be tolerated.

These are the rights and liberties we protect when we defend freedom of the press.

These rights and privileges have been abused. By the abuse of these privileges there has occasionally been injury to persons. Abuses at times have been detrimental to public interest. It is unfortunate that this is true.

It is far better, however, to suffer the occasional abuse than to subject ourselves to the greater peril of restricted expression and activity. As long as we retain the right to express ourselves we will have the power to correct our errors.

WHERE IS THE GRASS GREENER?

A probe of beef prices and middlemen's profits has been ordered and that probably is a good thing. There is much dissatisfaction with present prices among both cattlemen and among consumers. The cattlemen feel they are not getting enough for their stock according to retail prices paid by the consumer. And consumers feel they are paying too much considering what beef is bringing on the hoof. The question is, is there too big a spread and why?

We say a probe of prices and profits is a good thing without any preconceived notions or prejudices. The probe is justified, we believe, because of the widespread dissatisfaction. Both the cattlemen and the consumers have a right to know the facts.

Our guess is that the probers will find the in-between costs high but not necessarily so the profits.

In our community we have a direct-from-the-pasture to the butcher-block operation in which there are few middlemen. From this standpoint it is an efficient operation. It is inefficient in that it is wasteful of the by-products. There are convincing arguments both ways as to which operation is best either from the standpoint of the grower or the consumer.

This we know—for anyone who has the idea that buying beef on the hoof and selling it over the block is an easy way to get rich—it is not difficult to get into the meat market business. Off-hand, however, we can't think of many meat men from this area who are spending their winters in California.

FARMERS' INCOME IS BASIC

Smut caused only 2% damage to the Washington wheat crop in 1942. By 1952 it affected 28% of the crop and cut farm income by an estimated 12 million dollars.

Now the Washington farmers are doing something about it. They are taxing themselves ¼c a bushel to raise a fund for experimental purposes in an effort to develop smut-resistant varieties of wheat. To serve as an experimental farm for this purpose they are buying a 96 acre tract of land.

Here in Minnesota problems of this kind have been considered of sufficient public concern to justify the use of public funds for their solution. Under the direction of the University of Minnesota hundreds of thousands of the taxpayers' dollars are going into agricultural research each year—to help Minnesota's farms produce more.

As we protect the farm income we protect the earning power of all citizens of the state. The farm income is basic. If the farmers don't get it we don't get it.

KEEP OUT OF THE FLAX

Hunting got off to an inauspicious start last week when the upland bird season opened. The birds had the advantage of plenty of cover and until the heavy frosts move in they are going to continue to have it good.

There has been enough hunting however to bring the usual complaints from farmers about inconsiderate hunters. Several who have come in to buy "No Hunting" signs have reported drives through uncut flax fields that have resulted in considerable damage.

Here is a problem real sportsmen are concerned about. Regardless of how much game there is in the country, there isn't going to be good hunting if the farmers get together in an organized revolt. And that is what is apt to happen if something isn't done to restrain the hunter who shows no consideration for the rights of the fellow who crops the land.

It is unlawful for a hunter, or a hunter's dog, to enter a field of standing grain without permission regardless of whether or not land is posted. There are thousands of acres of uncut flax in the area. In the interests of a better hunter-farmer relationship, good sportsmen will help to protect this valuable crop.

Hunting Relationships

—Detroit Lakes Tribune

Frank D. Blair, director of the state division of game and fish, made no mistake recently when he said in a bulletin to the press that the future of free hunting is dependent upon good farmer-sportsman relationships.

"The farmer who posts his land 'Hunting by Permission Only' is extending an invitation to you and showing evidence of his friendliness and good will," Mr. Blair said. "The hunter in turn must recognize the responsibilities imposed by the privilege of free hunting."

Mr. Blair suggested that hunters this year "learn to know the land owner; seek his permission to hunt, and as his guest conduct themselves as such."

"Vandalism, outlawry and disregard for the farmers' rights will hasten the day when the privilege of free hunting will be withdrawn," Mr. Blair warned. "Sportsmen as such are not to blame so much as a small per cent of heedless, thoughtless and careless hoodlums. Each hunter can help discipline fellow hunters. Each hunter can at least do this much—govern his actions in the field to win the respect and confidence of his farmer host."

Hunters in Michigan, meanwhile, have been solving their problems under the "Williamston Plan," inaugurated in 1929 by a group of farmers and sportsmen. Basically, the plans seeks to bring farmers of an area together as a unit to provide for regulated, instead of helter-skelter hunting.

Under the plan, trespass problems and damage complaints can be reduced, the Michigan Department of Conservation claims. Hunters gain by being able to hunt on several adjoining farms after getting permission from only a single farmer. Last year, more than 163,000 acres were united under this volunteer program in Michigan.

The Golden Gophers may be slightly tarnished, but a host of local fans will have a Saturday afternoon date with their radios during the current football season.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Is A Hobby Good for Anything?

"Mom, where are my match books? I can't find them and Bobby wants to see them."

This may be a bad moment for mom. Can she tell him that she threw them out last week, because they weren't good for anything anyhow and they cluttered up his room so much, and she figured that he didn't really care about them?

Perhaps they weren't "good for anything" to anyone but Jim himself; but did she give enough thought to the meaning they held for him? Perhaps the match book collection gave Jim something to "show off" to the other boys. Perhaps his collection was bigger, included a wider geographical range, or had received contributions from a greater number of people. Perhaps it contributed more than his mother realizes to Jim's status in his group. Perhaps it had other values, too; many hobbies do.

Tom started saving pretty stones and rocks just for fun. They were so different and so fascinating that he started studying them; this led him to books about the formation of the earth. Now he knows all about his own rock collection, and in additin, has acquired lots of knowledge about the Glacial Age, and early forms of plant and animal life.

And then his sister, Jane, as a little girl loved to sew for her dolls. The eight-year-old "messiness" of threads on the rug, bits of cloth everywhere, and lost needles gave way to well-organized contaructive sewing when she reached high school and made all her own clothes. The interest continued and, at college she studied dress designing and now is a promising young professional designer.

A hobby, may, or may not, develop into a genuine vocational interest. It does, however, give the child an area of skill and achievement of which he can feel proud. The persistence which the youngster develops in collecting match books may help him persist with other efforts. The knowledge acquired may help cultivate new interests which will enrich his life for years to come. Don't be scornful of a hobby, even if it seems useless to you. The child's present enjoyment in itself is a worthwhile result.

TIMELY TIPS ON PUTTING THE GARDEN TO BED

By the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service

House Plants for the Winter Months

Now is the time to make sure of a supply of plants for the home this winter. Potted plants that were plunged into the garden last winter should be cleaned up and moved indoors. Cuttings should be made of plants that are too big to move indoors. Small annuals can be potted for indoor bloom.

* * *

Before you move potted plants indoors, examine them carefully to be sure they are insect free. Wash the pots. Scrape away the top soil and replace it with a good potting mixture. If the top of the plant has grown to large over summer, prune it back and repot it in a large container. Take the plants inside before severely cold weather so they can become accustomed to indoor conditions before the heating season gets under way.

* * *

Do not try to move large geranium or coleus plants into the house. Make cuttings of them and root them in sand or vermiculite before potting.

* * *

Many annuals will continue to flower if potted and brought indoors. Browallia, dwarf marigolds and petunias are especially good for this purpose. Chrysanthemums can also be potted and brought inside to complete their bloom.

OUR LAND

Five for Four

Would you like to get five bushels of wheat from the same land where you are now getting four? Or would you like to increase your yields greatly on other crops. Tests reported in Illinois show that much improvement on contoured wheat land. Planting a crop on the contour has been shown to step up yield by 17 per cent over drilling the seeds up and down the hill. Apparently the drill rows on the contour hold back enough more water and plant food to give the increased yield.

Hunger Signs

Think back a bit this summer. Did your alfalfa have a purplish cast on its stem or was its growth stunted? If so, it probably was starved for phosphorus. The best way to find out what is the matter with your soil is to have it tested. See your county agent or fertilizer dealer for containers and instructions for sending soil to the Soil Testing Laboratory at University Farm.

Ministers, Bankers, Barbers

A soil conservation district in another state once held a banquet for all the ministers, bankers, and barbers in the district. The board wanted to tell everyone about the district's program and it figured that these groups talk to the most people. Ministers are particularly conscious of man's stewardship of the soil and it was with this thought that the Benton Soil Conservation District board members recently organized a tour for the ministers in the district. The group visited three farms and saw good examples of terracing, strip cropping, wind erosion control, drainage and many other practices.

A message to every prospective new car buyer:

You can have the most popular automatic transmission to be found in any low-priced car

*Chevrolet's Famous 1953 Powerglide!

Much fleeter, smoother, more economical! Thoroughly proved and improved through years of development and over a billion owner-driven miles! Production now running at new high levels due to record nationwide demand!

Much More Economical
Chevrolet's 1953 Powerglide Automatic Transmission*—teamed with the 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" high-compression Valve-in-Head engine—brings you entirely new operating economy in city driving and on long trips.

Far Livelier Getaway
Put the selector lever in "DRIVE" position—step on the accelerator—and you move smoothly away from a standing start to legal traffic speed in seconds.

Important New Gas Savings
You'll never know how economical an automatic transmission can be until you try the 1953 Powerglide. Various improvements, including a more efficient use of engine power, make it extremely thrifty. In fact, bring you the most important gain in gasoline economy in Chevrolet history.

Great New Passing Ability

Smoothest No-Shift Driving at Lowest Cost

Safe Eyes-on-the-Road Driving
Safety is served in many ways. And one of the most important, perhaps, is that Powerglide permits you to concentrate on driving. You can keep your hands always on the steering wheel and your eyes always on the road.

Full Engine Braking-Power on Hills

Rock Out of Trouble
Powerglide's smooth power flow lets you rock out of sand, snow or mud whenever the need arises. "LOW" and "REVERSE" are side by side on the Powerglide quadrant, making the operation doubly easy.

Push-Proof Parking
Put the selector lever in "PARK" position when you leave the car, and a positive gear-type lock holds it in position until you return.

Time-Proved, Owner-Proved Dependability
Come in. Drive a Chevrolet with this finer, more popular automatic transmission. Test it and you'll want it. It's time-proved, and road-proved by hundreds of thousands of owners, in over a billion miles of driving.

BEAUTIFUL FALL LEAVES CAN CAUSE ACCIDENTS

Those beautiful leaves, says the Minnesota Safety Council, can result in a serious traffic accident and make you forget the beauties of Indian summer. The council today warned motorists to be careful when driving on streets or highways which may be covered with fallen leaves, especially if they are wet and slippery. Sudden application of brakes or a hasty maneuver can result in a skid and end up in a serious accident.

Iron ore research NEVER STOPS

THIS TINY FURNACE in a Cooley, Minnesota research laboratory may show one way to make usable iron ore from our state's vast supply of non-magnetic taconite—just as earlier experiments showed how to use magnetic taconite. Iron mining companies today are constantly experimenting with once-worthless ores—spending millions of dollars to develop new ore resources and conserve our remaining high grade ore supply. Minnesota's iron mining industry is doing everything it can to remain a stable, lasting part of Minnesota, furnishing employment and benefits for generations to come. Whether our mining industry succeeds in this effort will depend entirely on keeping Minnesota ore competitive in cost with ores from other areas.

WHAT ARE PRINCIPAL AUTO DRIVER PROBLEMS?

State Automobile Association asked several hundred members what they considered the principal current problems among automobile drivers. Insufficient enforcement of laws against drinking and reckless driving led all the rest. Close the top too, was a plea for lower insurance rates on drivers with long records free of accidents. Truck traffic and the driving difficulties which result came in for an impressive vote, while an almost equal number feel that the current drivers license program is not geared to today's needs. A lot of folks find the many different kinds of traffic signals and road signs confusing, and traffic routing through cities very difficult.

Employ Handicapped Week October 4 to 10

National Employ the Physically Handicapper Week will be observed this year from October 4-10, with the Thief River Falls office of the Minnesota state employment service again in charge of the ninth annual observance in Northwestern Minnesota. Other government agencies and industry in general are cooperating in the annual campaign to advertise the merits of employing handicapped workers.

Each year between nine and ten million Americans suffer accidents at an estimated cost of seven billion dollars. Many of these men and women require rehabilitation or must change their work because of accidents or serious illness. In spite of the greatest safety and preventative medicine programs in history, people are disabled daily.

Recognizing both its responsibility to act as well as its inability to solve the problem alone, the federal government has called upon states, communities, and powerful private groups and organizations to band together to increase and expand rehabilitation services and facilities. Another major purpose is to provide employment opportunities for qualified handicapped workers in business, government, trade, industry, and on the farm.

Numerous surveys conducted in all types of industry have proven conclusively that if handicapped workers are placed on jobs matching their skills and physical disabilities, they are highly satisfactory. Their safey record is as good as non-disabled workers, with greater job stability reported.

Because seasonal employment is at its peak, nearly all handicapped workers in this area are now working, but this situation will change soon. Disabled Korean veterans are returning from service at a steady rate, with some of them requesting job placement assistance. The local committee on employment of the handicapped will meet this week to review plans for the observance.

An invitation is extended by the Thief River Falls office to both handicapped workers and any prospective employer to use the facilities of the office. Special tools are available to assist in placement of these disabled workers.

Prisoner of War Returns to RLF

670 Physicians Attend '53 Heart Symposium at 'U'

Minnesota doctors are eager to keep up with contemporary medical practice.

They proved it when 670 of them attended the international heart symposium at the University of Minnesota sponsored by the Minnesota Heart association and the University.

"The subjects were of great interest and I think the symposium was one of the best we have ever had," said Dr. Irvine McQuarrie, president of the Minnesota Heart association.

The symposium is one of the annual projects of the Minnesota Heart association. In November 1951 they cooperated in presenting an international symposium on rheumatic fever also conducted at the University. In addition the Heart association allocates from $50,000 to $60,000 each year to research work at the University to discover the causes and cure of heart disease which now accounts for every other death in the United States.

Demand for farmland has been weakened across the Nation for the past year, and farm real estate values in general have trended downward, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, USDA.

Ask Driving Care in Hunting Season

Safety Council Issues Warning to All Hunters

With the fall hunting seasons now with us, says the Minnesota Safety Council, it is again necessary to remind hunters that good driving is an important part of being a good sportsman.

"Every year," said Arthur V. Rohwader, council president, "our hunting seasons are marred by needless traffic accidents involving hunters. Too many hunters fail to realize that their safety precautions do not end when they have carefully emptied their guns before getting into their cars for the long trip back home. While careless handling of their shotgun or rifle may result in death or injury to only themselves or fellow-hunter, careless, and reckless driving can result in wholesale slaughter if they should be involved in a traffic accident."

Rohweder asked all hunters to drive with greater care, especially when traveling on roads with which they are not familiar. He also suggested that driving at reduced speeds at night or during dusk would help prevent motoring accidents to hunters.

"Above all," he said, "a good sportsman knows that drinking and driving don't mix any more than do drinking and hunting."

Community Chest Supports Girl Scouts

In connection with the 1953 Pennington County Community Chest drive to be conducted in October, Miss Ruth Beddie, area Girl Scout executive, prepared at the request of the Times the following statement relative to the program of the Girl Scouts, which is one of the agencies financed thru the Community Chest:

In this year, 1953, the Girl Scouts passed the two million mark in membership. Thereby hangs a tale, for it took from 1912 to 1944 for the Girl Scouts to reach the first million and less than ten years to reach the second million. At this rate, the three-million mark is just around the corner.

In this year, 1953, there is much talk of active citizenship, community service, and democracy. We believe that every girl and adult should have an equal opportunity to experience democracy in Girl Scouting through participation in its program and administration.

The Northwestern Minnesota Council is comprised of eight counties in this part of the state. Its potential girl membership is over 11,000. If we hope to reach this membership with a program of fun, inspiration, and education, we need the support of parents, friends, and neighbors.

We want our girls too to be "A Growing Force for Freedom" with the Girl Scouts. Your contribution to the Community Chest drive helps to make this possible. It is evidence of your support.

THE FINE CAR at half the fine car price

A FEW MINUTES on the telephone calling the dealers who sell America's finest cars will reveal there are at least eleven models among four makes with price tags over $4,000!

Now the interesting thing is that in feature after feature the Ford car duplicates each of these fine cars, and for less than half the fine car price!

A V-8 Engine! Well, the Ford car has a V-8, too. In fact, it has had a V-8 since 1932, and since that time Ford has built more V-8's — by millions — than all other manufacturers combined. And there's no other builder in Ford's price range that's seen fit to offer one yet!

But the engine, as fine as it is, is only one of many things that make a fine car fine.

Automatic shifting, for example. All the fine cars offer it in one form or another because it's one of the things that make a fine car fine. But if you've never driven a Ford with Fordomatic you've missed one of the finer things of life. This amazing transmission not only does away with clutching and shifting forever — it gives you exactly the amount of power you want, when you want it —automatically.

Fine car power steering, too. The big, heavy costly cars offer it for the same reason they offer power brakes. It's a man-sized job for a 120 pound woman to handle a car weighing two tons or more without it—especially when parking. Our "Master-Guide" has two distinct benefits.

First, it gives a hydraulic power assist right down at the wheels and just enough to take out the work. You don't relinquish one particle of control—rather your control is more complete and far easier.

Second, being hydraulic, "Master-Guide" power steering absorbs those fatiguing steering wheel tremors caused by ruts and roads in bad repair. And you don't pay a fine car price for "Master-Guide."

But there is another fine car feature—the Ford ride. Books have been written on the subject of riding quality in an automobile, but the payoff comes on the pavement — or lack of it! Many people associate a comfortable ride with excess weight, but it's not weight alone that makes for comfort. If it were, those big five-ton trucks which you see every day would be the most comfortable vehicles on the road.

Without being technical we can tell you that what's been done with the suspension and springing system gives the Ford a softer ride, a smoother ride than many cars which tip the scales at better than an added half ton.

What about room? Here's an interesting point. If you've felt that only a costly car offered enough room, you just ought to sit down in a Ford even if you're out-size and six feet four! The so-called big car is bigger on the outside, but unless you buy a limousine with those little jump seats, it's not one passenger bigger inside.

Visibility is another fine car Ford feature. We say Ford cars offer "full-circle" visibility because they all have huge, curved one-piece windshields and a huge rear window to match . . . plus side windows that mean every passenger gets room with a view!

How beautiful is a Ford? A great English poet, John Keats, once wrote "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty"—well, he could have been writing about our car for its beauty comes from honest, clean lines in every dimension. In fact, we think most people agree—even our competitors—that the appearance of a Ford Car leaves very little to be desired. It is "at home" wherever it goes and it goes everywhere.

But what about Ford quality? Does it too match the fine car? Is the sheet metal of the body panels as thick? Is the finish as good? How about the trim and things like that? Well, as far as we can determine, the sheet metal is identical in thickness in practically all instances. As to finish — we believe Ford's baked-on enamel has no equal in any car. Ford upholstery fabrics and trim are less costly, but they're less delicate, too, and if anything, more durable.

How then is it possible to give you this fine car at half the fine car price?

Part of the answer lies in Ford manufacturing skills and knowledge as evidenced by the V-8 engine. Part of it comes from the ever increasing numbers of cars Ford produces and the economies they make possible. And, part of it comes from Ford's willingness to give greater values than might be expected in cars selling in Ford's price range. And that's the Ford idea.

A Family Newspaper

The Thief River Falls Times and other newspapers of this class, serving a small community, are small ducks in the big puddle of journalism. But within the comparatively small area they serve they are an important part of the community organization.

The Times serves a larger area than do most community papers. Within this area there are many small communities, including villiages in which there no longer is a local paper.

Within the area served by the Times there are many different interests. There is a large rural population and there is a large urban population, and within each of these general groups there are smaller groups with special interests.

We have agriculture and labor and business and industry and railroads and schools and churches. We have organizations of various kinds and many activities. In the field of sports and athletics there are many sub-divisions. The problems of government, national, state and local, are community problems.

There are those more personal matters that mean happiness or sorrow to a family or to an individual.

These are the things we deal with in the weekly process of gathering the facts about past occurences and coming events, determining what of this material is newsworthy, weighing its comparative importance or interest, writing the words that tell the story, and converting the story to printed form.

National Newspaper Week

We at the Times who have the responsibility for various phases of this procedure have in mind that the product of our labor goes into thousands of homes in the area as an invited guest. Only as that product is dependably accurate, fair, informative, interesting and clean will it be a welcome visitor.

We know you will agree that our performance does not always measure up to these standards. It never will. But the performance will be better for having a higher standard as a guide. And we want you to konw that

We want the Times to be a welcome visitor in your home each week — Interesting to every member of the family.

Radio, TV Stars Visit Hospital

Four famous radio and television newscasters recently toured Children's Hospital in St. Paul. The four — Cal Karnstadt, KSTP, Charles McCuen, WCCO-TV, John Ford, WTCN, and Rolf Hertsgaard, WCCO—visited with many of the young patients and were shown the latest in medical techniques and facilities.

They were also shown how effective non-profit health plans have proved to be for protection against medical and hospital costs. Miss Eleanor Sackett, Children's Hospital Administrator, told them that non-profit Blue Cross and Blue Shield give her patients the most health-care protection at the lowest possible cost.

While touring the operating room, the newscasters learned that Blue Shield—the doctor's own plan — provides allowances for over 1,000 medical-surgical procedures. Over 2,800 Minnesota Doctors of Medicine actively participate in Blue Shield, they were told.

Concerning health-care protection, Cal Karnstadt says, "After seeing Blue Cross and Blue Shield in action, I'm convinced that they give these youngsters the full protection they need." Charles McCuen added, "In my opinion, no family should be without this fine, low-cost protection."

Complete, free information on these non-profit hospital and medical care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-11, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do.

MINNESOTA SKILLS CIRCLE THE GLOBE

Eight foreign countries, 29 states, 85 of Minnesota's 87 counties, were represented by 3,313 alert, eager young men who spent more than a million hours during the school year ending June 30, 1953, learning electrical and automotive work, printing, carpentry, and many other skilled trades at Dunwoody Industrial Institute,—for half a century or more the state's internationally known symbol of technical advancement. This small army of trainees include 1,212 veterans—346 G. I., 316 rehabilitation, 550 Korean. To help eke out inadequate endowment income friends and alumni of Dunwoody supplied more than $30,000 cash and more than $36,000 in equipment and materials for the furtherance of this notable program.

5 M47 Tanks Received by Minnesota Guard

With the arrival of five new M47 tanks, the first step in the modernization of Minnesota National Guard tank units was taken this month. The 45-ton monsters will replace M4 tanks of World War II vantage which guard units have previously been using, according to officials.

Armed with a 90 millimeter gun the new tank has much heavier striking power than the 76 millimeter gun on the M4. Issue of the tanks, which began early in September, has presented some problems in that armory doors in some instances are not wide enough to accommodate the 13-ft. beam of these behemoths.

Camp Ripley officials will be faced with another problem when the switch-over to the M47 is completed. The present tank firing range will have to be enlarged to accommodate the longer range of the 90 millimeter gun, Guard officials say.

An outstanding feature of the M47 tank is the driver control mechanism. The driver moves the tank forward and backward, steers it and stops it, all with one small "joy-stick" which he operates with one hand. In a tight place, he can cause one track to travel forward and the other backward, so that the tank can turn completely about in its own length.

Issue of the new tanks is only one step in the program to equip National Guard units with the most modern military equipment, Major General J. E. Nelson, state adjutant general, said. Latest model trucks and a completely new series of radios are being shipped directly from the factories to guard units.

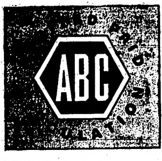
MEMO TO ADVERTISERS



The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

"Why doesn't Mommy have a monument?"

BUT WHO'S GOT IT?
Are you really sure that the car dealer who gives you "the best deal in town" really gives you the best BUY in town?
As you well know, the best BUYS are based on value.
Because value lasts longer than any other quality—and, in automobiles, that means longer motoring pleasure, greater safety, lower upkeep, and a better trade-in allowance later on.
"The Buy of the Year!"
The new Packard CLIPPER has made news all year long as "the buy of the year." Way back last winter, the "insiders"—men of recognized automotive experience and instinct—tagged the CLIPPER as the car of the year in the medium-price field. A real, old-time PACKARD value.
You know very well that you never bought an automobile right off the printed page. You bought it ONLY after a demonstration when features either come to life or amount to nothing.
So we urge you: before you take that "best deal in town" . . . take a demonstration in the new Packard CLIPPER and value-check the features with which we challenge all other cars!
We challenge them all on a value check of the following points
Modern contour styling. Check it for greater all-around visibility, wider doors, more room, more luggage capacity.
Famous Packard-built engine.
Famous Packard ride—"Rides like a Packard" is the highest compliment you can pay any car.
Famous Packard Ultramatic†, designed and built by Packard for Packard CLIPPER—the smoothest power shifting of all—no whish, no whirrrr, no jerk, no jump.
Famous Packard-built power brakes† and power steering†.
Famous Packard CLIPPER back-saver seats.
Top trade-in value.
Did you know that you can own a new Packard CLIPPER for as little as $2,684*
*Plus state and local taxes, if any. Optional equipment, including white sidewall tires, extra. Prices may vary slightly in nearby communities due to shipping charges.

One for the Books!
I Noticed the Missus had a red ribbon tied around her finger at breakfast one morning last week. "What's that for?" I asked. "Your memory slipping?"
"It's not for me," she answers, "it's to remind you, and everybody else who asks what it's for, to contribute to the Woman's Club Library Fund. We need $200 and we figured we'd get more help if we could get people to ask us about it."
Well, as it turned out, the red ribbon worked just fine. The ladies are having the library all fixed up—and there's enough money for some new books, too.
From where I sit, it would be a fine thing if we had some sort of private reminder when we forget the rights of our neighbors. Like when we start telling them what we think is best. I may like a travel book and a temperate glass of beer while you prefer a cup of tea with your historical novel. Let's both remember not to "put the finger" on the other!

NATURE NOTES

September is rather an unusual season for strawberries, particularly some that measure 5½ inches around, as did one from the garden of Mrs. Harold Wichner, [illegible] County Agent has a special touch anyway. George Larson's crabapple tree was in September bloom at North Branch—William Spoerrer grows canned squash at Chaska—brought a big acorn-type in naturally in a glass jar.—A tomato plant in a tiny crack between a cement driveway and a brick foundation bore 11 tomatoes for F. E. Beal, Worthington.

Plummer Memorial Park

Plummer is at last going to have a park. Work has been going on for the past month according to E. B. Kopp. Mayor Jim Jackson, the park chairman is to be congratulated on the big improvement as this was done under his supervision. The park consists of about five acres in the east part of the Village and up to three years ago was nothing but a bunch of old buildings and rock piles. It looks good to see today a nice smooth well drained piece of ground. Grass was seeded Thursday by Art Craft, using the Glenwood park mixture. On Monday Mr. M. H. Mattison of Newfolden is planting 75 six ft. spruce and 25 six foot birch trees. There has been a lot of free labor done by the local people of Plummer for which we are grateful. This park is built with one purpose as the name implies, "Plummer Memorial Park in memory of all the boys in the Plummer area who lost their lives in the past wars. This park has cost us money and labor but does not compare with what the boys have gone thru for all of us.

Mr. Kopp asks all families who want to plant one tree each in memory of our boys to do so, but all trees should be at least six feet tall. It will be several years before this park will be fully developed but will be a project all of us can be proud of. This is your park let us all do all we can. Rev. Thompson Leaves Trinity Church Jan. 15

Popular Local Pastor Accepts Call to Serve Eau Claire, Wis., Church

Members of the Trinity Lutheran church congregation were saddened Sunday morning when the Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor here since Pearl Harbor Day December 7, 1941, tendered his resignation at morning services effective January 15, 1954.

He announced that he is accepting a call to serve the First Lutheran church in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, one of the largest congregations in the synod, with a membership of 4,500. His grandfather, the Rev. Gjermund Hoyme, one-time president of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, is a former pastor of the church.

Since Rev. Thompson came to Thief River Falls 12 years ago, the membership of Trinity church has tripled under his leadership, and now totals approximately 2,800. He also directed a large-scale building program, including the completion in 1952 of the spacious new parish house and extensive remodeling of the church parlors.

During his years of residence here, Rev. Thompson's activities have extended far beyond the local field. He is currently serving as a member of the board of charities of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America and on its executive committee. He is also a member of the board of directors of Concordia college, Moorhead, and a member of the board of the Lutheran Welfare society of Minnesota.

He is now serving as president of the Thief River Falls circuit of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, and is a member-at-large of the National Boy Scout council, as well as a former vice president of the Agassiz Boy Scout council.

Rev. Thompson is leaving Sunday to serve as a speaker at the Inter-synodical Lutheran seminars. With another speaker, he will address meetings in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, Texas, and at San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego, California. He plans to return to this city October 27.

When Rev. and Mrs. Thompson leave in January, they will be accompanied to Eau Claire by their sons John and Frederick, but their oldest son David, a Lincoln high school senior, will remain here to complete the school year.

Substructure of Hospital Addition Nearly Finished

Total of 29 Workers Now Employed on Project; Number to Be Increased

All footings for the new Northwestern Hospital addition are now complete, according to H. W. Peterson, administrator, adding that 70 percent of the concrete sub-structure, which includes columns and foundation walls, are also finished. Plumbers are now engaged in roughing in waste lines inside the building.

The general contractor now has 14 carpenters on the job and 15 laborers employed. The contractor plans to hire more men immediately in order to have enough of the structure closed in when cold weather comes to permit work all winter.

It is estimated that the ground floor slab will be poured by November 10th, which probably will permit plumbers and electricians to work during the winter. Tentative plans are to complete the new addition by the latter part of October, 1954, said Peterson.

TRF Picnic Set in Berkeley, Calif.

The annual Thief River Falls picnic will be held Sunday, October 11, at Live Oak park in Berkeley, California, it was announced by Jack Van Pelt, president, and Roy Miller, secretary. It will afford an opportunity for former residents of this community to get together and talk about their old home town.

Bloo[illegible]ank for N. W. Hospi[illegible] Proposed

To Leave Trinity

REV. G. S. THOMPSON. For the past 12 years pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, who announced to his congregation Sunday morning that he had decided to accept a call tendered him by the First Lutheran church of Eau Claire, Wisc., and that he will be leaving this city to take over his new post January 15.

A properly organized Blood Bank is one of the most important needs of patients served by Northwestern Hospital, is the statement today by H. W. Peterson, administrator.

A Blood Bank is exactly what its title implies, he said, a place where healthy people deposit their blood so that it may be loaned to sick people who need it. An organized Blood Bank is able to keep on hand a sufficient stock of blood of the blood types most commonly needed. It is also able to obtain, with very little trouble, rarer types of blood through its own donor list and through its relations with the Minneapolis War Memorial Blood Bank.

Mr. Peterson states that blood is obtained for patients needing it under very difficult conditions at the present time. At present the hospital has to depend upon the close relatives of sick people to find enough relatives and friends to replace the blood received in transfusions. The laboratory staff does everything in its power to help such people get their donors. Often, however, patients come from a distance; others may be too old to find suitable relatives or friends to help them. It is extremely difficult to build up the blood supply necessary to take care of emergency cases.

In order to keep up some semblance of a blood supply under present conditions, it is necessary for the hospital to ask patients to arrange replacements of two pints of blood for the first pint used. For amounts beyond the first pint, a one for one replacement ratio is asked for. It is plain, said Mr. Peterson, that when a patient cannot replace blood that it is necessary to charge a blood penalty charge of $25.00 per pint, which is a standard charge in nearly all hospitals.

Speakers Include Stan Nelson, G. S. Bergland, E. B. Benson, Don Olson

Due possibly in part to the fact that the broadcast of a Worlds Series baseball game was in progress at the time, less than the usual number of members turned out for the Civic and Commerce association luncheon meeting last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe.

E. B. Benson, a former president of the Pennington County Community Chest, briefly discussed the annual fund drive which opened Monday in the business district. He urged that every effort be made by the solicitors to do a thoro job and to finish their work as quickly as possible.

Stan Nelson, manager of the purebred ram sale held at the arena last Wednesday, reported on the event, and thanked local businessmen for arranging the smorgasbord held in connection with the sale and for their cooperation in general. An article giving details of the sale appears elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

G. S. Bergland, member of the city council airport committee, stated that installation of beacons at the airport is scheduled for completion this week, and that the runway lights should be installed within a short time.

Reports by Secretary J. M. Roche and Don Olson of the trade promotion committee indicated that a small deficit would remain after expenses in connection with the appearance here of Smiley Burnette and his troupe.

A reminder of the approaching Christmas season was contained in the announcement by Roche that orders have been placed for holiday street decorating material.

Introduced at the meeting were Wm. Penning, new county agent here and Don Olson, who recently took over the operation of the Coast-to-Coast store.

Employment Here Shows Sharp Rise During September

Employment in Thief River Falls increased from a total of 2,642 in August to 2,787 in September, R. S. Eldevik, manager of the local state employment service, stated in his October 1 report.

He ascribed the rise to increased activity in the food processing and construction fields and to the fact that school teachers have returned to work.

He added that there was a shortage of available workers in September, but that the situation should change within a few weeks with the completion of the potato harvest and the tapering off of construction work.

27 Rams Are Sold at Sale Here for $1,542

Twenty-seven out of 44 purebred rams offered were sold for an average price of $58 per head at the ram sale conducted in the Thief River Falls arena last Wednesday afternoon, Stan Nelson, sales manager, reported total sales amounted to $1,542. He added that the number of bidders was less than expected due to the fact that the weather that day was ideal for late combining work.

An encouraging feature of the sale from the local standpoint, Nelson said, was the fact that the top-selling rams were purchased by buyers in this community, demonstrating interest in improving the quality of sheep raised in this area.

Carl Luhe and the Thief River Falls FFA chapter purchased the top yearling Hampshire rams, with C. D. Gustafson buying the top aged Hampshire, and Alvin Fjeld of Goodridge buying the top Columbia ram.

The Thief River Falls sale was the most successful of three held last week, others being conducted at Roseau and Mahnomen. Nelson stated that plans are already under way for a bigger sale here in the fall of 1954.

County Board Puts Off Action Again on Ditch 33 Work

Receives Tentative Plan for Development of Game Refuge in Goose Lake Area

After hearing numerous delegations voice opinions both in favor of and against the project, the Pennington county board at its October session Tuesday deferred until its November meeting a decision as to whether or not to proceed with work on County Ditch 33 extending north in North and Silverton townships.

Joseph Herron, president of the Northwestern Minnesota Association of Conservation Clubs, presented for study by the board a tentative plan for the development of a game refuge in the Goose Lake area in Bray township.

The board set a tax rate of 18.5 mills, the same as last year, for high school tuition for districts not maintaining high schools.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr was instructed to arrange for a conference here next Wednesday, October 14, if possible, between the board and M. O. Foss, Moorhead, architect who is preparing plans for the projected new court house.

Council Vetoes Trumpetsound Building Site

Numerous Residents Object to Location on Kneale av. South

After conducting a hearing last Wednesday evening, at which a dozen persons registered their objections, the city council, with four of its six members present, rejected by a vote of three to one the application of the Trumpetsound Institute for a special permit to erect a building to house its school and Gospel sign shop on Kneale av. south of Hughes st.

The objectors, who presented petitions signed by 25 persons living in the general vicinity of the proposed construction, based their position on the contention that the area is a fine residential district, and that any vacant property there should be reserved for construction of homes rather than being used for commercial enterprises.

M. P. Clouse, spokesman for the Institute, defended the projected structure, saying that it would be as handsome as any residence in the area, and that it would be an asset to the community.

Clouse stated that before the application was presented, it had been approved by more than 75 per cent of the property owners living within a radius of 300 feet, and added that it was planned to landscape the property. He said the institute provides employment for five families in this community.

Goodridge Youth Is Badly Injured

Harvey Uglem Sustains Severe Skull Fracture

Harvey Uglem, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Uglem of rural Goodridge, was reported Tuesday afternoon as being in extremely critical condition in Northwestern Hospital, where he is being treated for a fracture of the back part of his skull and a brain concussion sustained in an unusual accident Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The mishap occurred at the Bennie Groven farm near Highlanding, where the Uglems were visiting. With several other boys, he had been pushing an old car along the road in an effort to start the motor. He was aboard the vehicle when it started suddenly, causing him to fall off backwards, landing on his head.

The youth has been unconscious much of the time since being brought to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Mandt, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gustafson, and Mrs. Olga Lundeen visited at the Lewis Mandt home at Oklee Sunday afternoon.

Packed Program for Lincoln Homecoming

The coronation of the Homecoming queen Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the football battle between the Prowlers and Detroit Lakes teams at 8 p. m. will climax the annual Lincoln high school Homecoming program.

As a prelude to the event, a snake dance thru the business district and a huge bonfire at the fair grounds have been arranged for Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The Homecoming parade will be staged in the downtown area Friday at 7:30, winding up at the Lincoln athletic field.

Ted Stokke will preside as master of ceremonies at the coronation ceremony in the high school auditorium Friday afternoon. The queen will be selected from three senior girl candidates, including Juanita Bakke, DeVera Borchert and Linda Wold.

Marian Geving Becomes Bride of D. Adolphson

Trinity Lutheran church of this city was the scene of a beautiful candlelight wedding Friday evening at eight o'clock, when Miss Marian Lois Geving, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Geving of this city, became the bride of Donald Glenn Adolphson, son of Mr. Elmer Adolphson of Thief River Falls and the late Mrs. Adolphson. Rev. O. S. Thompson performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends. Bouquets of white glads and white chrysanthemums provided the altar decoration.

Before the ceremony a collection of hymns was played by Mrs. Art Hamilton, and Dave Vaaler, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and "O Lord Most Holy". Just before the bride entered, Mr. Vaaler sang "Lord Jesus Christ Be Present Now."

As the Wedding March from Lohengrin was played, the bride proceeded to the altar down a white-carpeted aisle, lined with white candles and white bows at each pew. She was beautiful in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle and satin, designed with long tapered sleeves, yoke of net with stand-up collar, snug bodice and bustle-effect skirt. Her scalloped veil of French silk was arranged from a cap of net and Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. Over a white Bible she carried a cascade bouquet of Tangerine roses and stephanotis. The traditional "something old, new, borrowed, and blue" was carried out in the bride's attire. The wedding gown had also been worn by the sisters of the bride. Before the bride and groom took their places at the altar, Mr. Vaaler sang "Crown With Thy Benediction", and following the exchange of vows and Holy Communion, "Deck Thyself, My Soul, With Gladness". "Now Thank We All Our God" was used as the recessional.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Calvin Bradley of this city, matron of honor, and Mrs. Dick O'Hara, bridesmaid. Their floor-length gowns of velvet in moss-leaf green and toast, respectively, were made by the bride's mother. Leaf-shaped headpieces in matching velvet completed their costumes and they carried tangerine roses and autumn colored 'mums fastened to a double wedding ring of braided velvet.

Loren Adolphson attended his brother as best man and the groom's other attendants were Robert Tollefson and Harry Hanson. The groom and his groomsmen wore white dinner jackets with black trousers, and boutonnieres of maroon 'mums.

Mrs. Geving attended her daughter's wedding in a suit of deep purple velvet, with matching accessories and a corsage of Tangerine roses and yellow feathered carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for 150 guests. Centering the bridal table was a four-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. The cake was baked by the bride's grand-aunt, Mrs. Elmer Hylland of Grygla. Mrs. Harwood Olsen presided as hostess, punch was served by Miss Mavis Guttu of Los Angeles, California. Mrs. J. W. Lendobeja cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. O. S. Thompson poured. The gift table was arranged by Mrs. Derwood Lund and Mrs. Bruce Hall, assisted by Mrs. Della Tollefson, and Donna Lunde registered the guests.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q: I understand that if I am totally disabled for a least six straight months, I need no longer pay premiums on my GI insurance, but I'll still be insured. What does VA consider to be a total disability, for insurance purposes?

A: A total disability would be any impairment of mind or body which continuously makes it impossible for you to follow a substantially gainful occupation. Certain types of disabilities—blindness, loss of both hands or feet and others—are automatically considered as total, for purposes of insurance.

Q: May I take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill on a part-time basis?

A: No. The law does not authorize GI on-the-job training which is less than full time.

Q: I'm going to college under the Korean GI Bill, and I've been told that I'll have to drop out because I'm going back on active military duty. As of what date will my GI allowance be discontinued?

A: Your GI allowance will be terminated as of the date prior to your reentry into military service, or as of the last date of attendance, whichever comes first.

Q: I'm a disabled veteran of World War II. I took Public Law 16 training, and was declared rehabilitated. Since then, my disability has taken a turn for the worse. I'm no longer able to do the job I trained for. Would it be possible for me to get further training, for a job that I can fill?

A: Yes, it would be possible for you to reenter training under Public Law 16, if the facts including VA's medical findings—show that your disability prevents you from performing the job you've trained for.

125 School Board Men Meet in City

District Workshop Held Last Wednesday Evening

Nearly 125 school board men from thruout this section of the state participated in a workshop last Wednesday evening in the Lincoln high school auditorium, sponsored by the Minnesota School Board association. Paul Olstad of Bemidji, association director for this district, presided.

W. A. Wettergren, secretary, discussed the objectives of the association, and conducted a panel discussion on teacher problems.

Other speakers were T. J. Berning, assistant state commissioner of education, who discussed laws affecting the schools that were enacted during the 1953 legislative session; and H. R. Peterson, executive secretary of the Minnesota State High School League.

Elmer Andersen First to Get 1954 License Plates

Elmer Andersen of this city, Ninth district commander of the American Legion, enjoys the distinction of having been the first motorist to procure his 1954 license plates from the office of A. F. Berge, deputy registrar of motor vehicles. The new passenger car plates are cream color with blue numerals, while truck plates are green with white numerals. Motorists may obtain plates until November 16 without penalty, and the plates may be affixed to the cars any time after November 1, Berge stated.

Conservationist Drive Started to Protect Hunters

The warning read:

Unless every person who goes afield in quest of game takes greater precautions than ever before, the Federation added, the law of averages will claim at least 38 casualties—not to mention hundreds of cripplings and disablements.

In an effort to reduce the horrible annual toll of lives, the federation has launched an intensive statewide hunting safety campaign. Chairman of the safety committee is Leo Kuluvar, noted safety specialist whose ingenious adaptation of the tachistoscopic principal in visual safety training and game recognition testing has won national recognition.

Cliff Bakry, MCF secretary, urged all citizens to support and participate in every way possible in the safety campaign.

"We need everybody's help," he said. "If we are to hope that we can cut in half the terrible death rate of 38 hunters last year."

Time Is Here for Overseas Mailing

Ask Mailing of Packages from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15

The Army, Navy and Air Force postal services this week requested that Christmas gifts for armed forces personnel and civilian employees overseas be mailed between October 15 and Novmber 15 to assure delivery by Christmas Day.

Postmaster R. J. Dryden requested that packages be wrapped securely and addressed correctly, and that they include no perishables. He also suggested that a card bearing the sender's name and address and the name and address of the person to whom the parcel is being sent should be included in the package to identify it in case of damage to the outside wrapping.

Drive Being Made on Nephritis on the Reservation

Penicillin will be given more than 3,000 persons on the Red Lake Indian Reservation in an effort to stop a serious streptococcus infection blamed for 52 recent cases of nephritis, a kidney disease.

One death has occurred since the outbreak began about three months ago.

Federal health officials have interested themselves in the unusual incidence of the disease and will follow closely results of the penicillin innoculations, beginning Monday.

Dr. Dean S. Fleming, director of the division of disease prevention and control for the Minnesota Department of Health, said it was unusual to have so many cases of nephritis in such a small community, affording a rare opportunity for studying the disease.
